PAINTS INFERNO OF LIFE IN CELL

Judge Kavanagh Sentences Joseph Welcome to "Worse Punishment than Death."

DEATH HORROR OUTDONE.

Life imprisonment in the penitentiary was declared by Judge Marcus Kavanagh yesterday to be a more terrible punishment than hanging. The jurist, in a remarkable opinion handed down in sentencing Joseph Welcome to life imprisonment for murder, contrasted death with the tortured soul of a life convict in his solitary cell and told the prisoner that it is not correct to regard the death penalty as the most severe punishment that can be inflicted.

Welcome pleaded guilty to having murdered Mrs. Mary McLean, March 22, 1910, in a boarding house she conducted at 1144 West Monroe street. The prisoner changed his plea from "not guilty" after eight jurors were chosen.

It was shown that he forced his wife to become a "white slave" and shot her for refusing to give him money. Mrs. McLean was shot and killed while attempting to save Mrs. Welcome.

Judge Pictures Penalty.

In sentencing Welcome Judge Kavanagh said:

"Welcome, you committed a terrible crime. Your punishment is to be more terrible still.

"You compelled your own wife to make public commerce of her soul for your gain. When she sought to escape you shot her. It wasn't your fault she lived, and you, in fact, then killed another woman who was making her cleanly, useful way in the world. You could hardly get twelve men in the jury box who would not inflict the death penalty upon you, yet it is the policy of the law to regard a plea of guilty as in some measure of itself a mitigation.

"The instinctive unreasoning horror of mankind regards death as a severe punishment. This idea is not correct. You are now to receive a sterner punishment. Your victim died but once. You will die a hundred times; you will suffer more the day you put on your prison clothes than she did in her death. After that there will be only the hopeless, painful years from day to day, from month to month, stretching out forever and in agony.

Wiped from Humanity's Slate.

"You will be wiped out of human knowledge; even your name will be taken from you; henceforth you will be known by a number. You will not be permitted to lift a hand or whisper a word; you will have no right except the right to mere existence.

"In four or five years the eternal solitude and silence will begin to crush in upon you like an iron weight. You hear that street car bell ringing in the street as it passes now. You will remember it in after years as the most exquisite music. It will mean hurrying crowds that go where they like and do as they please; it will mean the greatest of all pleasures—freedom.

"You can only dream of it by day and by night, and your dream will be torture unspeakable. In the summer you will guess that there are cool rivers running somewhere under green trees, and you will long for the sight of even a green leaf with an aching you never thought you could experience.

Beyond the Pale of Happiness.

"In a few weeks the holidays with their lights and festivities and happiness will be here, and many a Christmas will roll over you in your iron cage and high stone wall, but you will never hear a child laugh again.

"You are so elated now at the thought of saving your life that you don't realize all this. I want you and the others here in the courtroom to understand it. You aren't sorry yet for your crime; you have only a great self pity. There will be few worse men than you in that great prison, but I may say, the law has taken its full and ample revenge upon you."

Before allowing Welcome to enter his plea of "not guilty," Judge Kavanagh informed the prisoner that the death sentence still could be inflicted, if the court decided to do so. Welcome answered that he was willing to submit his case to the mercy of the court.

Story of Welcome's Deed.

Mrs. Welcome boarded with Mrs. McLean and the latter woman met her death when she ordered Welcome out of her house after he had followed his wife into her room and shot her in the head. Mrs. Welcome recovered from the bullet wound inflicted by her husband.

Nora McLean, 14 years old, adopted daughter of the murdered woman, was one of the witnesses called by Judge Kavanagh. She testified to hearing Mrs. McLean cry after she was shot. Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart and Mrs. Alice McDaniels, who boarded at the house, testified to the conversation that took place when Welcome and John R. Burns, a friend who came with him, were ordered out of the house upon Mrs. Welcome's refusal to comply with her husband's demand for money.

It was shown by the testimony that Welcome had entered the boarding house the night before the shooting and stolen $5 from his wife's room. Mrs. McLean accused Welcome of the theft and this is what started words in the hallway, resulting in the murder. Detective Harry L. Cullett of the Desplaines street station testified that Welcome on one occasion tried to bribe him over to an arrangement to make Mrs. Welcome a white slave.

DUTY ON GOWNS IS $11,000.

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt Pays Record Amount—Jewelry Worth $200,000 Admitted Free.

New York, Oct. 11.—Eleven thousand dollars in duty, mostly on Parisian gowns, was paid by Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt when she returned from Europe today. This is the season's record, if not for all time, of duty paid on individual baggage.

Customs inspectors were five hours in examining Mrs. Vanderbilt's forty-five trunks. They occupied space enough for a big store and were looked after by a special agent and six servants.

Besides her gowns Mrs. Vanderbilt brought back with her $200,000 in jewels, heretofore purchased and not dutiable.

PARIS IS ISOLATED BY RAIL STRIKES

Passengers for America from Capital Go to Cherbourg by Autos, Paying Large Fees.

MAILS ARE ALL DELAYED.

Eighty Thousand Men Already Out; More to Follow; Ministry of War Will Act in Crisis.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, Oct. 11.—This capital is practically cut off from railroad and steamship connection with England, America, and the continent by a general strike on the northern and western railroads, which threatens to spread until every line in France is tied up. Passengers intending to sail for America tomorrow on the liners Kronprinz Wilhelm and Teutonic made a mad rush for the last trains from Paris to Cherbourg tonight, rightly anticipating suspension of the usual morning boat trains. A number who missed these trains made the trip to the port in automobiles. Among these were the aviators, Audemars, Barrier, and Garros, who are booked to fly at the aviation meeting at Belmont park.

Unless the strike is terminated sooner than now appears possible hundreds of passengers now in midocean on liners bound for Cherbourg, will find themselves unable to come from that port to Paris except by automobile. Traffic between Paris and London already is practically at a standstill and the extent of inconvenience which will be occasioned before the strike ends cannot be estimated.

Pay Big Prices for Autos.

Some of the Americans who found it necessary to take autos to Cherbourg tonight paid as high as $300 for a car holding five passengers.

The strike now involves 80,000 men and many more probably will be out before noon tomorrow. It was started by the employés of the northern railroad, who went out this morning. The employés of the western road, which is owned by the state, followed the northern road workers tonight, after 8,000 men in Paris and its immediate suburbs had voted to cease work.

The strikers count upon the national unions to tie up the provinces. It is reported that the movement may possibly extend to the eastern and the Paris, Lyons, and Mediterranean railroads.

As is usual in such circumstances, the city of Paris is threatened with a scarcity of food supplies. Freight, mail, and passenger transportation is partly prostrated and the thousands of working people on the northwest are unable to reach their places of business.

Military engineers are taking the places of the strikers and troops are guarding various stations and important sections of the roads. Large military forces were hastily distributed on the first evidence that a strike had been declared and additional troops were ordered out tonight.

May Make Strikers Serve State.

The ministry has placed the railroads on a military basis and may muster the railway employés into service as reservists. The strikers have voted to continue the strike until their demands are met, but they have requested a conference with the railroad officials.

The more conservative newspapers condemn the strike as indicating a revolutionary general federation of labor, trying to absorb the railroad unions, but the Socialist press hails it as a commendable battle to obtain needed redress.

The Northern railway succeeded in getting out a train at 9 o'clock this evening. It was almost empty. Its arrival at its destination is problematical, as its 180 mile journey will have to be made without signals. Furthermore, there is possibility of the rails being torn up. The official journal publishes a decree calling on the 27,860 employés of the Northern railway to resume their duties under orders of the ministry of war.

Briand Defends the Ministry.

At a banquet this evening, at which Premier Briand spoke, the deputies present were of the opinion that the measure adopted by the ministry would not prove effective, especially if the strike proved general. Briand's speech was an eloquent defense of the ministry. He did not refer to the railway crisis.

The western strikers, either by accident or design, chose a time when the army was in the worst position to supply efficient aid to the government, as the men of the 1907 class have just finished their service. The 1909 class may be disregarded. As recruits there are available only the 1908 class of 22,900 men, who have done one year's service. The engineer regiments, which are chiefly looked to supply workers, are at their lowest figures of enrollment.

President Fallieres left his country seat at 10 o'clock tonight for Paris on a special train. The line was guarded by soldiers to prevent any attempt to wreck the train.

GIVES BIG PLOTS FOR PARKS.

Oak Park Resident Makes Five Year Lease to City for Building of Playgrounds.

The gift of two city blocks last January for the small parks commission by Charles M. Sturges of Oak Park, an attorney with offices at 153 La Salle street, became publicly known yesterday through the filing of the lease in the county recorder's office. The tract runs 598 feet in West Sixteenth street and 300 feet in Hamlin and Springfield avenues. He asks that the city pay the property taxes for the five years which the lease will run. The plot has been made into a playground.

HEARS FORTUNE; $150 GONE.

"You're Going to Lose Money," Says Gypsy Seer—Comes True in a Hurry.

Following the disappearance of a purse containing $150 from under a carpet in the residence of Mrs. L. Cousineau, 1750 North Forty-eighth avenue, yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Georgia Stanley, a gypsy fortune teller, was arrested by Sergt. John O'Connor. Mrs. Cousineau said the money had probably been stolen by one of two women who had been in her residence. She said that one of the women had read her fortune and had told her she was about to lose her money.

SAYS HIRED GIRLS BRING ON DIVORCE

Idle Mate Pouts When Hard Working Husband Wants to Stay at Home.

WIFE SHOULD DO WORK.

Women whose husbands earn $2,500 a year have no business to keep a servant, according to Mrs. Idah McGlone Gibson, editor of the Woman Beautiful.

She addressed the members of the home and education department at the Chicago South Side club yesterday morning on "Marriage as a Business."

"The average earnings of the salaried man of the United States is from $600 to $2,500 a year, and his wife has no more business to shirk her part of the marriage contract by keeping a maid than her husband would have to keep an automobile," said Mrs. Gibson.

"We hear about the lax marriage ideas of modern France, but the United States records show one divorce in every twelve marriages. There is a reason, and that is the women of America marry men and then look out for a good time, shirking the responsibility of the business of married life. They sit around the house during the day, and when their husbands come home at night, tired out with the hard day's work, they want to go out to spend the evening.

Pouts Breed Dissension.

"This often causes dissension. The husband is too tired and tells the wife so. Then she pouts. If she had been attending to her business all day, as she should have been, she would have been just as tired as he and as ready to stay at home. They should be partners in the business of home making."

At this point Mrs. Ira A. Newman said:

"It is a wife's duty to keep rested during the day that she may greet her husband cheerfully when he returns from his hard day's work."

"Yes," returned Mrs. Gibson, "but housekeeping should be the first thought of the married woman. She has been busy finding out the price of butter and eggs, teaching her children to do things for themselves, if she is the right kind of mother, and superintending the managing of her home, so she may be able to greet her husband cheerfully and yet be as tired as he, and not desire to leave her own fireside after the evening meal.

Should Watch Food Economy.

"The good homemaker should know what she is paying for butter. She should know whether eggs are 25 or 36 cents a dozen, and she should also know what is being used for the table in her house.

"Homemaking is the principal factor of a woman's life and should be taught the young girls of today rather than higher mathematics or fancy work.

"If your girls go to colelge see that they make their college wardrobe. Let them feel and know the value of a dollar bill. The old biblical idea that work is a curse visited upon the descendants of the inmates of the Garden of Eden is wrong.

"Work is the greatest blessing and panacea there is. Teach your sons and daughters to value it.

"Woman is the greatest retail buyer in the world. Fashion is purely a commercial thing and the manufacturers tickle the fancy of the woman by exhibiting new and pretty things, which she, having no idea of the value of money, readily buys.

"The woman who is her husband's comrade and who makes a business of housekeeping and homemaking is not tempted beyond her means. She considers it her duty as her husband's partner to save. The woman of the great middle class of France are the bone and sinew of the country and are responsible for that small country's wealth and prosperity.

YERKES ESTATE IS VICTOR ON ONE POINT IN DISPUTE.

Referee Decides Against Brokers in Fight to Get $250,000 of Late Traction Magnate's Estate.

New York, Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Everything thus far has gone toward depleting the estate of $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 left by the late Charles T. Yerkes, Chicago traction financier. But today, under an opinion of former United States Judge Charles F. Brown, referee, a claim by A. A. Housman & Co. of Wall street for $250,000 is almost certain to be saved to the estate.

It was in connection with the promotion of the London Tubes company that the Housman action to recover was brought. In the opinion given by the referee, to which the plaintiffs have until Oct. 20 to file "requests to find," the operations of the Housman company are laid bare in such severity as comes from their own intimate correspondence.

Mr. Yerkes, it appears, was approached by a representative of the Housmans on the London tube proposition, but he was only one of their reliances. According to Referee Brown they sought, among other things, to recover from Yerkes "one-third of Baruch's" a partner's expenses.

BOY DIES AS BULLET SHIELD; ONE WHO FIRES SHOT SUICIDE.

Man Who Seized 12 Year Old Charles Fischer of New York and Saves His Own Life Escapes Police.

New York, Oct. 11.—Charles Fischer, aged 12, was swung screaming from the sidewalk tonight by a man brute who used the boy's body to check a bullet fired by Harry Greenwald, an ex-pugilist. The missile pierced the child's brain and he died within an hour.

Greenwald, terror stricken and pursued by citizens and police, dashed into a hallway and committed suicide. The man who used the boy as a screen escaped. His name is not known to the police.

Greenwald was about 25 years old and was known to his sporting friends as "Biz Clark." He was at one time a sparring partner of Harry ("Biff") Stone of Baltimore.

BIG SCHOOL SEEKS MURPHY.

University of Pennsylvania Wants Chicago Surgeon to Take Chair, but He May Not Accept.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Dr. John B. Murphy, the Chicago surgeon, is to be asked to accept the John Rhea Barton chair of surgery at the University of Pennsylvania. The trustees of the Pennsylvania institution expressed doubts as to whether they could induce the Chicago surgeon to accept the professorship.

Under the new faculty rules about to be inaugurated at Pennsylvania, none of the professors in the medical school will be allowed to have a private practice. The Pennsylvania chair was made vacant recently by the resignation of Dr. J. William White.

Dr. Murphy now holds the chair of surgery in the medical school of Northwestern university.

The town marshal of each town that the late James B. Hough of Aurora, Ill., visited during his thirty-six years as a traveling salesman out of Chicago possesses a walking stick given by the deceased during his lifetime as a token of friendship. The late salesman had traveled nearly 2,000,000 miles. He was killed while crossing the tracks of the Chicago, Ottawa and Peoria interurban road in a buggy at Bureau Junction, Ill., last Friday. The body was buried in Tecumseh, Mich., yesterday.

NEW POLICE JOIN A PRIMARY CLASS

Steward in First Lecture at School for Patrolmen Urges the Use of Brains.

MEN TOLD TO BE NEAT.

Skilful use of brains rather than brawn must mark the future member of the police force in Chicago. The days of promiscuous clubbing and shooting are past and the guardian of peace in the second city of the nation must perform his duty by the exercise of intelligence.

This is the basis for the establishment of a school for policemen in Chicago—first sessions of which were conducted in the drill room of the Shakspeare avenue station yesterday—and embody the ideas of Superintendent of Police Leroy T. Steward with reference to the behavior of the force.

Twenty-six new patrolmen registered as students at the school were put through their paces by Maj. John Bauder, drillmaster of the department, and Lieut. Max Nootbaar, and at the close of the day's session listened to a lecture on police deportment by the head of the department.

Patrolmen's Primary Lesson.

Some of the instructions Lieut. Nootbaar gave to his pupils were:

Don't wear a collar more than one day.

Don't report for duty with your uniform patched.

Don't fail to wear a vest and keep your coat buttoned to the neck.

Don't walk into your station in the morning with your shoes unshined.

Don't forget that you are expected to look clean and tidy at all times in the performance of your duty.

The drillroom at the Shakspeare station is one of the largest in the city and it has been fitted up with desks so that the place looks like a typical schoolroom. One of the questions the patrolmen were required to answer was:

"What is a crime?"

Chief Lectures Pupils.

Chief Steward, in his lecture to the "pupils," said:

"No big business concerns put men at work until they know the duties which will be required of them. We are going to adopt that principle on the Chicago police force. It has been suggested that we have these schools at each of the stations, but that is impracticable because it would demand too many teachers and too many directors and the same information might not be conveyed in each place.

"We are going to try to inculcate in the minds of the police a new sentiment with reference to their duties. It is a fact that the making of an arrest is a small part of the average patrolman's duty. His duties are corrective in a great measure. We wish to avoid making an arrest if the peace can be conserved by intelligent handling of a situation by the patrolman on the beat.

Should Use Heads More.

"I think the men should use their revolvers and clubs less frequently and their heads more.

"Personally I think the police force here already has attained a high grade of efficiency. When it comes to individual bravery there have been few instances when the men have been tried and found wanting.

"Some day I shall have the men led through a room filled with articles of every description and then asked to tell what they saw. This is a scheme employed by Webster to train his memory and the policeman of Chicago may employ it to advantage. Then when they are on the streets and find a broken sidewalk or an unlighted street they will remember to make proper reports."

ROOSEVELT FLIES IN AN AEROPLANE AS CROWD CHEERS

Hoxsey Takes Former President Through Air at Mile a Minute Clip in Missouri.

MANY SPEECHES IN DAY.

Colonel Predicts Lakes-to-Gulf Canal, Scores Democrats, and Defends Party Tariff Ideas.

GOV. HADLEY'S FIGHT IS PRAISED.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Theodore Roosevelt today sought new worlds to conquer. Unlike Alexander, he had his ambition gratified when he sailed through the air in an aeroplane at a mile a minute clip.

Arch Hoxsey, a Wright aviator, was the one who achieved the honor of putting the former president "up in the air." The flight, which was made at the Kinloch aviation field, was watched by thousands of persons. It lasted three minutes and twenty seconds. Four and one-half miles were covered.

The flight was not premeditated. Mr. Roosevelt went out to the aviation field merely as a spectator. He sought to examine the machine; Hoxsey suggested he would like a passenger; Mr. Roosevelt yanked off his hat and frock coat, donned a leather jacket and a cap, and clambered aboard with scarcely a word. The protests of Gov. Hadley and other high officials in the colonel's entourage failed to stop him. After it was all over Mr. Roosevelt said the trip "was great," and wished he could have taken a longer one.

Feature of Busy Day.

The airship trip was the feature of an extremely busy day for Mr. Roosevelt. He arrived in St. Louis after an all night ride from Hot Springs. He was met by Gov. H. S. Hadley and a reception committee of the Business Men's league and was taken to breakfast. While there he boosted the lakes to the gulf deep waterway plan.

After breakfast Mr. Roosevelt was taken for an automobile ride through Forest Park and then he was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Traffic club. There he talked on "New Nationalism." He urged a "square deal" both from and for the great corporations.

Returning from the aviation field Mr. Roosevelt was accompanied by a guard of honor in aeroplanes. There were three of them. The visitor stopped at Clayton, St. Louis county, and addressed the school children at Fair Grounds park. Later he was the guest of Gov. Hadley at a private dinner. Following this he gave his principal address at the Coliseum, under the auspices of the Republican city and state committees. He talked tariff and other politics and denounced the Democrats of New York as an "unholy combine of Tammany and Wall street."

Col. Roosevelt will stop in Peoria, Ill., tomorrow to speak to the Knights of Columbus there, and on the following day will make several speeches in Indiana to help Senator Beveridge in his fight for reelection. Then he will go on to New York, where he will begin making speeches for Henry L. Stimson, Republican candidate for governor in New York, on Friday.

Heads a Long Procession.

Col. Roosevelt went to Kinloch in an automobile at the head of a procession of motor cars half a mile long. The ride was a fast and dusty one, and Col. Roosevelt's face was covered with a thick coating of Missouri dirt when he arrived at the field. His car was driven directly on to the aviation field.

Hoxsey's machine, a great biplane, was standing in front of the grand stand. Col. Roosevelt stepped from his automobile, with Gov. Hadley at his side, and walked over to it. He inspected the broad brown planes and the huge shiny engine, and shook hands with the aviator.

"I'd like to have you for a passenger," said Hoxsey. The colonel looked at him without a word. Then he began to peel off his coat. It was the first intimation that anyone had had that he would make the trip.

Gov. Hadley stepped up quickly with a scared look on his face, and said:

"Are you really going up, colonel?"

"Of course I am," said the colonel, and without another word he took his seat, at Hoxsey's direction, beside the engine. Gov. Hadley saw that it would do no good to protest and stepped back. He admitted afterwards that he was nervous. "This is my district, and it extends up into the air," he said. "I feel a sense of responsibility while the colonel is in my territory."

Col. Roosevelt removed his slouch hat and borrowed a gray cap, which he pulled down over his eyes. The guardsmen were standing so closely about the airship that few of the spectators knew what was going on.

Eager to See Engine Work.

Hoxsey took his place beside Col. Roosevelt, who watched the preparations with a smile of anticipation, betraying not the least nervousness. Four guardsmen seated themselves on the ground, to hold the tailpiece of the airship until the motor should be started and the propellers well under way.

After two trials the motor was started, and the motor blades spun around rapidly. The photographers who had been snapping the colonel in the machine had barely time to step aside before the machine bounded forward over the grass.

Col. Roosevelt gripped the rail hard and looked straight ahead. The machine skipped over the field for a few yards, then lifted its nose into the air, rising easily.

Some of the spectators thought they recognized Col. Roosevelt as the aeroplane cleared the guardsmen and swept out into view, but no one would believe them when they said so. Members of the party which had gone to the field from St. Louis with the colonel began a mad hunt for him.

"Where's Col. Roosevelt?" they asked, running up to the guardsmen.

"He's up there," one of the soldiers said, pointing to the airship.

The aeroplane sped quickly around the field at a height of 100 feet. It made the first lap of a mile and a half before the crowd was convinced that it was Col. Roosevelt who was Hoxsey's passenger. When the aeroplane swept past the grand stand Mr. Roosevelt leaned forward and waved his hands. The spectators were too frightened to call back to him, and the crowd was silent, watching the aeroplane in tense excitement. The flying machine sped by and made the turn for the second lap.

Hoxsey could be seen to bend over and shout something into the colonel's ear. It was learned later he warned him to hold on to the bar. The machine was going at a speed of nearly a mile a minute, but from the ground it looked as if it was traveling comparatively slowly, it sailed so evenly and smoothly. There was not a breath of wind, and the engines did not miss fire once.

At the end of the second lap Hoxsey dipped his planes and the aeroplane descended easily, striking the ground as lightly as a feather, a few rods from the grand stand. The machine rolled over the grass and stopped.

Col. Roosevelt, smiling his most expansive smile, arose and climbed out backwards. He became entangled with the wires, but soon was out of them.

When the people were convinced that he had landed safely they cheered the colonel wildly, and the guards had all they could do to keep them from breaking into the field and swooping down upon him.

Thanks Pilot for Trip.

Col. Roosevelt's first act was to reach for Hoxsey's hand and shake it vigorously.

"It was great. First class. It was the finest experience I have ever had," he declared. "I wish I could stay for an hour, but I haven't the time this afternoon."

"Did it feel scary?" he was asked.

"Not a bit! Not a bit!"

"What were your sensations?"

"O, it was perfectly fine. I enjoyed every minute of it."

Gov. Hadley, with a long sigh of relief, stepped up to the colonel and piloted him to his automobile. They rode down the field past the cheering crowd and then started back for St. Louis.

Walter Brookins and A. L. Welsh, the latter on an endurance run, followed the former president's party in the aeroplane while Alfred Le Blanc in his Bleriot monoplane led the automobile procession. The aerial escort continued for almost two miles from the aviation field. Brookins entertained the party by cutting sharp turns at dizzy heights and giving a miniature exhibition of his famous spiral glide. Le Blanc, in his trim little monoplane, darted back and forth across the colonel's path like a bee.

Talk on Deep Waterway.

The completion of the lakes to the gulf deep waterways project was prophesied by Mr. Roosevelt in his speech at the breakfast of the Business Men's league. He said it was largely on account of the Business Men's league that he had first come to take an interest in the project for improving the Mississippi. He declarded his grandfather's brother built the first steamboat to go down the Mississippi, and that on the first trip he encountered an earthquake.

"There are people in my own city, especially those who reside in the shadow of Wall street, who would feel that there was a certain appropriateness in having an earthquake when that Roosevelt went anywhere, especially west of the Alleghenies," he continued.

The colonel said he felt absolutely certain that the lakes to the gulf deep waterway project would be completed in time, although it was necessary to go slowly and perfect the plans for the work.

"When we come to improving the waterways," Col. Roosevelt continued, "several things must be taken into consideration. In the first place, have a well thought out scheme for the entire waterway. Then take it up, section by section, completing each section, if possible profiting by the experience that each improvement goes to better future methods.

"Then we must get proper control of the terminals, for if we don't the railroads will get control. If the railroads do get control we can't expect them to act in an altruistic spirit toward their rivals."

Speaks on "New Nationalism."

Col. Roosevelt defended his doctrine of "new nationalism" in his speech before the Traffic club.

"One of the great difficulties in modern business," he said, "is that the enormous growth in business is often accompanied by the total loss of the personal touch. We have to accept the fact that the large corporation has come to stay; and yet the corporation is altogether too big to be allowed to manage itself without outside control and supervision. There must be established between them and the public a new relation to take the place of the personal touch which has passed away. There must be supervision by the government.

"More than that, it must be one government. You can't have forty-six or forty-eight governments in control. If you try that, some governments will control them to their detriment and some governments will be controlled by them to their detriment. It must be the federal government which will exercise a control which will be thoroughly efficient and entirely just."

Col. Roosevelt said that justice should be done to the railways, the shippers, and the railway employes.

Says Democrats Represent 'Privilege.'

In denouncing the Democratic party in New York as "an unholy alliance between Wall street and Tammany Hall," in his auditorium speech, Mr. Roosevelt called it the "party that represents the special interests and special privilege."

Col. Roosevelt also defended the present position of the Republican party in regard to the tariff. He did not discuss the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, saying that he wished the people to look forward and not back. He said the party was united on the doctrine that the tariff shall be such as to equalize the cost of production here and abroad, and that it should be regulated by a commission.

He said that under the present system it was impossible to obtain satisfactory results and added that when the commission system was established there should be governmental supervision to determine whether the workmen were getting the benefit they were supposed to have from the tariff.

Gives Praise to Hadley.

Mr. Roosevelt began his speech by commending Gov. Hadley as "an upright and fearless public servant."

"Gov. Hadley," he continued, "has represented that kind of party loyalty in which I most believe; the kind of loyalty to the party which finds expression by seeing to it that that party is the most loyal servant of the people as a whole. And so I am glad, indeed, to come here tonight to speak for you here in this great state. And I have a peculiar and added pleasure in it because I think that the conditions of your fight here are substantially akin to the conditions of the fight we are making in New York state, in my own state.

"In New York state our opponents call themselves the democracy. They have the slenderest relation to any historic national party bearing that name. For in New York state what calls itself democracy consists of an unholy alliance between Wall street and Tammany Hall. It is enough to make Andrew Jackson of Tennessee and Tom Benton of Missouri turn in their graves to realise what the organizations are that claim to be their spiritual heirs and representatives.

Republicans Stand for People.

"And as it is in New York, so it is here in Missouri—the genuine party of the people, the party that stands for popular rights, that stands for all the people, is the Republican party; and the party of reaction and of bourbonism, the party that represents the special interests and special privilege, is the party that arrogates to itself, forsooth, the name of Democracy.

"I was interested in another pair of analogies between the situation in New York and the situation here in Missouri. One of the particularly Democratic papers of New York—it is Democratic with a string to it—represents the Wall street Democracy, which is more sensitive to the pocket nerve than to any abstract principles—described truthfully the Democratic convention that registered the decrees of the head of Tammany hall in nominating the present so-called Democratic ticket in New York.

"It, after mentioning the fact that all of the candidates—including its own, by the way, came hat in hand to Mr. Murphy to know if he would not be good enough to nominate them, stated that what occurred in the convention was really of no consequence, because the only thing that counted was what went on in Mr. Murphy's room. It continued, saying the most sinister feature of the situation, however, is the fact that you could not throw a brick in any direction without hitting a lobbyist or a corporation attorney. They all arrived before the delegates did."

Roosevelt Stand on Tariff.

In reference to the tariff Col. Roosevelt said:

"As to the tariff, it seems to me that the situation is much clearer than some people would have us believe. I fully admit there was a time when, if our opponents had acted with reasonable wisdom, they could have made us trouble. But they let the opportunity slip by, and they did not act with reasonable wisdom.

"The Republican party is united on the doctrine officially set forth in its national platform two years ago, that the tariff shall be such as substantially to equalize the cost of production here and abroad. As the cost of production is mainly labor, this means primarily that the duty should be great enough to continue to give to our laboring man that higher standard of wages without which there cannot be that higher standard of living which primarily distinguishes the American wage worker form the wage workers of all other countries.

"Now, not only is this the doctrine of the Republican party, but I believe it is the doctrine of the overwhelming majority of the American people. I do not believe that any section of the American people at present seriously advocate free trade or a tariff for revenue only.

"I most emphatically believe that if any such issue is raised, there will be an overwhelming decision in favor of the policy of such measure of protection as that outlined. Now the question is how to achieve the purpose thus explicitly declared. It seems to me, and I think that more and more it seems to the people of this country, that the methods hitherto obtaining in making all tariff for a great many years past, are ineffective in correctly and justly applying the protective principle as outlined above.

"We wish to give proper protection to each given business, and, above all, to the workmen in each given business, as a matter of right and justice, and not as a matter of favor or preference, and, above all, not give proper protection as a matter of favor or preference obtained by log rolling. Therefore, we feel that there should be a tariff commission, composed of impartial experts amply equipped for obtaining not merely from the statements of interested parties, but by such investigation as will satisfy them that the facts are accurate, information that will enable congress in each given case to establish the measure of protection necessary to carry out the principles above set forth.

"Moreover, these investigations should form a program, each successive report being treated on its merits, so that each schedule can be revised by itself in accordance with the facts developed by this commission of impartial experts, and without any heed being paid to any other consideration than the justice of that particular case.

Will Not Upset Business.

"This will prevent log rolling, and it will also prevent the farreaching disturbance of business which necessarily comes when all the schedules are revised in lump.

"Finally, I feel that it should be the duty of some government body to at any time investigate conditions in any particular industry to see whether or not the workingmen do actually get the benefit that the tariff is primarily created to give—that is, to see that the laborer gets his full share of the benefit of the protective tariff in accordance with what I firmly believe to be the purpose of the American people.

"By enacting into law such a policy as that above outlined we shall on the one hand do away with the danger of injury to American industries which would follow if they were left wholly without protection from foreign competition, and on the other hand we make it sure that the laboring man gets the benefit of the tariff primarily enacted in his interest, do away with the favoritism and log rolling which under present conditions seem inevitable in the process of tariff making, and make it certain that the amount of protection granted in each case was the amount actually necessary to cover the difference in the cost of production here and abroad and not so exclusive as to represent improper favoritism to any special group of men."

AVIATOR ARCH HOXSEY'S OWN STORY OF HIS FLIGHT WITH THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

BY ARCH HOXSEY.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—The colonel's and my birthday are on the same date, Oct. 27, which always has given me a partial feeling toward him and strengthened my determination to take him up. So when I was introduced to him by Mr. Lambert I said to him: "Our birthdays are on the same date, colonel, so you can trust yourself with me."

After I told him about our birthdays he smiled. As soon as I saw his smile I knew I had him.

Mr. Lambert then said something to him about my trip from Springfield and Col. Roosevelt said he envied me. I then said:

"Here is your chance to share it with me." He replied: "No!"

"Sure," I answered.

The colonel then said: "All right, let's not make too much fuss about it while I am getting into the machine."

Before I could get off the step of the automobile where I was standing the colonel had his coat off and was getting ready to follow me.

It seemed to me I was walking on air as I was crossing the hundred feet to get into the machine. I kept saying to myself:

"Now, Hoxsey, no funny business when you get this fellow up, because if you spill him you can never square yourself with anybody."

Roosevelt beat me to the machine and was crawling in among the wires when I got there. I had taken my seat and the signal corps boys had started the propellers, when Dwight Perrin, one of the newspaper boys, offered the colonel a cap, he being bareheaded at the time. I slowed the propellers, and when the colonel said he was all right I opened her up and we were off.

I took the colonel around the first lap without looking at him. We were up about 150 feet when I felt the machine wiggle a little and turning around I saw Roosevelt was waving his hat at the crowd in the pavilion seats.

The noise from the propellers was so terrific I had to yell with all my lungs when I said, "Be careful, colonel, don't pull any of those strings." The valve cord was directly over his hand and the engine would have stopped had he pulled it a little. He turned to me and smiled broadly, showing his teeth, and said, "Nothing doing."

By this time we had circled over toward the Dreadnought and I heard him shout "War, army, aeroplane, and bomb." The rest of the conversation I could not catch, but the colonel was eyeing the smoke curling from the Dreadnought with the keen eye of a man who saw the real battleship that could have been put out of business with a bomb.

In another minute we were back to the starting point. I had carefully avoided flying over all objects, so that had there been any trouble with the machinery I could have glided to the earth without danger to the colonel.

When we landed safely I felt as if some one had cut off the high pressure on my heart valve and I was never so glad of anything in my life as when the signal corps boys approach showed we had come to a full stop.

When the crowd gathered around us the colonel and I were separated for a minute or two, but he reached over the shoulders of several people and said, "Hoxsey, you're all right."

It certainly was the biggest day of my life.

PARKER SAYS ROOSEVELT MUST DISAVOW CANDIDACY.

Declares Former President Has Been Advised by Friends to Declare Himself Out of Race in 1912.

New York, Oct. 11.—Alton B. Parker gave out an interview at his home tonight on the state campaign and Theodore Roosevelt. He said in part:

"I am informed that Mr. Roosevelt has been advised by his friends that in this state the tide has set in so strongly against his new nationalism with himself as the steward of the public welfare in 1912 and thence on for the balance of his life, that he can only hope to save the situation for himself and his ticket by announcing that he will not be a candidate in 1912, and further, that he has agreed to make such a statement within the next two or three days.

"There can be no doubt of the fact of his candidacy in the mind of any man who has watched his course, carefully read his speeches, and noted his almost brutal treatment of President Taft.

"From my knowledge of and experience with him I have no hesitation in saying that while the assurance will be given by him that he will not be a candidate in 1912, his purpose is to deceive the people of this state in the hope that they will elect his ticket.

"That done, he will accept the result as a command by the people of the state that he be its candidate. Then, with the political machine under his control, nothing can prevent him from securing the delegates from this state. There is one sure way and only one, to avoid Mexicanizing this country, and that is to defeat his ticket now."

BAY STATE DEMOCRATS AT SEA.

Party Leaders May Recall Convention to Nominate New Man as Candidate for Governor.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Utterly at sea in the matter of selecting a candidate for governor, the Democratic state committee may decide tomorrow to reconvene the state convention of the party in a last effort to break the deadlock that has existed for nearly a week.

Congressman Eugene N. Foss, who led on the first two formal ballots in the convention last week and who was only four votes short of the number necessary to a choice, is the originator of the plan to reassemble the convention as a whole. If this is done the meeting will be not later than next Saturday.

PHTHISIS KILLS 200,000 A YEAR

New York Health Commissioner Says One-Seventh of All Deaths Are from Tuberculosis.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—At the present rate of mortality 2,000,000 persons will die from tuberculosis in the next ten years, according to State Health Commissioner Porter, who addressed the Cornell students today. "No other disease produces so much poverty or distress," he said. "One-seventh of all the deaths are due to this disease. One-third of all the deaths among adults and one-half of all sickness is due to tuberculosis.

"Tuberculosis is a preventable disease. The state should spread knowledge about the disease and how it may be fought. Clean streets and playgrounds accomplish much in the fight."

ESCAPE ALL RENT BY TRIBUNE VOTES

You Can Win a Fine House and Lot by Two Months of Subscription Work.

LOOKS EASY AND IT IS.

Ten Prizes, Worth $27,000, at Stake and Paper Offers Fair Play for Every One.

Why pay rent?

If you could escape that great burden for the rest of your life by two months of work would you do it?

Well, those two months begin for you today.

THE TRIBUNE offers a $5,000 house and lot, three $4,500 houses and lots, a $3,500 house and lot, and five $1,000 lots to the ten persons in Chicago or its suburbs who are most efficient in obtaining subscriptions to the world's greatest newspaper and in collecting coupons.

Cut out the nominating coupon in today's paper and send it or bring it to room 510, Tribune building. That will start you with 1,500 votes. Voting coupons printed in the paper every day count one vote each and three printed on Sunday, five votes. Clip these and get your friends to collect them for you.

Then solicit subscriptions.

Gain Advantage of Reduction.

THE TRIBUNE has been made as low in price as any paper in the United States while remaining above all others in quality. This cut was made less than ten days ago, so that you will have the full advantage of it. Thousands and thousands of people decided to subscribe for THE TRIBUNE the day that the 1 cent price was announced. If you send in some of these subscriptions which are ready to drop into your hands they will count you 1,500 votes for a yearly subscription, costing $3.60; 700 votes for a six months' subscription, costing $1.80; and 300 votes for a three months' subscription at 90 cents. THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE does not figure in the contest, except that the coupons printed in it are worth five votes each. You need get subscriptions only to the 1 cent DAILY TRIBUNE.

If you win a place in this contest:

You select your own lot anywhere you choose in Chicago or its suburbs.

You select your own architect and have your own ideas worked out by him.

You pick the contractor, the builder, the carpenters, plumbers, finishers, decorators, etc., yourself.

And the bills go to THE TRIBUNE.

You Must Begin Now.

In two months' time you can have a home all your own.

But you must begin now!

Unlike other contests conducted in Chicago recently, the closing date, Dec. 10, has been set in advance and will not be extended. You have just so much time in which to make good and certain conditions to work under. The value of the votes is fixed absolutely. The standing of each candidate will be kept absolutely secret.

THE TRIBUNE will do all in its power to give candidates any publicity which will help them in the contest, but not in such a way as to let their rivals know their standing, and thus enable them to take unfair advantages.

A list of all candidates will be printed in THE TRIBUNE next Sunday. All those who are nominated up to Friday night will be included in this list. Get your nominating coupon in by Friday night, therefore, for it will help your cause to have your friends know that subscriptions and coupons will help you. Many a subscription which would otherwise be sent direct to THE TRIBUNE thus may be sent through you, gaining you thousands of votes.

Send in or bring in your subscriptions as fast as you get them. If you are too busy to bring the subscriptions to THE TRIBUNE office telephone Central 100, ask for the contest editor, room 510, and a messenger will be sent out to get them, thus immediately crediting the votes to you and starting the paper to your subscribers.

Answers to Questions.

If you have any questions to ask telephone or write to The Contest Editor. Those asked in writing will be answered by letter or through this column. Here are the solutions to problems that are puzzling some people:

MCLELLAN EDGAR KING, 712 Wabash avenue—Fill out nomination ballot in today's paper, send in, and book will be sent you. You may nominate yourself or anyone else may nominate you. Ninety cents for 3 months is the rate for THE DAILY TRIBUNE alone delivered by carrier.

Friends Can Save Coupons.

T. HARTUNG, 3123 South Park avenue—You do not have to save 100 coupons in fifteen days; see answer above; but you can do it by having your friends who read THE TRIBUNE save their coupons for you.

CHARLES A. JOSLYN, 519 South Fifteenth street—Renewals do not count for votes.

F. A. COAPMAN, 12021 Eggleston avenue—Renewals do not count. Subscriptions outside Chicago or its suburbs do not count. Subscriptions to THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE do not count. The price of a year's subscription is $3.60.

UNSIGNED—A subscription need not accompany the nomination ballot. Subscription need not start now. Only those residing in Chicago or its suburbs may enter the contest.

Do you understand the conditions?

Is the reward worth while?

Then get busy!

HOW YOU CAN GET A HOUSE AND LOT FOR CHRISTMAS

Here Is the List of $27,000 in House and Lot Prizes:

Any part of Chicago where such lots can be bought, or any suburb of Chicago, will be satisfactory to The Tribune. You can plan your own house and select your own architect. The Tribune will pay all the bills. You don't have to pay one cent. The abstract and guaranty policy of the Chicago Title and Trust Company will go with the property.

If a bride or groom, married during this contest, wins one of the houses and lots, The Tribune will furnish it free.

Every engaged couple ought to get to work and try to win one of these houses and lots. If you are engaged, all your friends will be delighted to help you win one of these houses and lots for a wedding present. Send letters to your friends—send postal cards to them. Work every night among your friends and neighbors asking them to subscribe to The Daily Tribune and to save you their popularity votes.

A subscription book will make it easier for you to get the subscriptions that will help you win one of these houses and lots. You can get a subscription book from the Contest Editor by calling personally at Room 510, Tribune Building, or writing, or just telephoning Central 100. It will be mailed to you free of charge. Every assistance that The Tribune can give you to win one of these prizes will be given. Call at Room 510 Tribune Building as often as you please and talk to the Contest Editor. He will give you ideas on how to get subscriptions and votes.

It Is Very Easy to Get One of These Houses and Lots Free

Send the nomination ballot to the Contest Editor of The Chicago Tribune. The nomination ballot alone is worth 1,500 votes to you. When it arrives at The Chicago Tribune office with your name and address on it, you will be entered in the contest with 1,500 votes to your credit. Every coupon sent thereafter is added to these 1,500 votes. The voting coupons printed in The Sunday Tribune are worth 5 votes each. The voting coupons printed in The Daily Tribune are worth 1 vote each.

How to Get 300 Votes at the Start of the Contest

If you subscribe to The Chicago Daily Tribune for 3 months, paid in advance, it will cost you 90c and will bring you 300 votes in the great House and Lot Contest.

How to Get 700 Votes at the Start of the Contest

A 6 months' paid in advance subscription to The Chicago Daily Tribune costs you only $1.80 and brings you 700 votes in the great House and Lot Contest.

How to Get 1,500 Votes at the Start of the Contest

A 12 months' paid in advance subscription to The Chicago Daily Tribune costs only $3.60 and brings you 1,500 votes in the great House and Lot Contest.

No one subscription can be longer than for one year and no subscription will be accepted for less than three months. 30c per month for The Daily Tribune, charged in this contest, is the regular price for all 1c papers delivered by carrier.

No subscriptions from people who have secured premiums and who are now under contract to get The Daily Tribune will be accepted in this contest. But the coupon in their paper everyday is as good as gold.

Daily subscriptions only will be accepted. Subscriptions for the Sunday Tribune will not count in this contest. But the voting coupons in the Sunday paper count five votes each.

WHITE SLAVE TRADE EXPOSED IN CONFESSION AT PITTSBURG.

New Yorker's Story Will Be Sent to Attorney General for Action Against the Evil.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—After forty-eight hours in the "sweat box" Joseph Murphy broke down and told the history of the "white slave system" in New York. Murphy gave details and the names of places and men concerned. He said he would be killed for telling the story.

His story bears out the reports of the Rockefeller grand jury.

A transcription of Murphy's story will be sent to the attorney general at Washington.

SCORES INCUBATOR BABY SHOW

Public Exhibitions Denounced as Inhuman by Speaker at International Conference.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—Public exhibitions of babies in incubators were denounced as inhuman by O. A. Trustine of Cincinnati in an address before the international humane conference today.

The speaker branded such exhibitions as cruelty to children and advocated legislation to prevent them. He gave statistics revealing how infants in public incubators used for show purposes had died because they had been held too long in their artificial nursery.

HUNT GRAFT CASH; BANKS SUMMONED

Illinois Central Car Repair Prosecution Expects Corroboration of Testimony.

DEFENSE FIGHTS MOVE.

Official Throws More Light on Ostermann's Connection with Rawn.

The private bank accounts of Frank B. Harriman, C. L. Ewing, and J. M. Taylor, former Illinois Central officials, charged with having conspired to defraud the railroad by means of car repair companies, will be introduced as evidence against them in the Municipal court when their hearing before Judge Bruggemeyer is resumed next Monday.

This announcement was made yesterday by Attorney Walter L. Fisher, representing the Illinois Central, at the close of the hearing. Mr. Fisher asserted he intended to show what salaries the former officials had received and what large deposits had been made on dates of graft payments testified to by witnesses at the hearing and recorded in the "little red book" of the Ostermann Manufacturing company.

The accounts of I. G. Rawn, Joseph H. Buker, William Renshaw and others, mentioned by witnesses as having received large payments in dividends, "subsidies," and commissions, will probably be presented also, it was stated.

Subpœnas will command the Corn Exchange National bank, the Fort Dearborn National bank, the Western Trust and Savings bank, and the Illinois Trust and Savings bank to produce complete statements.

Attorneys for the defense argued strenuously against the admissibility of the accounts as evidence, but their objections were overruled by Judge Bruggemeyer.

Audit Shows $1,142,792.10 Graft.

An audit of the books and records of the Ostermann Manufacturing company and its successor, the West Pullman Car works, shown by D. B. F. McKenzie, an accountant connected with the firm of Arthur Young & Co., placed the minimum of the overcharge against the Illinois Central railroad by this company alone during the three and a half years of its existence at $1,142,792.10.

Cross examination of H. C. Dolph, former vice president of the Ostermann company, on the entries in the red book only served to make the witness more specific. Attorney Hoover tried to make the witness admit that the records he had made of payments to Illinois Central officials were simply memoranda of what Ostermann wanted money for, rather than of actual payments.

"In some instances that is true," replied the witness.

Ostermann Sees First $10,000 Bill.

One payment to Ostermann the witness said he remembered because it included the first $10,000 bill Ostermann had ever seen.

"I put $23,000 in an envelope," he said, "and Ostermann came back the next day saying he could only count $14,000. He had mistaken the $10,000 bill for a $1,000."

He was unable to say that Harriman had ever actually received any of his $2,500 monthly "subsidy."

E. C. Cowgill, assistant to President Harahan, and E. N. Harding, a piece work inspector, who has been at the head of a force of clerks checking the car repair bills, produced as evidence a large number of the original price schedules for labor and materials, the basis of the contract prices for car repairing.

A dispatch from New Orleans at night stated that Ostermann's flaunting of $5 bills as cigar lighters and comments that he had a "good thing" attracted the attention of detectives in the St. Charles hotel there Feb. 26. While intoxicated he accused bell boys of taking a large roll from him. The boys proved their innocence, it was stated.

We specialize on PLATES—carrying no other tea or dinner ware in china—and place before our customers a selection that is rarely equalled anywhere.

We give careful personal attention to each design ordered for stock, and most of the patterns are exclusively ours. Moreover, we do not render our plates commonplace by selling a quantity of any one design.

The advantages of purchasing plates from us will be apparent to those who appreciate the charm of owning fine china of distinctive decoration or the satisfaction in sending a Wedding Present that will not be duplicated—especially when these advantages add nothing to our prices, which will be found most reasonable.

An inspection of our goods is cordially invited, whether or not one wishes to purchase at the time.

SAYS PUNCH MET BANK PAPER MAN

Auto Head Tells of Punishment Given Cosmopolitan Certificate Circulator.

CLAIM RIVALS "KNOCK."

Concern's Officers Charge Big Institutions Begrudge Crumbs to Lazarus.

New deals in which Cosmopolitan bank certificates of deposit figured as the trading medium, came to light yesterday. They followed disclosures that holders of this paper could not realize on it, either at the Cosmopolitan, 155 East Washington street, or other Chicago banks. Cosmopolitan officials reiterated assurances that all of the certificates would be taken care of at dates of maturity.

Chief among the newly described trades in Cosmopolitan certificates are two in which Nels T. Arvidson, one of the "heaviest depositors" in the bank figures. Morris Froelich, president of the Times Square Automobile company, said that Arvidson was punched by one of his chauffeurs after Arvidson had tried to dispose of a certificate for $3,500 to his company and failed. He also was authority for the statement that Arvidson had used $45,000 worth of certificates in a land deal with a Peoria man.

Thom Sherman, a Greek groceryman, declared during the day that he had had one of the $1,000 certificates, but had compelled L. M. Erb, the man who gave it to him in a trade, to take it back after Sherman had tried to realize cash on the certificate without success. It also was learned that a Chicago woman had tried to discount a $1,000 certificate through her local bank without success. She got the paper on a debt.

Tells of His Experience.

Mr. Froelich, in telling of his experience with the Cosmopolitan certificate and his inability to realize on it, said:

"Arvidson came into our office one Saturday afternoon about three months ago. He wanted to purchase an automobile, and selected one for $400. We accepted the certificate of deposit for $3,500 and paid the difference to him with a check for $3,100.

"Early the following Monday morning we tried to realize on the certificate, but were told at several banks that it was not due until Jan. 1, 1911. We immediately ordered the check made void. Arvidson in the meantime tried to get it certified. He was turned down at every bank, the La Salle Street National bank refusing to give him $1,000 which he asked on the $3,100 check.

"One of the chauffeurs about our shops recognized Arvidson as a former chauffeur, and knew his haunts. We traced him and forced him to bring the automobile back.

"I then told him what I thought of the certificate of deposit deal he was trying to put across, and in the next minute he raised his fist to strike me.

"A chauffeur landed flush on his jaw. Arvidson was knocked flat. Several weeks later Arvidson was seen on the street with a plaster cast about his broken jaw.

"He swore he would sue me for damages and breach of contract, but that's the last I heard of him."

Arvidson Defends Deals.

Arvidson was found in his office at 115 Dearborn street. He said he knew the officials of the bank well and had every confidence in their integrity. He denied that he had ever used the certificates in trades in which he represented that they could be cashed any place except at the Cosmopolitan bank at the time they matured.

"I believe that every dollar's worth of these certificates is good," he said. "Yes, I've got a good sized bank account at the Cosmopolitan, and it is on that money that the certificates in my name were issued. I don't care to state just how much my account is."

Arvidson was asked about his indictment in May, 1909, on a charge of arson. He declared it was a put-up job and that the jury's verdict of "not guilty" on the first ballot told the story.

It became known that one certificate for $2,500 matures today and will be presented to the bank for payment at once. This certificate is held by Mrs. S. A. Bell, wife of the former president of the Cosmopolitan concern. The certificate during the day was sent to a Chicago lawyer from the Bell home in Green Bay, Wis. Mr. Bell withdrew from the banking firm last April and is no longer connected with the bank, but members of his family have about $5,000 on deposit in the bank.

Claim Rivals Are "Knocking."

The Cosmopolitan bank was open for business as usual and Milo F. Lewis, president, and St. Lawrence Chandler, vice president, the owners of the unincorporated institution, declared that enmity of the big banks was responsible for the reports that their paper was not worth face value.

"We will be able to meet every obligation and we will be in business right along, despite the questioning of our standing," Mr. Lewis said. "Of course, this knocking is hard, but we are in shape to stand it. Not only will we continue to do business, but our state bank with $1,000,000 paid up capital will be ready to start business on Jan. 1."

"Why, we have every dollar of the stock subscribed now," Mr. Chandler said. "Only today a group of men in Minnesota telegraphed they would take 5,000 $100 shares and pay $125 for them. That's where this institution stands. The trouble is that a lot of the big fellows can't stand it for us to succeed. They begrudge the crumbs to Lazarus. We are just trying to run a little bank on modest plans and we've got to fight always."

Claim Jump in Resources.

While, according to bank officials, a month ago the time liabilities were $81,766.82, and its resources $276,804.71, five months ago, according to authoritative information, the resources were only $25,000. The liabilities at that time, it was said, were not less than $15,000. Bankers and financial agents were unable to tell who is behind the bank in a financial way except its owners, and the officials will not give out any information as to the nature of their securities.

MANY WATCH FIREMEN FIGHT A BLAZE IN STATE STREET.

Crowds See Successful Efforts in Early Morning Battle to Save Old Landmark Located in the Downtown District.

Fire early this morning broke out in the six story building at 41-45 State street, and for a time threatened to spread through the structure.

It was not until firemen carrying leads of hose mounted to the top floors that the blaze, believed to have been caused by crossed electric wires, was extinguished. The building is one of the landmarks in that part of the business district.

Hundreds of persons crowded the street, watching the firemen as they climbed up the escape and ladders that were hoisted high into the air.

It is believed the heaviest loss, the total of which was estimated at $1,500, was suffered by Siegel & Berman, tailors, occupying the fifth floor. Other firms that suffered damage by water and smoke are: McDowell Millinery school, Charlton Silk company, and the Bon Ami Lunch club.

Fire on the third floor of the Lowell building, 308 Dearborn street, an eight story brick building, last night caused a loss of $2,000.

Police Candidates Who Enter Chicago's New School for Patrolmen.

MOUNT CHAIRS; END HAT EVIL

Talk Where They Can Be Seen Above Women's Headgear.

FLIRT CAUSE OF LEAP YEAR.

Speaker Says Father Time Fugited When Caught Talking with Venus.

Notice to suffering churches:

Stepladders will solve the big hat evil.

A high chair solved it at the Woman's Social Economics club yesterday; there wasn't a ladder available.

The audience looked like a millinery exposition in Gainsborough's time. Those back of the front row could hear—which is inconsequential at a woman's club—but could not see; that makes the whole thing a frost.

Mrs. John F. Thompson, president, ruled, therefore, that all the women in the audience remove their hats.

Instead they rammed the long pins in tighter. It was embarrassing. Mrs. D. Harry Hammer, called for a toast, hesitated to comply. It might be an intentional offense. Then some genius in petticoats sent a voice out from amid the forest of feathers:

Word to the Wise.

"Say, Mrs. Hammer, why don't you get on a chair."

Then somebody suggested a ladder. The chair was substituted and the Social Economics club held one of its best meetings for ever so long in honor of the months of the calendar.

Upturned faces could revel in an unbroken view of every detail of what the speakers wore.

To celebrate the new uplift, Mrs. Hammer from her chair lifted a load off of the war department by showing how the United States could save piles of money by preparing for war only once every twelve months, that is, in April, instead of preparing for war at great expense all the time.

All wars this country has engaged in seem inevitably to have begun in April, including the Cook-Peary controversy over the north pole. Uncle Samuel, Beware of April.

Did you ever know why leap year came to be? Mrs. Laura G. Fixen, who represented the Essene society, said: "Father Mars and Mother Earth went housekeeping together."

Venus a "Goo Goo" Girl.

"On every fourth year they moved. Finally they came to the seventh house, where Jupiter was lord and Venus ruled. Mrs. Venus was young and giddy, and she liked to talk over the fence to Father Time in the eighth house.

"Jupiter happened in on the conversation once, and Father Time jumped through space to join Mother Earth, got there ahead of schedule, and presented her with an extra day."

Other speakers were Mrs. John McMahon, president of the Catholic Women's league; Mrs. Alice Bradford Wiles, president of the Daughters of 1812; Mrs. George Colby, president of the Kilo club; Mrs. Freeman E. Brown, president of the Cook county league; Mrs. Mary Moncure Parker, Illinois Woman's Press association; Mrs. May Walton Kent, president of the Chicago chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy; Mrs. John P. Fitzgerald; Miss Pauline G. Kelly, Social Economics club; Mrs. Frederick Dow, president of the Arché club; Mrs. Claribel Schmitt, South Side club; Dr. Julia Holmes Schmitt, and Mrs. Estelle Ryan Snyder.

Mme. Donaldson cast the horoscope for each month. Laura Willoughby Greene, chairman of the social committee, arranged the unique affair.

13 NATIONS IN COLLEGE CLUB.

Shiro Tashiro, President, Celebrates Occupancy of New Quarters by Cosmopolitan with Progressive Talk.

The Cosmopolitan club of the University of Chicago has secured quarters near the campus at 5800 Jackson avenue. At its first meeting yesterday the club discovered that its membership of forty includes representatives from thirteen different nations: Turkey, Brazil, China, Philippines, Germany, United States, Russia, India, Japan, Poland, Sweden, Canada, and Armenia. Shiro Tashiro, the president, says that the club intends to increase its membership this year and to maintain active relations with the Cosmopolitan clubs of other universities.

FACULTY LETS STUDENTS OFF.

Theater "Rush" After Northwestern Football Victory Ended When Participants Were Fined.

No action was taken by the faculty of Northwestern university at its regular meeting last night regarding the seven students who "rushed" a theater in Evanston Saturday night, following the victory of the Purple squad over the Iowa football team. The students were fined $1 each in Justice Boyer's court Friday morning. Dean Thomas F. Holgate says the matter has been dropped.

URGES OUSTER OF ALL LATIN

Supervisor of Household Arts Would Free Schools of It.

TRAIN MIND WITH HANDS.

Says Education to Modern Needs Should Displace Antiquity.

Miss Mary S. Snow, supervisor of household arts in the Chicago public schools, urged the abandonment of Latin and Greek and the adoption of the industrial courses, in a lecture before the Mothers' West End council and the Mothers' society last night, at the California Avenue Congregational church.

"I don't believe in the Latin course at all," said Miss Snow. "Why not give our boys and girls a live subject? They're alive. Why go into the remote past? Latin is sacred only because it is ancient. It is the lowest step in education.

Children Protest Study.

"The protest against the ancient forms of education comes not from the grown up people, but from the children. An experiment in education is the rarest thing on land or sea. The accepted education is as deeply rooted in us as our religion.

"It seems to me that education is the training of a person to meet his needs. The whole of our lives is to meet the needs of ourselves and the community. If we can keep the hands of our children working and their brains planning, we have given them as much mental discipline as a whole book of Latin or Greek. They should be given something that called upon their inventive and creative skill.

Should Be Trained to Refinement.

"The hands of the children should be trained so skillfully that everything they do, if it is only setting the table, should show refinement, art, technique. A girl ought never to go to a dressmaker or a milliner to get her clothes and hats. Her hands and eyes and esthetic appreciation should be so trained that she could satisfy herself in the matter of clothes much better than anyone else could satisfy her."

Miss Snow spoke highly of the new two year industrial course which has been installed in the high schools of Chicago.

"It gives the boys, who cannot stay in high school four years, a chance to find themselves."

SOLD BOY TOBACCO; TRICKED.

Dealer Tells Officer, Who Trapped Him, Lad's Father, Dead Six Years, Gave Permit.

Louis Cohn, proprietor of a tobacco store at 1120 West Huron street, was arrested last night by Inspector Healy of the West Chicago avenue station, on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of children. The inspector made the arrest after he had sent a nine year old boy, Frank Howard, 1054 West Huron street, into the store to buy tobacco. A complaint had been made against Cohn by the boy's mother.

"I have a permit from his father to sell this boy tobacco," the cigar dealer told the inspector.

"When was it made out?" he was asked, and he gave the date as a week ago.

"That will not do," the inspector answered, "for this boy's father has been dead six years."

ADDRESS N.O 197, TRIBUNE

RICH DOCTOR'S SON DIVORCED

Mrs. M. M. Peck, Plaintiff, Said to Have Received $20,000.

PLAYED SLEUTH, SHE SAYS.

Wife's Claim J. G. O'Keefe Bought Another Woman's Clothes Wins Decree.

Mrs. Margaret M. Peck, wife of Robert R. Peck, son of Dr. Comfort Peck, a wealthy retired physician residing at Highland Park, Ill., was granted a divorce yesterday afternoon by Judge Petit in the Circuit court. The plaintiff received $20,000 in lieu of alimony, it is said.

Mrs. Peck testified that she was married in 1896 and that she lived with her husband until December, 1907, when she said he left her. The cause of the separation, according to Mrs. Peck, was that her husband became infatuated with another woman.

This Wife Sleuth, She Says.

Mrs. Vane B. O'Keefe, after relating how she played detective and found her husband, John G. O'Keefe, in a downtown department store purchasing clothes for another woman, was granted a divorce decree by Judge Moran in the Superior court during the day.

"We were married in New York City, in 1904, and lived together until September, 1908," Mrs. O'Keefe testified. "My husband went on a business trip out of town and did not return to me.

"One day I found him in a downtown department store with a woman, and I followed him around the place. He bought clothes for her, and later when I asked him if he was living with her he admitted such was the case."

Wedded Forty Years; Asks Decree.

After having lived with her husband, Moses D. Mitchell for over forty years, Mrs. Anna E. Mitchell filed suit for divorce in the Superior court. Mrs. Mitchell charges her husband, who is a Berwyn blacksmith, with cruelty.

She asked for an injunction restraining her husband from disposing of any of his property until after the hearing of the suit. She also seeks alimony.

Anna Q. Williams has filed a suit in the Circuit court asking a decree of divorce from her husband, Charles A. Williams, an actor, charging desertion and non-support. She alleges that she was married Sept. 15, 1897, and lived with her husband until July, 1907, when she says he left her.

WON FROM LOCKUP ON RUSE

Police Say Bond Trick Enabled Prisoner to Make Escape.

POINTED OUT AS ANOTHER.

Bail Is Secured, Then Flees; Two Men Under Arrest in Case.

Two men are under arrest on a charge of aiding Albert Jensen escape from the lockup at the Desplaines street station. Jensen was literally kidnaped from his cell, the police say, soon after he had been arrested last Saturday evening on a charge of passing bogus checks. He resides in Mayfair and had not been located late last night by detectives. Peter Scheffler, who gave his address as 1858 North Forty-eighth court, and Joseph Straus, who says he resides at 4824 Christiana avenue, the prisoners, claim they mistook Jensen for another man.

Held, but Is Not Booked.

Jensen was taken in custody on a complaint charging him with passing a bogus check on a grocer at 836 Randolph street. He was not booked, however, but was turned over to Lockup Keeper Frank Conley for safekeeping.

Later in the evening Frank Carr, 1881 Ballou street, was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct and booked. Shortly after he had been placed in a cell two men appeared with a professional bondsman and requested that he be released on bond. His name was called, but he did not answer.

Jensen Pointed Out as Carr.

The two, who represented themselves to be friends of Carr, were anxious to see him get home, they said, and offered to go downstairs and get him. This they were permitted to do.

They pointed out Jensen as Carr and he was taken to the sergeant's desk, where he signed the bond. Michael Keough, the bondsman, not being acquainted with Carr, believed he was signing for the right man.

VETERAN POLICEMAN TO WED.

Desk Sergeant Hayes of Hudson Avenue Station Will Marry at Beloit, Wis., Today.

Desk Sergeant Dennis Hayes, a veteran of the Hudson avenue police station, and Miss Elizabeth Bergh, 1430 Hudson avenue, will be married at Beloit, Wis., today. He has been a widower several years. They will live at 1461 Olive avenue.

SUFFRAGIST AID ASKED BY "SEVEN"

Miss Haley Suggests Women Wear "Little Ballot" Placards on Hats.

MERRIAM UNDER FIRE.

Representative of Conference Has Tilt Over Body's Friendship for the Cause.

Chicago suffragists with hats large enough will wear two foot "Little Ballot" placards on them on election day, if a suggestion made by Miss Margaret Haley at a meeting last night is adopted. Miss Haley's plan was announced following a lively colloquy between several suffragists and Ald. Charles E. Merriam, who had been sent there by the committee of seven of the Peoria conference to ask their support.

Ald. Merriam didn't have a smooth time of it with the women. Dr. Anna E. Blount recalled he had not supported a suffrage plank at the Chicago charter convention, and several others of the leaders were disposed to be critical because the Peoria conference had not declared itself in favor of votes for women.

Miss Todd Starts Tilt.

"Before I vote for the Peoria plan I want to know why they didn't include woman's suffrage in the platform," declared Miss Helen Todd, state deputy factory inspector, as the women prepared to vote.

"They figured that, having the initiative and referendum, the people could get suffrage if they desired it," replied Ald. Merriam.

"If that's the case," was the retort, "I don't think we ought to stand behind them. Woman's suffrage is the most important issue in Illinois today, and we ought to have assistance from the men asking us to work with them."

"I agree with Miss Todd," put in Dr. Blount. "I can't see why we should pull our brothers' chestnuts out of the fire. We haven't any assurance that we will be helped in return for the help we will give."

Mrs. Robins Urges Aid.

"I would like to reply to the women who have just spoken," said Mrs. Raymond Robins, chairman of the meeting. "We would be pulling not only our brothers' chestnuts but our own out of the fire. There are enough men in Illinois today to give us the ballot."

In his address urging the women to support the "little ballot," Ald. Merriam said:

"The women of the state are interested in the initiative and referendum provision on the little ballot. It is through this that the way will be open for an extension of good legislation. In endeavoring to get good legislation you women have struck the same trouble the good men of the state have."

The meeting was called for the purpose of federating the various suffrage clubs of Cook county. Committees were named to further agitation for suffrage before the next legislature, to get a larger number of women at the polls to vote for state university trustees.

Chicago suffragists will make a special appeal to the Irish members of the British parliament, who will be here next week in connection with the "home rule" movement, to support the suffrage bill.

MINISTERS GIVEN NEW PASTORATES

Changes of Interest to Chicago Made at Rock River Conference.

ANNUAL MEETING ENDS.

Gathering One of Most Successful of Any in Over Seventy Years.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Dixon, Ill., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—The Rock River conference of the Methodist Episcopal church has adjourned, after assembling twice today to hear the assignments of the ministers to their various churches. The conference was one of the most harmonious and successful of the seventy-one annual sessions.

The cause of the delay in reading the appointments centered about a few of the leading churches. Bishop Cranston put himself to great personal inconvenience to satisfy every one of the conflicting claims of the nearly 400 ministers and churches.

Changes of Interest.

The changes in which Chicago is affected that were of the greatest interest were the fololwing:

Woodlawn Park, from which the Rev. E. B. Crawford was transferred to Hanscom Park church, Omaha, received as its pastor a transfer from Harrisburg, Pa., the Rev. H. Curtin Harmon, in exchange for the Rev C. C. McLean, who goes to Harrisburg.

McCabe Memorial church gets the Rev. M. J. Megor, Goshen, Ind., who exchanges with the Rev. D. T. Stephenson, who has been pastor at West Pullman.

The Rev. R. Scott Hyde, former pastor of Hanscom Park church, Omaha, goes to the Ravenswood church, and the Rev. R. J. Wyckhoff goes from Ravenswood to First church, Oak Park.

The Rev. M. B. Williams goes from First church, Oak Park, to the First church, Elgin.

The Rev. Frank D. Sheets succeeds the Rev. M. C. Hartzell as pastor of South Park avenue. Dr. Hartzell asked relief from all work for one year on account of serious sickness.

The Rev. J. S. Daneey, formerly pastor of the First church, Danville, goes to Chicago to become pastor of the Auburn Park church.

The Rev. A. A. Mohney goes to Chicago from La Salle and becomes the pastor of Wabash Avenue church. The Rev. C. A. Kelley leaves Wabash Avenue after a six year pastorate and becomes pastor of the Woolley Memorial church.

The Rev. A. S. Haskins is returned for the thirteenth year to Irving Park church.

LISTS 'TOP THREE' ON PARTY TICKET

L. V. L. Anticipates a Court Decree on Number of Assembly Nominees.

DEMOCRATS LAMENT IT.

Experts, However, Figure They Can Increase Legislative Representation.

Anticipating a decree by the Supreme court directing that the "top three" candidates for the lower house by each party be placed on the ballot for the elections next month, the Legislative Voters' league yesterday undertook the task of making up a list of such nominees by the Republican and Democratic parties.

Secretary Harry L. Bird wrote to Secretary of State Rose for data regarding downstate districts, for many of which the official figures of the September primaries have not been published.

While figures for senatorial districts lying partly outside the Chicago election district, but within Cook county, have not been combined officially, they have been available through publication, so that the Cook county list of "top three" is known to those who looked up the totals.

Local Effect of Decision.

As prepared by Secretary Bird, the Republican and Democratic nominees for state representatives in local districts will be as follows should the Supreme court decide that the limitation of the number of nominees by party committees was without legal warrant in the new primary law:

Dist.	Republican.	Democratic.
1—	N. B. Judah Jr., E. D. Green.	John Griffin, *Lawrence Burns.
	*F. L. Hamilton.	*C. W. Espey.
2—	R. J. Marcy, F. J. McNichols.	George L. McConnell.

	*A. V. Lee.	*Charles Naylor.
6—	R. P. Hagan, W. E. Anderson,	Robert E. Wilson,
	*W. A. Stanger.	*J. A. Weber.
7—	L. J. Pierson, F. B. Roos,	*J. M. Slattery.
	*W. A. Warman.	*William Cafferty.
8—	D. E. Shanahan,	Rudolph Stoklasa,
	*J. J. Fruzyna.	E. J. Murphy,
	*R. J. Mulcahy.	*R. J. Mulcahy.
11—	H. D. Fulton, C. W. Church,	J. J. O'Toole, F. J. Ryan,
	*D. H. McGillvray.	*T. M. Crane.
13—	B. F. Kleeman, J. A. Swanson,	J. J. Mulcahy. Timothy Dunne,
	*M. H. Moore.	*C. J. Phillips.
15—	Thomas Curran, *F. J. Karch,	P. F. Smith, J. O. Hruby,
	*Anthony Novotny	*Michael Rayspis.
17—	E. J. Smejkal, *C. J. Herman.	P. F. Galligan, Tony Trimarco, *E. M. Abrahams.
19—	C. A. Schumacher, J. C. Bisha,	J. J. McLaughlin, *J. A. McInerney,
	*J. M. Kittleman.	*P. F. Ryan.
21—	F. E. Erickson, C. J. Ryberg,	Benjamin Mitchell, *T. J. O'Brien,
	*W. H. Troyer.	*J. J. White.
23—	O. A. Miller, J. P. Kinsella,	Joseph Strauss, *G. R. Bruce.
	*Christopher Beck	*P. F. Murray.
25—	C. L. Fieldstack, Lewis Hutzler,	Charles McParland, F. C. Burke,
	*H. D. Crocker.	*F. H. Landmesser.
27—	Leland Bers, *A. Rostenkowski.	Joseph Pitlock, D. J. Sullivan,
29—	C. A. Nelson, *R. H. McCormick Jr., J. F. Burns.	R. J. Collins, P. J. Sullivan, B. J. Conlon,
31—	H. L. Shaver, F. S. Catlin, *C. F. Erby.	*J. H. Farrell, L. P. Smith, J. C. Werdell, *Henry Dopheide.

*Added nominee.

In each of the four districts above where a vacancy is indicated, it is because only two candidates filed petitions at the primaries. The third place in such circumstances might go to some person whose name was written in.

Experts Guess on Results.

Democratic lament that a decision by the Supreme court as forecast might reduce the party representation in the lower house to near the vanishing point induced compilations by political experts. One table indicated that the Republicans would be certain to elect 89 and the Democrats 46, while the minority party might elect 70, which would be slightly greater than their present number.

The revolt against State Senator A. C. Clark, who won a renomination at the Republican primaries in the Thirteenth district, gainted the support of the Eighth Ward Republican league, meeting at 9140 Commercial avenue, and the Swedish-American Republican club, meeting in South Chicago. Just before midnight both of these organizations adopted resolutions condemning Clark and indorsing Frank E. Paulson, a business man

ATTACKS RECORD OF FOSS

R. J. Finnegan Argues on Cannonism and Tariff.

CLAIMS HE TRADED VOTE.

Democratic Congressional Candidate Talks in Edgewater.

The record of Congressman George E. Foss on Cannonism and the tariff was criticised last night by Richard J. Finnegan, Democratic congressional candidate in the Tenth district, before voters of Edgewater gathered at McManus hall, Bryn Mawr and Winthrop avenues.

"Two years ago," he said, "Mr. Foss made this promise to the voters of the district: 'I am honestly in favor of tariff revision. There is nothing sacred about a tariff schedule.'

"But when Mr. Foss had been renominated and elected he became convinced that the chairmanship of the committee on naval affairs was a more sacred thing to him than a tariff schedule, even more sacred than his promise that he was honestly in favor of a revision.

"He traded his vote for favors from Cannon. He showed his loyalty by refusing to vote for the revision of the house rules, and by voting for Cannon for speaker. He voted for the Dalzell gag order, for the Payne bill, for the Payne-Aldrich bill, a measure which his own brother, Congressman Eugene Foss of Massachusetts, pronounced a masterpiece of buncombe."

M'CORMICK CHARGES TRICK IN CANAL INVESTIGATION.

President of Sanitary Board Says Realty Board Inquiry Is Aimed at Re-election Campaign.

President R. R. McCormick of the sanitary board charged yesterday that the pending investigation of the drainage canal by the real estate board was prompted by a desire to embarrass him in his campaign for reelection.

In a letter to W. D. Kerfoot, a member of the committee, he fell little short of using the "short and ugly" word in his criticism of H. H. Walker. He also criticised the attitude of E. A. Halsey, another committeeman.

In part his letter follows:

"I beg to invite you to come to this office and study the situation. I extend the invitation in particular because I know that Mr. Walker and Mr. Halsey will try to prejudice your mind with misinformation. Mr Walker has tried for a number of years unsuccessfully to cause this board to misspend public money for the benefit of his real estate holdings and because of his failure has been untiring in his attacks upon the board, never stopping at the crudest misstatements of facts or the warping of facts. I am convinced that his request for a committee is for the purpose of embarrassing me in my present campaign for reelection. However, I always have met his assaults against me before the board in open meeting and am prepared to do so again."

Soundings at various points along the canal are being taken under instructions of the committee.

HARMONY IDEAS PUT INTO DEEDS

Democratic Joint Meeting O. K.'s Managing Committee's Registration Work.

COUNTY SESSION TODAY.

Republican Precinct Committee Will Convene to Nominate Circuit Judge.

Trouble makers were chased to the woods last night at a joint meeting of the Democratic harmony committee and the party candidates for county, sanitary district, and judicial offices. Instead of finding fault with the management of the campaign by the managing committee, which was in session at the same time at 91 Clark street, the "harmonizers" put their "O. K." on the effective organization work in bringing out a heavy registration.

The action of the meeting, which was held at Vogelsang's, was concentrated in the appointment of Congressman A. J. Sabath, W. L. O'Connell, and Charles McDonald to confer with the county managing committee regarding the appointment of a large advisory committee, representing every wing of the party. The idea was supported by former Mayors Carter Harrison and E. F. Dunne.

Oppose Inactive Campaign.

Chairman A. M. Lawrence and Congressman Sabath joined in citing that an inactive campaign would best suit the Republicans, who were said to be "on the defensive and afraid to hold meetings." John E. Traeger, Ald. James Dailey, Ald. William E. Dever, Richard E. Burke, John E. Owens, Lawrence J. Coffey, and a dozen others offered suggestions as to "sharp sticks" for stirring up the Republicans.

It was decided to ask W. R. Hearst to speak for the ticket when he passes through Chicago late this month on his way to the Pacific coast. This will give Mr. Hearst, who is the nominee of the Independence league for lieutenant governor in New York, a chance to explain why he is against the Democrats in the east and for that party's ticket in Illinois.

Republican County Convention.

The Republican county convention of 1,480 precinct committeemen will convene this morning in North Side Turner hall for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Circuit court judge in the place of Frank P. Schmitt, who died since his nomination at the primaries. Reports at night were that the honor would go either to former State's Attorney John J. Healy of Lake View or Randall W. Burns, an attorney of the Sixth ward.

Meeting in Gov. Deneen's office at Springfield, the Republican state committee reelected Roy O. West of Chicago chairman and B. A. Eckhart, also of this city, treasurer. Edward St. Clair of Ottawa was reelected secretary. United States Marshal Charles P. Hitch presided. Members of the committee called upon Gov. Deneen to congratulate him upon his Joliet speech.

KASSA IS TYPICAL HUNGARIAN CITY

Essentially a Peasant Town, with All the Features of Its Class.

PLACE TO STUDY NATURE.

Poverty of Population Is Reflected in Character of Municipality.

BY GEORGE A. DORSEY, PH. D., LL. D.

KASSA, Abouj-Torna, Hungary, Aug. 29.—If the road to progress is disgust, then I have too much of it, or Kassa has too little. And yet Kassa is one of the celebrated towns of Hungary. And it is a typical Hungarian town. There is a certain sameness about them which grows wearisome.

Excepting Budapest, no one exceeds a fairly dead level of mediocrity. There are many Hungarian cities, each with some peculiar charm, but they lack the distinction of Italian or even German cities.

The cathedral of Kassa is reputed the finest in Hungary. It is a good specimen of Gothic architecture; it has a rich open-work canopy and a Gothic altar ornately adorned with German paintings. But inside and out, it lacks that delicate touch which greets you on every hand in Italy; for stateliness and venerable dignity it will not at all compare with St. Stefan's in Vienna. If you would see antiquity or wonderful cities, do not come to Hungary. But if you would study simple, primitive folk, or enjoy a wonderful hospitality, Hungary is the right place.

Kassa is beautifully situated near the edge of the Alföld and the entrance to the mountains. It is the meeting point of four nationalities—Slovaks, Ruthenes, Roumanians, and Magyars. And so the Kassa market is a good place to study faces and costumes. There is a good museum here, of course, many public buildings, and an opera house; all that you expect to find in a Hungarian city of 40,000 inhabitants.

City of Peasant Life.

But Kassa is essentially a peasant city. Or at least its life is so intimately bound up with peasant life that it is hard to tell where one leaves off and the other begins. There must be a thousand stores here—little, insignificant affairs, chock full of cheap, mediocre notions, trinkets, and stuffs. They are dark and uninviting. The owners live behind the stores in still darker rooms, opening on little courts.

Barber shops are surprisingly numerous. The Jew is just as particular about his ringlets as the officer or official is about his mustache. Kassa's population seems to consist of Jews, peasants, officers, and officials. I name them in the order of their numerical superiority. There are many flower stores here. In the market place you will find peasant girls offering bunches of wild flowers. Their whole stock cannot be worth more than a few pennies.

As Kassa has almost no industry, it lives off the peasant. Peasants about here are poor. Their poverty is reflected in the town. Kassa draws its life from the encircling hills and valleys, which run far up into the mountains. It is not in close contact with the plains. No mountain people is rich until it has intimate relationship with plains or broad valleys which yield an abundance of the staff of life. A city may develop in the mountains, supported by mines or industry; but, after all, its existence is more intimately dependent on the wheat and corn belt than we realize. Some one has said of a Scot: "He is never so happy as when he is on the road which leads from his bleak hills to the fertile fields of England."

Kassa and Debreczen.

Compare Debreczen with Kassa. One is in the midst of the Alföld, with wheat and grain fields as far as the eye can reach. Debreczen is essentially a peasant village, but it looks rich and prosperous as compared with Kassa. As there is a certain similarity in mountains, there is a certain sameness in mountaineers. Houses in Debreczen are far apart, each with its garden of flowers, its open breathing spaces. Here they are packed tightly together or about little stuffy courts. Soldiers on every street! Enter a café, smartly dressed officers in white kid gloves. In front of stores, on the streets, swarms of Jews.

There are hundreds of little drinking inns here. Their customers are soldiers or just common people. The proprietors are Jews. But turn where you will you are face to face with peasant women, with heavy burdens on their backs, trotting along at a rapid pace, easily and gracefully, their skirts swishing about their bare legs. Speaking of skirts, some wear them short, others long. If the mother wears a long skirt, so does the daughter. You see little girls of 4 or 5 with dresses down to their heels. At first you conclude they are clad in cast off dresses of their sisters. Not so. There is no girlhood for them. The first dress they put on is copied after that of the mother. And they begin to work as soon as they can pick up chips or carry a baby.

Hungary Rests on Peasants.

What a load the peasant carries about his neck and on his shoulders! His back is the true backbone of Hungary and on it rests king, parliament, army, navy, church, professional men, and countless thousands of middlemen. We know what a drop of a few cents in the price of wheat will do, but we rarely stop to think of the man who tills the soil. The whole world is on his shoulders. Suppose the wheat and corn crop of Hungary were to fail for several years in succession. The peasant still has greens, fruits, and nuts to fall back on; but the army of middlemen has lost its business. From an economic point of view the soil is not only the basis of life but of art and science as well.

The middleman reaps the harvest. His demands are so great that it does not pay to raise chickens in the United States. Chickens are just incidentals in the farmer's life; he can raise as many as he has crumbs to spare. The South Water street merchant gets all the profit on a chicken. Measured in terms of dollars and cents, freights, and the middlemen consume the real profits of the fields. There are times when the farmer does not make enough on his fruit to pay for picking it. And yet the life of the middleman, as well as preacher, teacher, and government official depends on what the farmer gets out of the soil.

The increasing number of parasite classes is one of the causes of the weakness of Hungary. The peasant staggers under a load, with which our farmer is as yet unacquainted. He must support a huge army, and enough men at railway stations, each with a red flag in his hand, to flag all the trains on earth. And these flagmen kowtow to each other and salute their superior officers as if they belonged to the army.

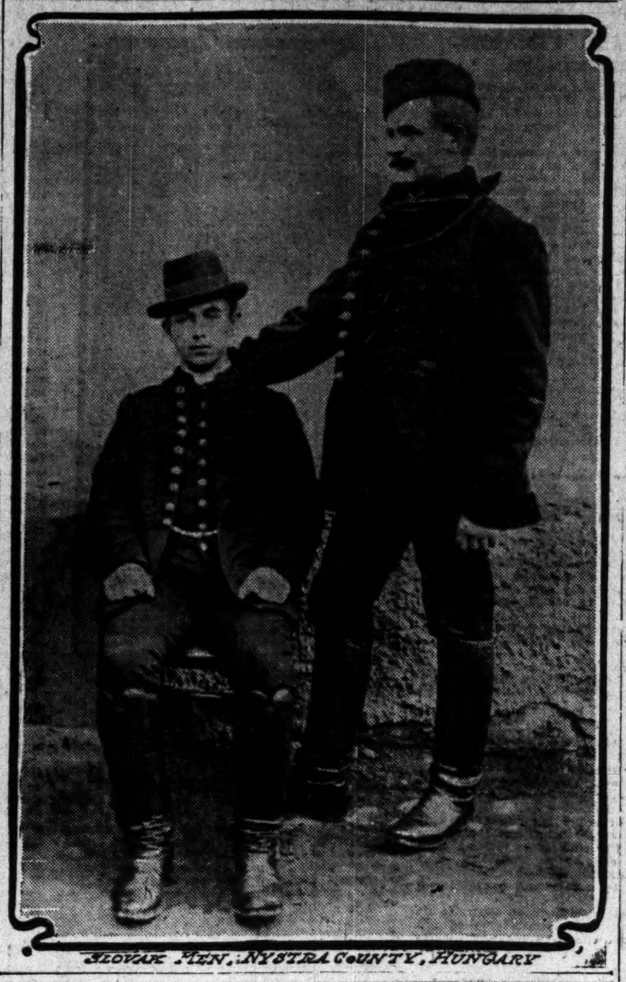

Hats Off to Station Master.

I went to the station master this morning to get a ticket vized. He glared at me a moment and told me to take off my hat. The demand was so unexpected that I did not understand him. He repeated it twice. I asked him what would happen if I did not take it off; he told me I wouldn't get my ticket vized. Barelegged peasant women are carrying three men, too. And goodness knows how many deadheads. It is curious how common carriers, like railroads, give to him that hath; the peasant pays full fare.

Then there is the load of the bureaucratic system. And in this, as in other items above enumerated, Hungary is not unique. Then there is the merchant class, nonproducing but apparently a necessary evil. All this nonproductive force, both as groups and individuals, sits astride the peasant's neck. The constitution of this parasite class is not at all in proportion to its profit.

Then there is the nobility, neither toiling nor spinning. As a rule, in debt, and most of them poor. If they would deal direct with the peasant, the latter would be much better off. But even here two or three middlemen must come in to make a fat living, leaving the peasant just enough for seed corn. It seems incomprehensible. Why does a huge majority allow an insignificant minority to forcefully dividing up the land among themselves and telling the other fellow to work, not for themselves, but for the

REVOLT SMOLDERS IN SPAIN

Reflex Influence of Portuguese Rebellion Worries Officials.

PUT DOWN DEMONSTRATIONS

Republicans and Socialists Plan Big Celebration Soon.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

MADRID, Oct. 11.—Notwithstanding the government's profession of disbelief in the reflex influence of the Portuguese revolution in Spain, it is unquestionable that the situation is causing much uneasiness.

Several isolated demonstrations of sympathy with the Portuguese Republicans were suppressed by the police, but a movement now has been started by the Republican and Socialist members of the cortes for gathering on a large scale to celebrate the establishment of a republic in Portugal, and this is causing the government much concern.

Date Favored Oct. 16.

The date at present favored by the organizers for the gathering is Oct. 16. It is the consensus of opinion that the government will forbid it.

General uneasiness was reflected on the bourse today. There was a marked depression in prices.

A violent clash took place in the streets at Valencia today betwen republicans and members of the Catholic club. Many persons were injured and the police had to separate the combatants.

Refugees Arrive in Spain.

Spanish monks and nuns who have fled from Lisbon are arriving at Vigo, Padajos, and other points on the frontier. At Padajos, upon the order of the bishop, the nuns are succored at the Carmelite convent.

Owing to pending legislation affecting the religious orders the influx of refugees is embarrassing to the Spanish government. Premier Canalejas said today the government was moved with pity to receive the exiled but that a permanent invasion could not be tolerated.

Body Found Sewed in Sacks.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 11.—With the skull crushed, the body of Frank Reidel, a watchmaker, 54 years old, was found sewed up in sacks in the old basin canal late today.

BRAGA FOR VOTES FOR WOMEN

President of Portugal in Favor of Universal Suffrage.

BRAZIL GIVES RECOGNITION.

Lisbon Again Tranquil; Few Troops Seen on Streets.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LISBON, Oct. 11.—President Braga favors the establishment of woman suffrage in Portugal.

He reiterated today the provisional government's intention of administering affairs only until it is able to hand over control to a properly elected assembly. He added that the assembly would be elected by universal suffrage and that he saw no reason why women should not vote as well as men, they being equally interested in the nation's well being.

Brazil Recognizes Republic.

The official announcement was made tonight that Brazil has recognised the republic of Portugal.

Although the city remains under martial law pending a reorganization of the administration, the soldiers gradually have been withdrawn from the streets. Hardly any were to be seen today.

The people have resumed their business occupations and tranquility prevails. Several churches were reopened this morning.

The government has announced that the Irish dominican fathers and nuns, who have conducted a school here for many years, will be exempt from the order of expulsion. This step, doubtless, is due to the desire of the republicans to keep on good terms with Great Britain.

The minister of the interior, Antonio Almeida, questioned regarding the disposal of the king's property, said nothing had yet been decided upon officially. All the palaces were closed and guarded. They probably would be converted into museums or schools, or used for other public purposes.

King George Sends Yacht.

GIBRALTAR, Oct. 11.—It is announced that King George has ordered the British royal yacht Victoria and Albert to proceed to Gibraltar to embark King Manuel and the Queen Mother Amelie.

KAISER PRAISES AMERICAN GIFTS

Lauds Rockefeller and Pearsons for Aid They Have Given Schools.

HADLEY IS A SPEAKER.

Fund of $2,500,000 Is Raised by Emperor to Help University of Berlin.

BY FREDERIC W. WILE.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—One of the greatest gatherings of learned men from all parts of the world today attended the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the University of Berlin. These men were joined by the royalty and members of the diplomatic and official life of Germany.

America took a large part in the celebration. Not only was Dr. Hadley, president of Yale university, one of the principal speakers in the celebration but the progress of America in educational affairs was one of the leading topics of the day.

The munificence of John D. Rockefeller and D. K. Pearsons in endowing the University of Chicago and other American institutions of learning was the chief inspiration of the kaiser in inducing the German millionaires to provide a $2,500,000 fund which his majesty was enabled to announce today. The fund is practically the first money ever privately raised in the fatherland for educational purposes. It will be devoted to the establishment of institutes of scientific research, a field wherein the German university long has been lacking.

How Kaiser Raised Gifts.

The generosity of Mr. Rockefeller, Mr. Pearsons, and other American philanthropists has long been followed with the keenest interest by the kaiser. He has not concealed his disappointment that the German millionaires never have seen fit to follow in the footsteps of their fellow plutocrats in the United States.

About a year ago the kaiser decided to begin prodding his well fixed subjects, with a view to encouraging them to loosen up on the American lines. He instructed the imperial press clipping bureau to keep him well supplied with tidings of every fresh Rockefeller or Pearsons benefaction. Then the kaiser would seize on favorable occasions to call these suggestive bits of transatlantic intelligence to the attention of his wealthy friends.

Gradually the latter began to "tumble." A multimillionaire manufacturer named Koppel started the ball rolling with $150,000. Others followed suit with subscriptions ranging between $25,000 and $100,000. The list grew from month to month at such a rate that the kaiser found it possible to make the University of Berlin on its hundredth birthday a present of the richest dowry ever collected in continental Europe for educational purposes.

Kaiser Tells of Needs.

The kaiser said this gift would enable the university to take up a work in which hitherto it has been lacking. Natural science investigation, he said, had not kept pace with the literary and other scholarly developments at the university, and it was essential to create institutions where specialized scientific investigators could work freed of the burden of teaching. The emperor read his address from a manuscript handed him by the Prince of Bavaria.

Preceding the emperor's address the representatives of foreign universities spoke in turn, congratulating the university body on the long period of usefulness which the institution has enjoyed. President A. T. Hadley of Yale spoke for the American delegation. He dwelt upon the debt which the United States owes to German scholarship and told of the excellent results from the international exchange of professors. Dr. Hadley spoke in German.

Lord Strathcona of Montreal university extended the felicitations of Great Britain and the colonies. Then followed the representatives of other nations. The presentation of the Oxford and Cambridge delegations was greeted with loud applause.

NOTES FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

SANTIAGO, Cuba—A severe earthquake was felt here. Great alarm was caused, but no damage was done.

LONDON—It is probable the trial of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen and Ethel Clara Leneve for the murder of Belle Elmore, will be opened on Monday. In presenting the case to the grand jury the recorder said he considered it doubtful if Miss Leneve knew at the time that a murder had been committed.

LONDON—The Duke of Connaught, accompanied by the duchess and the Princess Victoria Patricia, has left for South Africa, where he will open the first parliament of the union of South Africa on Nov. 4.

ROME—The pope has given an audience to United States Senator Frank P. Flint of California.

Tries to Break Mother's Will.

Suit to set aside the will of Mrs. Sarah Salinger, who died June 21, 1910, leaving an estate valued at from $50,000 to $75,000, was filed in the Circuit court yesterday by Toby Goldstein, a son, who was bequeathed $100 and who charges that undue influence was practiced by Morris Goldstein, another son, upon his mother.

O'CONNOR EXPECTS HOME RULE

Irish Leader Says Cause Will Win Within Short Time.

SEES FRIEND IN ASQUITH.

Stand of Laurier Also Praised During Winnipeg Visit.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—T. P. O'Connor, Irish leader, believes home rule is nearly in the grasp of Ireland.

"Ireland may get home rule at any moment now," he said, when he arrived in Winnipeg today. "This is the way nearly all reforms come, and especially Irish reforms. For instance, landlordism, which was the most powerful of all agencies we had to fight, seemed impregnable and at its strongest within two years of the passage of the land act of 1881. But one day the people woke up and found that landlordism had gone. It will be the same with home rule for Ireland. It may come within a year."

Expects Much from Asquith.

Asked if he expected more from Premier Asquith of the Liberal party than from ex-Premier Balfour of the Unionists party, Mr. O'Connor replied:

"Yes, I expect more from Asquith than from Balfour, but it is not difficult to see the remarkable change which has come about in the ranks of the Unionists in regard to home rule. If the Tory party were in the position of dependence on the Nationalist vote it would not be too much to expect home rule even from them."

Mr. O'Connor expressed his admiration of Sir Wilfred Laurier's stand on the question.

"The premier of the dominion," he said, "made the strongest home rule pronouncement yet made. There is one thing respecting my tour in Canada which I think is worthy of note.

Views on Imperialist Question.

In reply to a question as to what sort of imperialist he was, Mr. O'Connor said:

"I am in favor of the delegation of all local business to local legislatures, and that principle applies equally to England, Ireland, and Wales. I am in favor also of consigning the imperial house of parliament to imperial affairs. How far that imperial parliament should have representation from the colonies is one of the problems that is not solved, and I do not wish to pronounce any particular opinion, but I am convinced that the imperial parliament is destroying its efficiency by trying to do imperial and local work simultaneously."

IRISH ENVOYS ARRIVE MONDAY.

Final arrangements for the entertainment of the Irish envoys, John E. Redmond, Joseph Devlin, and Daniel Boyle, were made at a meeting of the Irish Fellowship club at the Congress hotel last night.

The envoys will arrive in the city next Monday morning. A banquet will be given at the La Salle hotel in the evening at which they will speak. On next Tuesday afternoon a reception will be given at the Congress hotel. In the evening a massmeeting will be held at Orchestra hall at which Judge Richard S. Tuthill will preside.

Archbishop James E. Quigley has signified an intention of being present at the massmeeting and says he will give a subscription to the cause the envoys are working for.

GAIN BY JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN.

Former British Leader May Be Able to Resume His Place in Parliament After Ill Health.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—According to a correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, Joseph Chamberlain's health is so much improved that there is a possibility he may again sit and speak in parliament.

CHOLERA DEATH IN ENGLAND.

Man Taken from One of Rowton Houses Expires in Public Hospital in London.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The first case of Asiatic cholera has appeared in England. A man who lived in one of the Rowton houses, a series of "poor man's hotels," died in a public hospital on Friday.

Our Distinctive Pieces of Bohemian Glass Have a Curious Story

The plain blown shapes are transported in baskets on the backs of women, sometimes fully twenty-five miles, to the homes of the decorators in the mountains of Bohemia.

These decorators are the descendants of decorators for generations—their skill is inherent. Often they reproduce designs of old-time artists from masterpieces of glass now in old world museums; often they originate new effects.

Our recent importations contain many decorations of both kinds. And one who appreciates the human endeavors represented by every piece of this glass never fails to prize it above its intrinsic worth. Second Floor.

In the Society World

MRS. JOSEPH BURDETTE WOODRUFF, 2317 Indiana avenue, will not give her daughter, Miss Helen Woodruff, a formal presentation this year, although Miss Woodruff will enter society informally. Mrs. Woodruff and her daughters went to England shortly after the debutante's graduation from Mrs. Loring's school in June and but recently returned.

Miss Dorothy Leslie, daughter of George H. Leslie of the Virginia, will be presented to society at a large dinner-dance to be given by Mr. Leslie on the evening of Friday, Nov. 18, at the Virginia. Mr. Leslie, Miss Leslie, and Miss May Peabody left yesterday for Virginia Hot Springs to spend a short time.

The Evanston King's Daughters have announced a musical for Tuesday evening, Oct. 18, at 8:15, at the Congregational church, which is to be a benefit for the organization's new home. The home was opened on July 1 and represents an investment of $4,500. During the fifteen weeks of its existence it has sent 154 girls on a summer's outing, the group representing eighteen different nationalities gathered from the settlements of Chicago. Seventy of the girls were under 18 years of age and none of them could have had an outing this last summer had it not been for the Evanston society. The cost of running the home nears $300 for the season, including the repairs, and the musical is arranged to add to the general maintenance fund.

The membership of the King's Daughters includes a large group of the well known Evanston maids and matrons and the musical will be much of a society as well as charity and musical event. Mrs. James H. Van Vlissengen has charge of the program, which is to be given by Alexander Saslavsky, Mrs. Mabel Sharpe Herdien, Mrs. John R. Lindgren, and Miss Grace Ericson, and the ushers for the evening will be Mrs. E. E. Shutterly, Mrs. Fred Yard, Mrs. Arthur Burnham, Mrs. C. A. Vilas, Mrs. W. C. Danforth, Mrs. Lynn Williams, Miss Mabel Jones, Miss Esther Somerville, Miss Jane Hoge, and Miss Ella Moore.

Announcement has been made in New Haven, Conn., of the engagement of Miss Margaret Dean Trowbridge, daughter of Mrs. Frank Dean Trowbridge of that city, to A. Fletcher Marsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen Marsh, 5639 Washington avenue, Chicago. Mr. Marsh is a senior in Yale.

Mrs. Oswald Lockett Jr., 5309 Jefferson avenue, will be hostess at a small tea to be given on Saturday next. She will be assisted by Mrs. Warren Lamson, Mrs. Herbert Thwaite, and Miss Anna Lockett.

The Comedie Parisienne has announced its plans for its series of six modern French plays to be given at the Ziegfeld theater on the afternoons of Oct. 31 and 24, Nov. 27 and 28, Dec. 18 and 19, Jan. 29 and 30, Feb. 26 and 27, and March 26 and 27. The patronesses include Mrs. Arthur Aldis, Mrs. Edward Ayer, Mrs. Burdette Barnes, Mrs. Arthur Bissell, Mrs. Fannie Bloomfield-Zeisler, Mrs. George Birkhoff, Mrs. Harry Channon, Mrs. R. T. Crane Sr., Mrs. M. Dreyfus, Mrs. Leroy Fuller, Mrs. Charles Hamotin, Mrs. J. O. Hinkley, Mrs. H. H. Kohlsaat, Mrs. C. B. Kohl, Mrs. W. G. Lytton, Mrs. Levy Mayer, Mrs. Charles G. Reynolds, Mrs. Gustavus Swift, Mrs. James B. Waller, and Mrs. A. H. Wolf. Mrs. Paul Picard is at the head of the propaganda committee.

When Miss Marguerite Sherlock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Sherlock, 845 Belden avenue, formally is introduced to society on Nov. 19 the introduction will be a literal one. Miss Sherlock will gaze for the first time upon life of which she has heard and read but life of which she knows practically nothing.

Miss Sherlock, who is 20 years of age, has had none but women for her tutors, her dancing and her music lessons were given by women teachers, and her only associates have been girls. Never has she gone to a dance or party in the company of a boy, and she has never had a young man caller. She always has had a chaperon wherever she has gone.

This was the idea of her mother, and Mrs. Sherlock has given much of her time to the care of her daughter. She made a chum of her, but was her constant chaperon.

Miss Sherlock's coming out party will be in the form of a dinner at the Blackstone.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Tobey, 6143 Ellis avenue, will hold an informal reception on Friday next in celebration of their fiftieth anniversary.

Miss Marjorie Powell was the chief guest at a dinner given Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Willett, 207 East Chestnut street. During the evening Miss Powell gave a program of dances which included an original characterization of "The Firefly" and a Hungarian dance set to Brahms' music.

Mrs. Lulu Graham Lomas, 1909 Monroe street, will give a musical at her residence tomorrow evening. She will be assisted by Miss Bernice Chapman and Horace Vernon Chapman.

Mrs. William C. Grant and Miss C. A. Baker have returned to their Lake avenue residence after having spent eight months sightseeing in South America. Mrs. Grant and Miss Baker are famous travelers. They had been in Chicago but a short time after their return from around the world when they left in January for South America. This last journey covered more than 16,000 miles and included visits to Brazil, the Argentine Republic, over the Andes into Chile, through Tierro del Fuego, the straits of Magellan, and to most of the important points. Rio de Janeiro, according to Mrs. Grant, "is the most beautiful city in the world." Mrs. Grant and Miss Baker will remain in Chicago until some time next month, when they will leave for California to spend the winter.

William de Burgh Whyte of New York, fiancé of Miss Geraldine Vaux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Vaux, 1436 Astor street, is in Chicago to spend a week.

Mrs. Florence C. Hutchinson has returned from a three months' trip to Wisconsin and Michigan.

Miss Eloise Sherin of New York City is visiting Miss Mary Chapin Glenn, 1131 Forest avenue, Evanston. Miss Sherin and Miss Glenn attended school together at Mount Vernon seminary, Washington.

Mrs. A. W. Kimball and Miss Marjorie Kimball, 502 Lake street, Evanston, have returned from a six months' trip to Europe.

Miss E. Blanche Hetrick of Seattle left for her home Tuesday, after having visited in and around Chicago for the last ten weeks. While here she was the guest of Mrs. Charles Newhall of Wheaton; Miss S. Ethel Stimson, 3006 Michigan avenue, and Miss Laura May Robinson of Oak Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice L. Rothschild, 3725 Michigan avenue, have returned after a three months' auto tour through Europe.

Miss Helen McRae of Detroit is the guest of Miss Katharine and Helen Crowell, 5816 East End avenue.

The wedding of Miss Olive Elizabeth Maypole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Maypole, 3501 Jackson boulevard, to Fred Schukraft took place at the family residence at 8:30 o'clock last night, the Rev. Dr. Frank G. Smith officiating.

The marriage of Miss Irene Hill, daughter of Henry Hill of Austin, to William Henry Hollister of Oak Park took place Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock, only the near relatives of the bride and bridegroom attending.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hudson Damsel, 1632 Sheridan road, Evanston, who have been in New York the last six weeks, are expected to return about the middle of this month.

Woman and Her Interests.

Just Between Us Girls.

BY SISTER MARY.

Dear Sister Mary: I have been an interested reader of your valued information contained in articles of "The Tribune." Now I, like all the others, would like a little advice.

I am nearly 20 years of age and know quite a number of men and have had several "beaux." But, strange as it may seem, I do not care for any of them. But there is one boy for whom I care a great deal, but am uncertain as to whether he likes me. When we are together he could not possibly be more nice to me, and he acts as if he cared for me. But he never calls me up or asks me to go any place with him. My chum tells me that it is because I am too stiff with him. Please tell me what I can do to find out whether or not he is fond of me, or whether you think it is good to be "stiff" with men. MISS ANXIOUS.

NOW that is what I call a real sweet, girlish letter from a real sweet girl.

She likes him, but she is so genuinely modest and womanly that she wouldn't for the world have him suspect it.

So she becomes quite unnaturally cold and shy with him.

Well, my dear, I don't really believe you're in love with him, and I'll tell you why.

In the first place, you're too young.

A girl who isn't 20 is hardly capable of understanding or feeling a truly big and lasting love. So, this being the case, don't take your state of mind too seriously.

Now as to being stiff with men, let me say this: It is a great deal better for all concerned than to be too familiar.

To many girls adopt a boisterous hail fellow well met style of speech and manner when they are with young men, and it is not well bred and not refined.

A little shyness and coldness and modesty would be far more interesting to the average man.

He would say to himself, "There's a girl who's worth while."

Don't be worried about your "stiffness."

And about this particular young man, who is always nice to you when you meet and yet never pays you any special and particular attentions.

Why not encourage him a bit?

Perhaps he, too, is suffering with shyness.

Men have been known to do so, though I'll admit that the cases are rare.

Why not give a candy pulling or some other little party some evening quite soon, and ask your chum and another girl or two and the men that they like best, and invite this young man, too.

When he comes don't be conscious or overattentive to him, but let him see that you are trying to make every one in the crowd have a good time.

Make your taffy and pull it in the good old fashioned way. You might pop some corn and make pop corn balls, too, and insist that everyone help at the work. Then have a little spread of sandwiches and chocolate—nothing elaborate.

Of course after this the young man will have to pay his party call, and there is your opportunity to get better acquainted with him.

It is just possible that you wouldn't like him at all when you come to know him better, and it's also highly probable that you might find him all your fancy pictures him, and a pleasant friendship would inevitably follow.

Above all things, though, don't take the affair too seriously.

Remember that you are young and that you should have a long and happy girlhood before you begin to think of love or marriage.

Economical Housekeeping.

The Stuffed Pepper.

THE stuffed sweet pepper has been among the more aristocratic and exclusive of dishes in the minds of a great number of people, and its preparation a branch of fancy cooking; but there is no good reason for these notions, especially during this month, when peppers may be obtained for 5 cents a dozen, and a filling made of soup meat. At no time of year need stuffed peppers be regarded as a high luxury if they are made to serve as a substitute for meat.

As to the stuffing of the pepper, it may be of fish or meat or rice. If for a salad the stuffing will be of tomatoes, onion, celery, and a little of the pepper. At certain times of year this salad may be expensive.

One of the frisky cookbook makers, though the finest of cooks, adds to her elaborate recipe for stuffed bell or green peppers, "to be served with a fan." Certainly, if a seed or two happens to get in, but otherwise the fan is superfluous, as is the ice water. Her stuffing for the peppers is made up of white onion, ripe tomatoes, yolks of eggs, melted butter, a little minced cold lamb, tops of pepper chopped nne, a little stale bread, and salt and pepper. After the peppers are filled she bakes them half an hour. From such a list of ingredients it is easy to see how many variations there might be in the stuffing.

Stuffed Peppers, Cream Sauce.—Remove the meat from the soup bone and free it from every particle of gristle. Grind or chop it fine. To two cupfuls of this meat add one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper, one teaspoonful of onion juice, one-half cupful of sweet milk, one tablespoonful of butterine melted and mixed with two tablespoonfuls of flour or one heaping tablespoonful of bread crumbs. Mix well together over the fire till hot and then set aside while preparing the following: Remove the stems and seeds of six large, sweet green peppers. Put the peppers into boiling water for ten minutes. Remove from the water and fill with the meat. Place in a baking dish, meat uppermost, and add a little water to prevent burning. Bake in the oven for twenty minutes. Cream sauce: To one cupful of milk add one-half teaspoonful of salt and one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper. Place over the fire and let it come to a boil, then drop in a roux made of one tablespoonful of butterine and two tablespoonfuls of flour. Stir over the fire until it thickens. Serve with peppers.—Mrs. H. B. McClellan, Louisville, Ky.

Stuffed Green Peppers.—Boil four fresh peppers until tender, then cut out stems and seeds. Grind meat that was cut from soup bone. Cook meat and half a cupful of rice until well done. Season well with salt and put into the peppers. Put into pan with just enough water to keep peppers from burning on the bottom. Bake for fifteen minutes.—Mrs. O. F. Wilson, Rockford, Ill.

Stuffed Peppers.—Peppers, rice, meat from soup bone, tomato. Boil peppers five minutes in salted water. Stuff with one-half cupful of boiled rice, one tomato, one-fourth cupful of chopped meat, pepper and salt, and a teaspoonful of melted butter. Bake one-half hour.—S. T. Connor, Burlington, Ia.

Ed. Howe Says.

[From the Atchison Globe.]

It is generally believed that drunkards have an unconquerable appetite for whisky. Doc Robinson, the Atchison town drunkard, denies it, and we have heard other drinking men say they do not long for whisky as much as they long for tobacco. Asked why he drank, since he does not care for whisky and despises the taste of it, Doc Robinson said to a reporter today: "I don't know, except that I get to feeling good, and have money. When I am sober I always have money. And when I am sober I have good health. Then the first thing I know I am drunk and in jail, with all my money gone." Doc Robinson says that when he is drinking he does not care for food; that he eats a can of cove oysters occasionally, but never longs for a full meal; that it makes him sick to pass a restaurant. Doc Robinson was born in Kentucky fifty-eight years ago, according to his story. His father was a small planter and owned slaves. Doc had a common school education and spent two years and a half at a veterinary college in Montreal, Canada. For forty years he hasn't slept in a house. During all sorts of weather he sleeps in a shed near Eighth and Commercial streets. Beyond his drinking he has no bad habits; people generally speak well of him, except that he is a drunkard. And when he is drinking he isn't particularly offensive. When he is sober (and he has remained sober five weeks at a time), he eats four or five meals a day. He never worries about anything, which may account for the fact that he is a hearty man in spite of his dissipation.

We haven't heard ghosts mentioned for months. Don't people believe in them any more?

A busy man talks less than one who has little to do. Another argument in favor of industry.

A girl should never show her elbow; a girl's elbow looks as tough as the bottom of a girl's heel.

A woman, carrying a heavy suitcase and a big fat baby, stopped at a news counter today for something to read while getting her baby to sleep. She picked up a woman's magazine and opened it at an article headed: "It Is Vital That Every Woman Should Retain a Perfect Figure." It was a well written article, much of this stuff is, and she was so influenced by its logic that she dumped the baby on the bench, dropped the suitcase beside it, and walked off with head high, shoulders erect, and abdomen drawn in. Some minutes later a meek looking man hurried in, picked up the baby and suitcase and walked out again. Undoubtedly, somewhere outside he had met his wife and she had convinced him.

It is possible for a man to be able to quote poetry without being able to do much else.

Seven-tenths of the men who work for wages, and all the women, believe they are abused by their employers.

We suppose it is difficult for reporters to get news in big cities; but, in small towns, when anything happens, the people concerned bring it to the reporters—and ask them to keep it out.

Music and the Drama.

News of the Theaters.

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

MR. ROBERT HILLIARD'S performance of "A Fool There Was" is again available to the theatergoers of this neighborhood, McVicker's being the scene of its reappearance. It is no doubt remembered that the play is a semi-supernatural treatmment of the story of an evil lady and a weak man who follows her to destruction. Mr. Hilliard is, of course, this unfortunate—a rôle which permits him to appear debonair, well groomed, and happy in the first act, and haggard, wretched, and hysterically emotional in the others. It is an effective exhibition. Aiding Mr. Hilliard in delivering the sermon is Miss Virginia Pearson as the vampirish seductress. In appearance Miss Pearson is very red of lips, very white of skin, and very reptilian of gesture, but otherwise her impersonation is more like that of the prim preceptress of an infant class. Other actors in the cast are as good as those of last season, Miss Stella Archer and Miss Winifred Burke playing conventional rôles gracefully, and Mr. Berton Churchill as the noble friend giving a particularly forceful picture of that grateful character. Mr. Churchill's outburst of indignation in the second act is quite the sanest thing of its kind this writer has seen in many a night's going to the theater.

Mr. Henry Arthur Jones has written or is writing another one act play. It is called "Drill the Rascals" and its moral purpose is to excite sympathy for "universal military service."

In London Mr. Vedrenne follows the thoughtful example of Sir Herbert Tree and begins his first performances an hour earlier than usual. The object is to oblige the dramatic critics who find it difficult to review a play in the scant period between the fall of the curtain and the time of going to press.

Mr. Lew Fields makes known his intention to produce a new musical comedy named "The Lavender Widow."

"I have in my desk," says Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, "a one act play that I wrote some time ago. If it is ever produced it will have to be at my own expense. The cost of production would prevent it ever being accepted by any manager, and I'm afraid it would frighten the most experienced of stage carpenters. I call it 'The Lift.' The scene lies at the top of the Eiffel tower. All the characters must ascend and descend in a regular working lift. Entrances are perpendicular instead of horizontal. The piece ends with a startling sensation—a terrific catastrophe."

Sir Arthur explains his decision to write no more plays by saying his limitations do not permit him to treat the deep matters of life dramatically.

In Mr. Butler Davenport's comedy "Keeping Up Appearances" the Messrs. Shubert have engaged Miss Zelda Sears, Miss Amelia Gardner, Miss Mabel Moore, and Mr. J. H. Benrimo.

Mr. Frohman plans to produce fifteen plays in the coming eleven weeks in Boston, New York, and Chicago.

The first to go into rehearsal will be a new domestic drama by Henry Bataille called "The Foolish Virgin." This play is by the author of "The Scandal," and, in a large measure, is of a diametrically opposite design to "The Scandal." In "The Foolish Virgin" the wife suffers for the indiscretion of the husband, and in "The Scandal" the husband meets public disgrace through the foolhardiness of his wife. The production of "The Foolish Virgin" will be followed by the presentation of a new comedy from the French called "The Marriage of Miss Bullman," by Mm. Fourson and Wicheler.

On Oct. 24 Mr. Frohman will produce Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's "The Speckled Band: An Adventure of Sherlock Holmes" at the Boston theater, Boston. At the same time a company of English and American actors of reputation will be organized for the performance of one of the old comedies, similar to last year's revival of "Caste."

With the rehearsal of these plays started, Mr. Frohman will next make a revival of Oscar Wilde's comedy "The Importance of Being Earnest," which was last produced in America eight years ago and ran all last summer at the St. James theater, London. This will be followed by the presentation of Otis Skinner in Henri Lavedan's new play called "Sire." William H. Crane will be presented in George Ade's new comedy, "U. S. Minister Bedloe," and in the latter part of November Miss Marie Tempest will appear in New York in a new play by W. Somerset Maughan that is as yet unnamed.

Before the end of December Mr. Frohman will make the first production of a new play called "The Unknown Dancer," which he has had translated from the French of Tristan Bernard.

One of the most interesting facts contained in Mr. Frohman's announcement is the news that he now has ready almost for immediate production three new one act plays by J. M. Barrie which he intends to produce as a single evening's bill. These are called "A Slice of Life," "The Twelve Pound Look," and "Rosalind." Attached to the last named play is the interesting circumstance that it was written by Mr. Barrie last summer as a tribute to Miss Maude Adams, who was at that time giving a single performance of Shakspeare's "Rosalind" in the Greek theater of the University of California.

Simultaneously with the presentation of these plays Mr. Frohman will put into rehearsal a new musical play from Vienna called "The Doll Girl," which will be brought out at one of his New York theaters. In rapid succession will then follow Miss Ethel Barrymore's new play, Miss Billie Burke's reappearance in a new comedy in New York, and the return of Miss Annie Russell under Mr. Frohman's management in a new play which will have its first performance in a city adjacent to New York.

Chicago Norwegians in Play.

A two act comedy entitled "Gossip" and a comic opera in three acts entitled "The Bloody Wedding in Granada, or The Moor's Last Sigh," were given at Wicker Park hall last evening by the Norwegian club of Chicago. Mrs. Borgny Hammer, formerly of the National theater of Christiania and a leading Ibsen actress, and Rolf Hammer played the leading parts. The opera was sung by James C. Hansen, Anton Jaeger, Oscar Amundsen, and Cato M. Dahl. Members of the club made up the chorus.

Miss Pearson, who plays the vampire woman in "A Fool There Was," is a native of Louisville, where she was librarian of the Booklovers' association. She wrote short stories for the magazines and was also an illustrator. Her stage career began as a showgirl in Cohan's "Little Johnny Jones," and she gained dramatic training in a Washington stock company. Her first important engagement was in "The Stolen Story."

Vaudeville Gossip.

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.

MISS SALLIE FISHER comes back to her own Chicago this week, this time in vaudeville at the Majestic. Miss Fisher is claimed by Chicago in spite of the fact that she was born much nearer Cheyenne than Lake Michigan. But she studied music here, and here she rose from the chorus of a comic opera company to the ranks of the truly elect, otherwise known as prima donnas. This season she was caught in the dragnet of vaudeville, which seems to be able to scoop in anything from the operatic or legitimate fields it takes a fancy to. Miss Fisher is proudly regarded by vaudeville as the proudest catch of the season.

Miss Fisher's appearance last night was the signal for what came dangerously near to being an ovation. This celebrated event was supposed to have occurred on the opening night, but there seems to be enough of Miss Fisher's earnest admirers in Chicago to furnish her with the aforesaid ovation whenever she appears. She sings four songs, rather pretty songs, too, but not giving sufficient range or opportunity for a voice of unusual sweetness and power.

But Sallie Fisher probably could find soul qualities in "Casey Jones" if she were asked to sing it, and she sings the somewhat inconsequential airs that she includes in her vaudeville répertoire in a manner that caused the enthusiastic audience to recall her until she was tired out from bowing responses and the stage manager had worn out his pencil recording them.

Miss Fisher frankly says she loves vaudeville audiences, but she does not love the thing vaudeville itself. She says her purpose in forsaking the opera field this year and going into vaudeville was to gain the freedom that vaudeville performers are always fond of talking about. In a company, says Miss Fisher, one has to wear the gowns that the manager orders and sing the songs of the score. Miss Fisher declares she wants for once in her life to sing songs of her own selection and wear gowns that she herself picks out.

There may be some dispute as to who is best able to judge what songs prima donnas should sing, but those who saw Miss Fisher's dazzling gown will readily admit she is the best judge of what to wear on the stage.

For the benefit of our women readers it may be set down that this gown is white; satin, or silk or taffeta, or swiss mull, or something like that; anyhow, it's white with little gold doodads all over it and a red thimamajig that comes around the bottom of the skirt, and it's got a train. With this lucid description anybody can sit down and make a gown just like Sallie Fisher's. Anyhow it was a pretty gown, though as far as that is concerned Sallie Fisher is said by her earnest admirers to be able to wear a calico wrapper and a sunbonnet and sing in her young, rich, vibrant voice in such a manner that everything else is forgotten except the singer and the song.

While this is true, for the sake of her most devoted and enthusiastically admiring constituents in Chicago, while Miss Fisher is at all possible, sing one of her old songs that the said constituents used to and still love so much? If she would only persuade herself to sing "When You First Kiss the Last Girl You Love," most eminent piffle from an artistic standpoint, but "vur-ruh, vur-ruh sweet," as Mr. George Munroe would remark, and "vur-ruh, vur-ruh purty," she would cause immense joy to her Chicago clientele.

It would, perhaps, be asking too much to suggest to Miss Fisher that she sing "Dearie," the song that lifted her direct from the second row of the chorus to stellar prominence, but in spite of the fact that "Dearie" has been flat soprahoed, and graphophoned, and automatic pianoed to death, the song belongs exclusively to Sallie Fisher and she alone can sing it or has the right to sing it. If B. L. T. will be so good as to take "Dearie" out of the cannery for a few days, strong influence will be brought to bear to get Sallie Fisher to sing it. Then back for poor, beautiful, but long silent "Dearie" to the oubliette.

Will M. Cressy and Blanche Dayne give their popular little sketch, "Grasping an Opportunity," this week at the Majestic to add éclat to one of the best bills ever seen in vaudeville in Chicago. Mr. Cressy is an actor of the droll, whimsical kind, and no star of the legitimate can excel him in his own particular style of humor.

Mr. Cressy represents in his little play an old farmer who is called upon by a very dashing young woman book agent. She wants to get the farmer to consent to have his biography and picture in a new county history and sign a contract to pay $50 for the book. But the farmer is indifferent. He went to the city once and paid a dollar for a recipe, "how to make hens lay." The recipe said to feed the hens a solution of paris green, arsenic, and chloroform. Therefore the farmer was shy. But the agent coaxes the farmer to throw his arms around her neck, and presses a bulb that releases a camera shutter and takes the picture. The film is developed and the lady agent kindly offers the farmer his choice of paying $50 and having his own picture in the book or to have the hugging picture published free of all charge.

The farmer buys back the negative and prepares to drop it down the well. He puts it into a sack and looks for a brick to weigh it down. An idea seizes him and he rushes into the house and without a word returns lugging a beautiful gold brick, the relic of some other evil day. He pushes the gold brick into the sack above the photograph and then drops it down to the bottom of the well.

With everything good on the Majestic bill this week it's impossible to describe all, but a story of the performance would be a hopeless failure without at least a mention of an entrancingly hoydenish young person named Lillian Gonne, who plays the part of Sassy Little with Gus Edwards' "School Boys and Girls." If there is anything more diverting than Sassy Little on the vaudeville stage, he, she, or it has not yet appeared in Chicago.

Opera.

AT the rehearsal in the Auditorium theater this morning Cleofonte Campanini, general musical director of the Chicago Grand Opera company, will take charge of the orchestra of eighty pieces for the first time. The makers of melody on strings and brass who have been assembled in Chicago from all over the world have been together in rehearsal six times and the rough places have been worn off by the younger conductors who will assist throughout the season.

Campanini intends to put the Chicago orchestra through the scores of some of the heavier operas at once and by the end of the week hopes to tackle the intricacies of "Salome."

With his wife and twenty-five pieces of luggage the famous conductor arrived in Chicago yesterday and had not been in the city fifteen minutes before he began to bubble over with enthusiasm for the coming season.

"It has not been determined yet what operas will be presented in Chicago," he said. "Some of the greatest and some of the most popular you expect, of course. Such operas as 'Salome' and other innovations will be given as many times as the public demands."

Administrative Manager Dippel says the complete chorus would probably be assembled at the end of the week. Arrangements were made during the day for rehearsals of the ballet.

"The acoustics in the Auditorium theater now are the finest in the world," said Dippel. "I have sung in a great many countries and I never found one place so good."

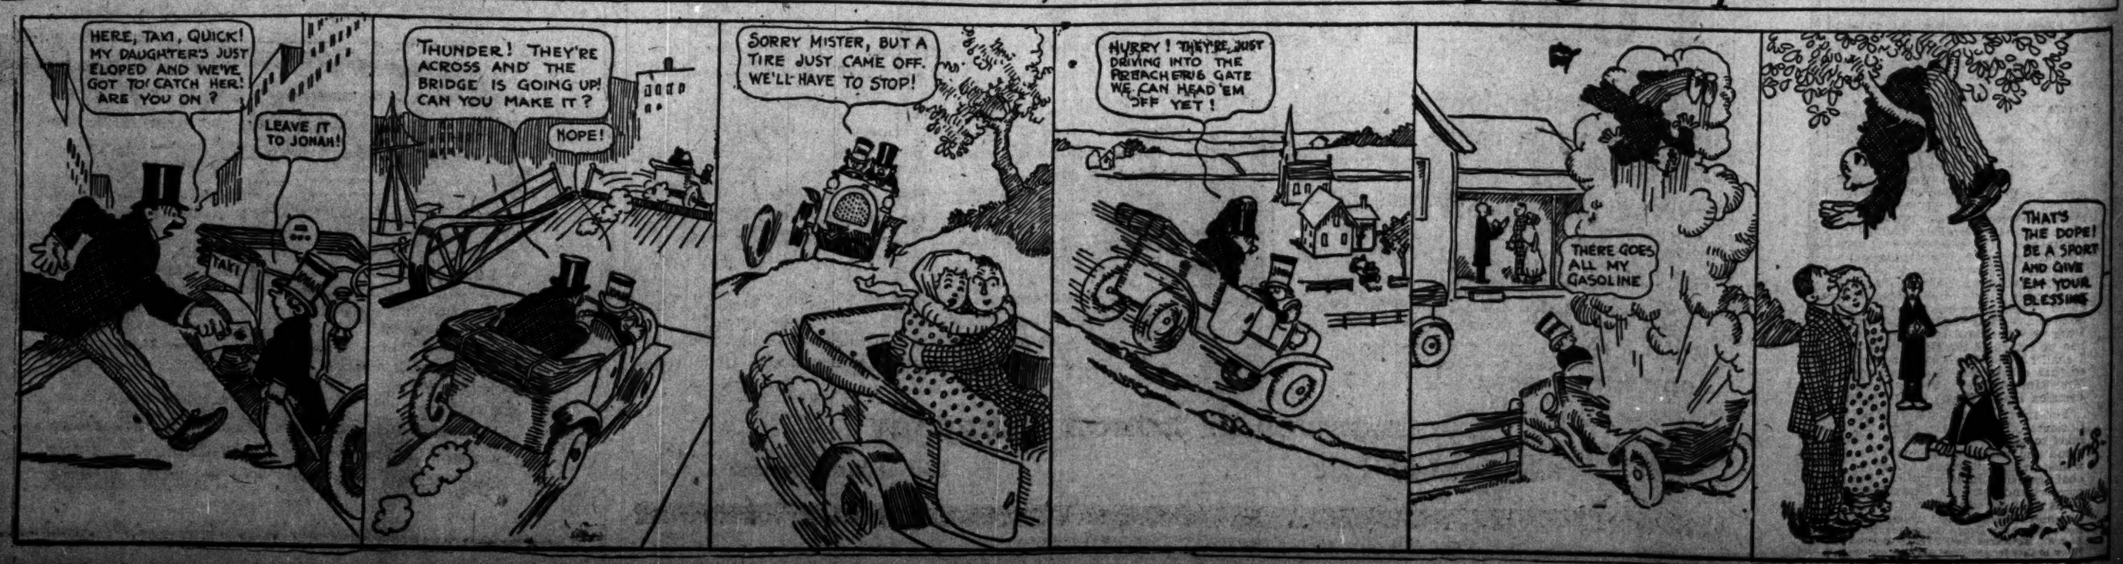

Books on the Drama.

To a large majority of the older playgoers of this city the name of Bronson Howard is one which is remembered with pleasure, and these persons may be glad to learn that a very interesting volume has been prepared in his memory—"IN MEMORIAM: BRONSON HOWARD, 1842-1908." It consist of the addresses delivered at the memorial meeting, Sunday, Oct. 16, 1908, held under the auspices of the American Dramatists' club, of which the playwright was the founder and president. There are in addition a brief biography, other appreciations, and records of Howard's dramatic works, including a list of his plays with the original casts. Augustus Thomas, Bliss Carman, Brander Matthews, and Charles Frohman are some of the better known men who were pleased to make public confession of their esteem for their deceased friend. Besides being interesting to those who know Howard's plays, the book reveals many different aspects of what must have been a charming personality.

Prof. Marco F. Liberma's "THE STORY OF CHANTECLER" (Moffat, Yard & Co.) is not a translation, and it does not claim to take the place of one, but in some respects it is almost as indispensable to a true enjoyment of the French play as is the libretto. It is, in fact, a critical analysis of the drama, and gives a succinct account of how the play came to be written, of some of the difficulties encountered before it was put upon the stage, how it was finally presented, and such other information as is of interest. The criticism and appreciation appear to be sympathetic. Indeed, one feels that by the reading of this small book he is better prepared to enjoy the play, whether he sees it from a seat in the playhouse or reads the text in his own home.

The object of "NEIGHBORHOOD ENTERTAINMENTS," by Renee B. Stern, is to give suggestions for the increase of sociability in rural life. Directions are given regarding the forming of improvement associations, women's clubs, amateur theatricals, special celebrations, and the playing of games, the work being admirably adapted to the purpose for which it was written. BOY PUPILS SENT BACK TO PARENTS

Judge Pinckney Temporarily Disrupts Campbell's School at Riverside.

LADS TELL OF ABUSE.

One Mother Says Children Should Cook and Scrub and Praises the Teacher.

Judge Pinckney of the Juvenile court yesterday disrupted the Riverside military school of John J. Campbell and turned all the boy inmates over to their parents, guardians, or probationary officers.

The case will not be disposed of finally until next Tuesday, when the defense will complete its testimony, but the court considered it prudent to remove all the lads from the jurisdiction of Campbell because of the stories of abuse on his part related by three of the boys. They said they were ill fed, compelled to sleep on the floor with scant bed clothing, and beaten on their bare bodies with a strap and hair brush.

Their stories were of the sensational order, but didn't appear to surprise the court near as much as the attitude of Mrs. Mabel Cook, 3717 Cottage Grove avenue, mother of Lee and Carmen Wider, two of the boys formerly under the care of Campbell. Not a bit of the testimony escaped the sharp ears of this woman, and yet she told the court she desired Campbell to retain the custody of her children, and that she allowed him to punish them whenever they needed it.

Asks Boy of Girl's Treatment.

The name of Minnie Cummins, 12 years old, was also brought into the case and the court questioned Paul Vanderkoik, one of the students, about her. She was an inmate when the institution was located at Western Springs.

"Was she whipped?" asked the court.

"I don't know, but she was always crying when she came out of Campbell's room," answered the boy.

Vanderkoik and Le Roy and Bruce Gardner, young sons of Police Sergeant John Gardner of Peoria, were the principal witnesses against Campbell. They were in the party that was raided at the Channahon camp last week.

"All the boys were forced to sleep on the floor in one room at the camp," testified Le Roy Gardner. "We did not have any quilts or blankets. Campbell told us that such a life would make good scouts of us. My brother Bruce was the chief cook. All the other boys went out for food. If we did not do as Campbell told us he beat us."

Bruce Gardner told the court of an alleged whipping received by Clarence Lange when he foraged for food. Lange was turned over to his mother, Mrs. Martha Strock, 3311 North Hoyne avenue.

"Campbell took me and two other boys into the bathroom and whipped us with a harness strap," testified Vanderkolk. "I was unconscious and alone on the floor when I recovered. Once Campbell got me to hold the feet of Sidney Mott while he laid him across the bathtub and beat him."

Peter White, 14 years old, was the first witness of the afternoon session.

"Were you ever punished?" asked the court.

"Yes, five or six times when I played 'rough house,'" answered the boy. "Campbell would take me to his room, remove part of my clothing, and beat me with a hair brush. The food suited me all right. We were crowded, but I had enough bed clothes."

Charges His Aid Was Asked.

Louis Wals, 14 years old, appeared much attached to Campbell, and created a considerable stir by declaring that Probation Officer Malum told him and several boys he desired their aid in breaking up Campbell's school. The court questioned the lad closely on this point, but his testimony could not be shaken. Malum denied the boy's charges. Wals declared the food was good, that all took a hand at preparing the meals, and that they had sufficient bed covering.

Carmen Wider admitted being spanked with a hairbrush, and when the court attempted to question the boy further along this line Mrs. Cook, his mother, broke in with: "I am perfectly satisfied. I made only two stipulations when I placed my boys with Mr. Campbell and they were that he should not beat them about the head or pull their ears. Otherwise he was privileged to spank them if they needed it."

"You heard these other witnesses testify, madam?" asked the court.

"Yes, I did, and I want to explain that the reason Lee didn't get along better was because he is too much of a 'cut up.' He won't study his lessons and that is the reason he is only in the second grade. I visited the school three times and the boys have spent Saturdays and Sundays with me and they never complained."

Willing Her Boys Should Scrub.

"Did you approve of them helping to cook and scrub?" the court asked.

"I certainly did. Why, they were compelled to scrub in the Juvenile home since the police raided the camp. I am of a practical frame of mind and believe my boys ought to know how to cook and clean because they might marry women who don't understand those things. My husband can cook and scrub."

"You certainly look at the practical side when you approve of somebody else whipping your children with a hair brush. Take the boys home with you and bring them back here next Tuesday," ordered the court.

Tagger Who Will Seek Aid on Monday for St. Mary's Settlement Nursery.

MISS ETHEL McCARTHY

Over 5,000 children will be cared for the coming year by St. Mary's Settlement nursery, 656 West Forty-fourth street, if the expectations of the women conducting the institution are realized on tag day next Monday.

Among those who will be one of the taggers to assist the collection for the waifs is Miss Ethel McCarthy.

The institution will have 100 taggers in all. The South End Center day nursery, 3212 Ninety-first street, also will endeavor to obtain additional funds through "tagging."

This nursery is caring for hundreds of children in South Chicago.

BOURNE DEFENDS OREGON REFORMS

Initiative Has Stopped 'Joker' in Legislative Enactments, Says the Senator.

RECALL DOOMS GRAFTING.

Impossible for Corrupt Officials to "Deliver the Goods" Under Law.

The signal success of Oregon's system of government, with its distinctive features of the initiative and referendum, recall, and corrupt practices act, was the keynote of an address last night by United States Senator Jonathan Bourne Jr. before the members of the Union League club.

The speech was similar to one Senator Bourne delivered before the senate a year ago, but it was the first occasion when Chicago's representative men had an opportunity to meet and hear the man classed as one of the founders of Oregon's progressive government.

"The great problem of the American people is to make their government representative," asserted Senator Bourne. "No man is possessed of natural authority, and government must be a matter of mutual agreement. The success and duration of popular government depends on responsibility and accountability, the responsibility of chosen representatives to do their work, and their accountability to the people if they fail in their trust.

"Free and Equal" Not Here.

"The Declaration of Independence, with its principle that 'all men are created free and equal,' is not established in this country. Many public officials secure and have secured their positions through rings backed by corporations with selfish interests to promote and special privileges to promulgate. But the people are awake, and subservience to the political boss is coming to an end.

"The initiative and referendum are the foundation of all truly representative government. When the people have the power to compel legislation which they desire and require, then unwise laws and special privileges will be defeated. The individual voter should take up the question aggressively with every candidate. It is a battle of ballots, in which lines must be clearly drawn, and the would-be political generals must be compelled to state clearly on which side of the line they stand.

"Our people will take a deeper interest in affairs of government, if they are directly responsible for their laws. When this ideal is achieved, general contentment will be established, and anarchy will be destroyed. Give the people power to legislate and they will develop the capacity to understand and the willingness to participate.

Bosses Fear Education.

"The enemies of popular government are not afraid the people will not understand how to vote—but they are afraid that they will understand too well. Measures submitted under the initiative cannot be emasculated by the lobbyist and jokers cannot be inserted. The referendum protects good legislation from blackmailing corporations.

"Corporations, newspapers, and legal Hessians have said that popular government is failing in Oregon. I say that the people will vote on thirty-two measures at the coming election and will vote more intelligently after four months' discussion than will the legislature in committee rooms and lobbies.

"The cost of the initiative and referendum has been three-fourths of a cent per capita in Oregon. An effort to repeal the system would be defeated overwhelmingly. The people have exercised most discriminating judgment, have passed good laws, and have defeated bad ones.

Check Grafting Legislators.

"They have made it impossible for grafting legislators to deliver the goods. They feel that they have received full value for the money that has been expended and they never were more prosperous. I believe that the people of Oregon and of every other state may be trusted to act honestly and intelligently on any legislation submitted to them."

At a business meeting which followed the banquet given to Senator Bourne, the club voted to retire shares to the amount of $235,000 of the Union League Auxiliary association, which holds title to the land on which the club building stands. The necessary funds will be raised by selling 250 life memberships to members between 30 and 55 years of age at $1,000 each.

FIND FOREST FIRE VICTIMS

Rescuers Recover 139 Bodies in the Burned District.

CRISIS NOW IS PASSED.

Eberhart to Take Personal Charge of the Relief Work.

Warroad, Minn., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—The estimate of the number of persons killed in the big forest fires now is placed at 150 to 200. Fire rangers report that they have recovered 139 bodies. Only sixty of these have been identified. Most of the victims were homesteaders near Baudette and Spooner.

Clementson, a small settlement ten miles east of Baudette, burned yesterday. Fires are working east along both sides of the Rainy river towards International Falls. The towns of Williams, Cedar Spur, Roosevelt, and Swift are safe. The fire at Longworth is worse. Warroad is safe. Zipple and Clear River have not been heard from.

Warroad is feeding many destitute people. Winnipeg has sent a car of food. Many are returning from here to Roosevelt safe. Refugees from Salol are still in town. Warroad is really the only safe place along the whole boundary. Warroad is facing the problem of feeding the refugees. Aid today was given to fourteen men five miles west, who had been fighting fires four days and whose food was gone.

Eberhart Is on Scene.

Bemidji, Minn., Oct. 11.—Gov. Eberhart arrived here on a special train and brought with him two cars of provisions and twenty-eight additional members of Company "K" of the state militia who are going to help in keeping order and distribute supplies. This train is speeding northward where help is needed.

Gov. Eberhart said that he had canceled all of his political engagements and would stay in the fire region for a week. Refugees are flocking into Bemidji and the opera house has been turned into headquarters for them. There they are being cared for by citizens.

Big Fire in Colorado.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—Another serious forest fire has broken out on the public domain, according to advices reaching the forest service tonight. The blaze is sweeping Big Chief mountain in Colorado. Fanned by a high wind, the flames are said to be advancing rapidly. Officials of the forest service are not certain as to the number of settlers within the fire zone, but have telegraphed for particulars.

The report of the fire came in a telegram from M. D. McEnery, chief of field division at Denver, Colo.

Mr. McEnery asked for an order authorizing the expense of fighting the flames, and this was promptly forthcoming.

BIG REAL ESTATE TRANSFER MARKS END OF DIVORCE CASE.

Property Worth $200,000 in Name of Mrs. Clara M. Reis Goes Back to Husband's Concern.

Chicago real estate valued at upwards of $200,000 was transferred yesterday as the final chapter in the divorce proceedings of Mrs. Clara M. Reis against William B. Reis, one of the wealthy citizens of San Francisco, where both reside.

The property in Chicago affected by the marital troubles of the Rieses is located at 4020-22, 4053, and 4103-05 Kenmore avenue, 4517-19 Pemberton avenue, 1524-26 East Sixty-sixth street, 5624-26 Calumet avenue, and 3028-30 Fulton street. All the property is improved with modern and up to date rental property.

Mrs. Reis is to receive $375 a month as her alimony, this having been agreed upon when it was found the Chicago property originally awarded her by the court was heavily mortgaged. It was in her name because it was the property of the Reis Estate company, which, being a foreign corporation, could not hold property in its own name in Illinois.

Mrs. Reis sued Reis, who is many years her senior, for divorce last January, She charged him with infidelity. The California court in giving her a decree also awarded her the custody of their 2 year old son. Mr. Reis did not contest the suit.

PECK'S LAWYER QUIZZES GIRL WHO IS SUING THE PROFESSOR.

Miss Quinn Refuses to Answer Many Leading Questions in Examination in New York.

New York, Oct. 11.—Miss Esther Quinn, who recently brought suit against Harry Thurston Peck, author and professor of Latin at Columbia university, for $50,000 for alleged breach of promise, was questioned today by counsel for Prof. Peck, who had obtained a court order for her examination before trial of the suit.

Miss Quinn was advised by her attorney, Daniel O'Reilly, to refuse to answer many leading questions put to her by Prof. Peck's lawyer, C. D. Francis. One question was as to how many engagements to marry she had had. Another was as to whether she had not had "a similar controversy" with a Wall street man past 50 years of age about ten years ago.

Miss Quinn testified that she knew George Graham Rice, who "seemed to be manager," she said, of the brokerage office of B. F. Scheftels & Co. before that office was raided by the federal authorities. Miss Quinn said she had been employed as a stenographer by the Scheftels company up to the time of the raid.

Hoarse, but Not from a Cold.

Andrew J. Graham, west side banker and Democratic possibility for mayor, was called to the telephone 346 times last evening to deny a report published in the afternoon, that he was "laid up" with a severe cold contracted while in New York City to meet Mrs. Graham, returning from Europe. He told inquirers that he never felt better in his life.

THE FEAR OF HUMBUG

Prevents Many People From Trying a Good Medicine.

Stomach troubles are so common and in most cases so obstinate to cure that people are apt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical, permanent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such pride themselves on their acuteness in never being humbugged, especially in medicines.

This fear of being humbugged can be carried too far, so far, in fact, that many people suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims made of a preparation so reliable and universally used as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary proprietary medicines, for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine, no secret is made of their ingredients, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive ferments, pure aseptic pepsin, the digestive acids, Golden Seal, bismuth, hydrastis and nux. They are not cathartic, neither do they act powerfully on any organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten thoroughly before it has time to ferment, sour and cause the mischief. This is the only secret of their success.

Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles, because they act entirely on the bowels, whereas the whole trouble is really in the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken after meals digest the food. That is all there is to it. Food not digested or half digested is poison, as it creates gas, acidity, headaches, palpitation of the heart, loss of flesh and appetite and many other troubles which are often called by some other name.

They are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents per package.

The Iron and Steel Department Store

The Commonwealth Edison Company supplies from its mains all of the electricity used for lighting and power in this immense plant

This model plant is interesting in that it presents the great advantages of buying electricity from Central Station in contrast to operating a private power plant.

Covering more than four city blocks; carrying the largest stock in the world of iron, steel, allied fittings and parts, also a stock of the various machines for fabricating steel, this is truly a great department store to the iron and steel industry.

A complete working equipment for shearing iron and steel to size is in full operation, comprising angle shears, coping machines, tube cutters, plate shears, friction saws, etc., each driven by an individual motor.

The equipment of twenty-six high-speed traveling cranes and two radial wall jib cranes, also the complete roller-table and hoist systems are all electrically driven.

Electrically lighted throughout, the lighting and motor installation represents approximately 2000 H. P. Yet there is not a single smoking chimney, so common to private plant operation, to belch forth obnoxious, damaging smoke. The entire supply of electricity is bought from Central Station—cheaper, more reliably constant, more conveniently and with greater safety than it could be made on the premises.

Users of power in large quantities should learn of our lately reduced rates on electricity in wholesale amounts. Central Station Service means a great saving in operating cost. It will pay any manufacturer to investigate.

HANDS CRACKED AND PEELED

Tried Many Remedies but Grew Worse —Impossible to Do Housework —Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

"About six years ago my hands began to crack and peel. I tried many remedies, but they grew worse all the time. At last they became so sore that it was impossible for me to do my housework. If I put my hands in water I was in agony; if I tried to cook, the heat caused intense pain. I consulted a doctor, but without the least satisfaction. After about a year of this suffering, I got my first relief when I tried Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. After using them for a week I found to my great delight that my hands were beginning to feel much better, the deep cracks began to heal up and stop running, and in a little while my hands were cured by using only one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. I am very thankful to say that I have had no return of the skin disease since. I shall be glad if you will publish this so that others may know of Cuticura. (Mrs. Minnie Drew, 23 Danforth St., Jamaica Plain, Mass., April 20, 1910."

For thirty years Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have afforded speedy relief to tens of thousands of skin-tortured and disfigured sufferers from eczemas, rashes, itchings, irritations and chafings, from infancy to age, bringing comfort and peace to distracted households when all else failed.

Cuticura Remedies are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston. 32-p Skin Book free.

THE LATEST SCREAM IN APARTMENTS.

No one has yet solved the problem of the fourth dimension, but certainly a prize is deserved by a Chicago builder, who has come as near to the solution as can be hoped for any one on this old orange shaped ball of ours. It is in connection with the adjustment of human beings in modern apartments. By leaving your wife's hat in a garage built for that purpose in the basement, he proposes to squeeze a small family into a three room apartment.

After the meal is cooked the gas range disappears upon the back porch. The dining table unfolds out of a wall space, a section of tall wainscot lets down and becomes the bottom of a folding bed. All you see of the piano is the keyboard against a wall. So much is furnished with the apartment that all you need bring with you is your clothing. By not yawning or stretching your arms this apartment must be quite habitable, but in case it becomes necessary to change your mind you might have to go out into the hallway, as is the case at present.

THE LAKE STREET BRIDGE.

About a year ago the municipal authorities were notified by the war department that the Lake street bridge was an obstruction to navigation. The city was given until the end of this year to remove it. There being no signs of activity, the war department has reminded the city officials of its order and of the fact that a failure to comply will mean a fine of $5,000 a month.

What does the council intend to do, and what are the plans of the Chicago and Oak Park elevated road which uses the Lake street bridge? When the order was first given the managers of the elevated road announced that they were looking for and hoped to find some other way of getting across the south branch and reaching the loop. If they have found it they have not made the discovery public.

The city council cannot with a good grace fail to obey an order whose object is the betterment of navigation in the river. The removal of the bridge will be a serious temporary interference with surface traffic. It will be a sad affair for the patrons of the elevated road, who will have to leave the cars at Canal street. They cannot ask the city to pay a fine of $5,000 a month in order that their trips to the loop may not be interrupted.

Will the Chicago and Oak Park road supplement its abbreviated line with a bus service?

TRUE AND BOGUS LOYALTY.

The vigorous address with which the governor opened the Republican campaign contained some remarks upon party loyalty. Taken, as they should be taken, with direct reference to the conditions prevailing in the Lorimer-Shurtleff legislative session, they are just and timely. There was no party loyalty at that session. There was nothing but a nefarious trading of votes for personal nonpartisan profit—an absolute defiance of any claims of party loyalty whatsoever.

But what shocks the people in the notorious session of 1909 is not party treason but treason to the people. That treason in this particular case was accomplished through open revolt against party. But it is not always accomplished so.

The trouble with mere generalized appeals for party loyalty lies in the fact that they are so frequently made by men who represent a specific organization of the party that has proved untrue to the interests of the party and is losing the support of the people who compose the party and are, in fact, the party. What Gov. Deneen means to praise is real loyalty to the party, to its principles and pledges as definitely proclaimed in the platform, and to the organization which in good faith is seeking to fulfill them. There is no danger to this sort of loyalty in the direct primary reform. But there is danger to the bogus variety. That is why THE TRIBUNE is for the direct primary.

NOW GET TO WORK.

The council has paved the way for the taking over and reconstruction by the Chicago Railways company of the Consolidated Traction lines. This action will be hailed with delight by all who depend on those lines for transportation. They are in shocking condition. Poor roadbeds, light rails, and rattletrap cars combine to make travel on them both unpleasant and unsafe. Now everything is to be made over. Passengers will gain in comfort and safety. The value of property traversed by the Consolidated Traction lines will advance. Street improvements which have had to be deferred can be made.

There would have been more cause for rejoicing if the ordinance under which these things will come about had been passed two months ago. Then the work of rehabilitation would have been going on in many streets. But that unfortunate delay should spur on the Chicago Railways company and the board of supervising engineers. The lines which are in the greatest need of reconstruction should be taken in hand at once and the work pushed until extreme cold weather shall compel the workmen to stop. This is due the people in the suburbs who have had to put up with indecent transportation facilities so long.

There has been some railing at the ordinance passed Monday night. It is unjust. The ordinance is the best of its kind—the fairest to the city—that ever got through the council. It is a successful attempt to undo some of the mischief Yerkes wrought—to straighten out one of the snarls in which he had tangled up the traction system of Chicago.

Now the council, rid of all surface traction troubles, can attack the subway problem and the elevated loop question.

HEADING OFF "THE WIDOW."

Reference has been made to evidence of spite and hatred in men's wills. A sense of humor is still rarer in last testaments, but that of the late John B. Luther of San Francisco must be remembered as an exception. Mr. Luther, being compos mentis and otherwise feeling tiptop, remarks in his will that, although he never was married and never had any children, he has noticed the facility with which sworn testimony may be procured in support of the claims of alleged widows and adopted children; he therefore makes express provision that $5 shall be paid to any woman who can prove that she is his widow, and the same sum to any person who shall be proved to be his child by birth, adoption, or acknowledgment. But that is all that widow or child can hope to squeeze out of him. This will does not seem to offer a Golconda for those who may be thinking of dower rights or inheritance.

COLUMBUS AND HIS MEN.

Four hundred and eighteen years ago today Christopher Columbus landed on what he then supposed was the coast of Asia. He thought he had demonstrated the theory of the scientists of his day that the earth was not flat, but round. He was not right in this. But we Americans are glad of that.

Columbus had been seventy days at sea. Anyone who has seen the models of the caravels in the lagoon at Jackson park may have an idea of what that means, especially if he has crossed the Atlantic on one of the great steamships of today and passed through a storm. It is hard for us to understand how such craft as the Santa Maria, the Pinta, and the Nina could have survived a gale in midocean.

But the mariners of that day knew no better craft than they had, and after all it is no worse to be drowned a thousand miles from shore than in a bath tub.

Courage is, happily for the world, a plentiful quality. But Columbus and his men faced a more terrible thing than physical danger. They faced the impalpable terror of the unknown. For ages men had filled the dark waste of water where the sun plunged with fearful creatures of the imagination, and beyond them lay the edge of the world, where the waters pitched into the abyss. Columbus and his officers at least had come to believe that the earth was round, but his humbler companions must have had little faith in the new theories, if they knew them. Still they kept on, and though they mutinied it was near the end of their voyage when discouragement was heavy on them.

It is well for us today not to forget these nameless, obscure men, recruited, in fact, from the least respectable and most desperate class, who still dared all that Columbus dared, and since they had less knowledge to sustain, even more. And what honor we do them we do our neighbors of every race and creed and fortune, the innumerable marching, toiling, ranks of men, with their great store of uncrowned courage, and faith, and sacrifice. Here on this continent that they discovered under the heroic leadership of Columbus we are building a nation dedicated to our common humanity and founded solely upon our faith in its virtues and endless possibilities. Let us be true to that noble faith. We as men are not without weakness and error. But the race is strong and full of good and it goes forward, as Columbus and his men went forward in spite of doubts and dangers, to make the unknown the known.

NOT MANY REAL PIONEERS LEFT.

Many obituary notices in Chicago papers are calculated to give outsiders a false impression of the age of the city—to make them think it has only just got out of the swaddling clothes of the pioneer era. One day we read of the death of a "pioneer" lawyer, who came here in the '50s. Another day mention is made of the death of a "pioneer" theater man who came here in the '60s, or of a "pioneer" merchant who opened his store here during that decade.

A "pioneer" in the broadest sense is the man who was the first, or an early explorer or experimenter in any department of human enterprise—the first to study electricity or to go into the manufacture of iron in Pittsburg or the sale of dry goods in Chicago. Though founded sixty-three years ago, THE TRIBUNE does not consider itself a pioneer Chicago newspaper. It had predecessors. So, too, there were prominent lawyers, well established merchants, and active theatrical managers here before 1860.

We can count on the fingers of one hand all the men who are entitled to the honorable designation of Chicago pioneer. We are sure that Mr. Fernando Jones will agree with us in this, unless, indeed, he should contend that the number is not so great, and that he is the sole survivor of a once numerous and gallant pioneer company—the last leaf on the tree.

TRY LOWER PRICES.

The unfilled tonnage orders of the United States Steel corporation on Sept. 30 last were the lowest in six years. The showing is even worse than it seems, for the capacity of its plants was much less then than now. It is estimated that the present output of the plants is 60 per cent of their total capacity. There was work on hand or in sight six months or a year ago for workingmen who presumably are idle now.

It is not because the country is unprosperous that the steel mills are not so active as they might be. We have had bounteous harvests. General business is good. The steel business is good as far as the independent companies are concerned. They are taking in orders. But they are getting orders because they have made it worth the while of consumers to give them. The independents are committing what is in the eyes of the steel trust the unpardonable crime of reducing prices. They are not putting steel on the bargain counter, but offering it at a reasonable price, which has attracted purchasers.

That is what the steel corporation should do. It is what it will be forced to do some day. One of the pressing needs of this country is cheaper steel for the railroads, for the city builders, and for a score of industries. It is unfortunate that the steel corporation refuses to see it.

RECENT reference was made by THE TRIBUNE to a work of fiction dealing with the white slave traffic. It has been misapplied by some readers to the book "Panders and Their White Slaves," by Clifford Roe, whereas the last named is not fiction at all, but sad facts. So too may be the other book, but we believe that the proper manner to get the details before the public is that chosen by Mr. Roe. His book set forth the facts undecorated by the art of the fictionist and it makes, we believe, a stronger appeal to that public from which help should be expected than any novel on the subject could do.

CHICAGO will wait now for unified traction service to unify.

SMOKE from Illinois Central engines did not pollute the atmosphere along the lake front 418 years ago today.

NOT anticipating any trouble of this kind, Manuel's royal parents neglected to have him learn a useful trade when he was a princeling with plenty of leisure.

CHICAGOANS—lovely word, isn't it?—who have not visited Jackson park since October, 1893, would be surprised to see how different it looks.

SOME true patriot might observe this anniversary by hunting up that bronze statue of Christopher Columbus and casting a mantle of charity or something over it.

STILL, it may be just as well to hesitate a little before trying to make a martyr out of Mr. Dietz.

IT is unfair, however, to insinuate that Mr. Ely, the aviator, and Mr. Wellman, the distinguished balloonist, had a previous understanding that this was to be a slow race.

IN the opinion of several thousand competent judges no kind of street railway unification can make the Elston avenue line any worse.

MCCASKRIN? McCaskrin? George W. McCaskrin? The name is dimly reminiscent of something or other.

A FEW days have made a vast difference in the status of young Manuel as a matrimonial catch.

THAT portion of the earth's surface devoted to the raising of tobacco comprises 6,000,000 acres. The noise made by the tobacco growers of Kentucky, therefore, is out of all proportion to their share of the crop.

IN A MINOR KEY.

His Invariable Rule.

"Did you ever run into a telegraph pole?" inquired the elderly passenger.

"Yes, ma'am," said the chauffeur, slowing up the taxicab to avoid a collision with a street car; "I've bumped into telegraph poles, I reckon, two or three times."

"Brings you to a pretty sudden stop, doesn't it?"

"No, ma'am; the machine stops, all right, but I always keep on going."

And Then Some More.

Reflections of a Spinster.

It's my own fault, any how; I've had plenty of chances.

Marge McKinlock's kittenish ways disgust me. She's 37, if she's a day.

I don't object to partial baldness in a man, but I do hate to see one who cultivates a long wisp of hair on the side of his head and combs it up over his shiny crown.

I like love stories as well as I ever did, but I don't weep now when they end unhappily.

There's no use talking—no preparation ever was made that will permanently eradicate wrinkles.

Still, it is harder for a man to hide his age; he can't keep his ears from growing fuzzy.

I draw the line at one thing; I won't be anybody's chaperon.

MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

[Copyright: 1910: By the Brentwood company.]

"LORD BEACONSFIELD'S LIFE AND LETTERS," based upon and comprising the diaries and correspondence bequeathed at his death to his faithful and devoted private secretary, the late Lord Rowton, are at length about to see the light of day, and the first volume of this work will appear during the course of the present month in London, published by the house of Murray, with which Beaconsfield, as Benjamin Disraeli, was so closely identified from his first debut in journalism and literature, more than ten years before the accession of Queen Victoria to the throne. When Lord Beaconsfield died childless he left, for the sake of the family name, his country seat, Hughenden Manor, to his nephew, Coningsby Disraeli, whom he scarcely knew. But all his most cherished belongings, and all his papers and correspondence, went to his private secretary, Montague Corry, who had been raised to the upper house as Lord Rowton.

Lord Beaconsfield in his will directed Lord Rowton, in dealing with his correspondence and diaries, "to scrupulously respect every confidence reposed in me, and to allow nothing to be published calculated to do injury to the public service, or to inflict needless pain on the living, or on the families of the dead, and that no portion of my correspondence with her majesty, Queen Victoria, shall be published or made known until the said Lord Rowton shall have ascertained that no objections were entertained to such use of the correspondence on the part of her majesty during her life or on the part of her heirs after her death."

It is generally understood that on the strength of this clause of the will Lord Rowton, who was afterward one of the executors of Queen Victoria's will and administrator of her private fortune, refrained during her lifetime from publishing any of the correspondence of his chief and submitted to her every letter which she had ever written to the latter. The greater portion of these she retained, and they are now preserved, with other papers of the same kind, in the royal library at Windsor castle among the family archives of the reigning house. The rest she returned to Lord Rowton, with the intimation that she saw no objection to their publication, but not until after her death. Lord Rowton thereupon turned over the entire remaining letters and diaries for safe keeping to the Rothschilds until the time came for their use. Coningsby Disraeli protested against this and repeatedly put forward demands that his uncle's papers should be published in full, and on one occasion actually threatened to invoke the law against Lord Rowton, and, unless his requests were complied with, especially in connection with the production of the correspondence between Beaconsfield and Mrs. Wyndham Lewis, the eccentric old lady who befriended the statesman in a variety of ways during her lifetime, and who bequeathed to him a considerable amount of money at her death.

Of course Beaconsfield's intimate friends, the Rothschilds, and also the reigning house, resented this attitude on the part of Coningsby Disraeli and ascribed it rather to a determination to advertise himself than to any feelings of devotion to the memory of his uncle, to whom he was almost a stranger. Much of the animosity manifested by Coningsby Disraeli in this connection was undoubtedly due also to the tendency of the reigning family, and of the public at large, to regard Lord Rowton rather than himself as the real heir of Lord Beaconsfield, and to the refusal of the crown and of the famous statesman's most intimate friends to take any steps to revive in his favor the Beaconsfield peerage.

When Lord Rowton died, after spending the closing years of his life in administering Queen Victoria's private affairs, and in organizing and endowing the so-called "Rowton Houses" (which are the London equivalent of the Mills hotels in New York and San Francisco, established by the late D. O. Mills), he confided the task of editing and publishing Lord Beaconsfield's "Life and Correspondence" to William F. Monypenny, one of the directors of the London Times, who as a member of the staff of that paper had played an important rôle in the South African war, not only as a journalist, but also as a soldier in the field. To him, in compliance with Lord Rowton's instructions, the Rothschilds turned over all that remained of Lord Beaconsfield's diaries and correspondence, after everything to which the reigning family could have possibly taken exception had been carefully eliminated by Queen Victoria and by Lord Rowton.

There is every reason to believe, too, that much if not all the material was submitted to King Edward; and under the circumstances it may safely be taken for granted that there will be no scandals of any sort revealed in the forthcoming "Life and Correspondence of Lord Beaconsfield," although the latter was noted for his sarcastic tongue, for his vitriolic pen, and for his cynical comments on the frailties, the foibles, and the shortcomings of one kind and another of his contemporaries, embracing a period of near sixty years.

The first volume deals with the ancestry of Lord Beaconsfield, his studies of law as Benjamin Disraeli, and his travels, his ventures in finance and journalism, his association with the great publishing house of Murray, in behalf of which firm he visited Abbotsford to negotiate certain matters with Sir Walter Scott. There are letters from the latter, from the great Sir Robert Peel, from Lord Lyndhurst, and from many of the other great statesmen of the closing years of the reign of George IV., of the reign of William IV., and of the first three years following the accession of Queen Victoria.

In fact, the work, which is to consist of five volumes in all, will constitute a notable contribution to the history of the nineteenth century—not, however, so important as would have been the case had not Lord Rowton, Queen Victoria, and King Edward eliminated from the material confided to William F. Monypenny much that would have shed still further light upon the people and events of the times of the great Tory statesman.

I may mention that Lord Rowton, whom I knew well, always insisted that there was no truth in the popular belief that his chief, Lord Beaconsfield, was imbued with an oriental taste for gaudy attire, brilliant coloring, and, above all, for jewelry of every description—at any rate, during the last fifty years of his life. He asserted that at the time of the death of Lord Beaconsfield the latter did not possess a solitary piece of jewelry, not even a watch, and added the interesting fact that throughout the several decades that he had spent with the earl as his private secretary he had never known him to have an umbrella.

The association of the Murrays, of the London Times, through one of its directors and editors, William Monypenny, and Lord Beaconsfield in connection with the publication of the latter's diaries and letters cannot fail to revive memories of the bitter feud that existed for nearly a hundred years between the Murrays and the London Times, and which led some years ago to a libel suit between the late Arthur Walter, fourth of his dynasty to preside over the destinies of the Times, and John Murray, fourth of the Murray publishing house dynasty. In 1825 it took the form of the starting by the John Murray of the day of a daily London newspaper entitled "The Representative" for the purpose of "pulling down the Times." This was done at the instance of young Benjamin Disraeli, then at the outset of his career and but 23 or 24 years of age, and it was he who was placed in charge of the paper by Murray. Its existence was ephemeral. It lived exactly six months, and then John Murray closed his purse strings, a sadder and wiser man, while Benjamin Disraeli, to whose lack of knowledge of popular sentiment and want of business experience the failure of the paper was largely due, gave his story of the affair in his novel "Vivian Grey," of which, of course, he is the hero.

REVERTING TO T. R.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—People ask what has Roosevelt done that the people stand by him so? He has been honest and has worked hard for the betterment of mankind; and in no way has he tried to hoodwink the people. He does not uphold such men as Browne and the rest of that infamous gang that are trying to get back in the legislature.

JOLLY OCTOBER.

Jolly October, through the woodland ways,
Not over sober, shouts with Pan the praise
Of flagons fruity, foaming to the brim;
And fills the pathways of the forest dim
With floods of glorious, golden glowing haze.

Now he with frisky faun and satyr plays
In frolics wild. He roars his roundelays,
And leaning o'er the sunset's crimson rim,
Jolly October,

His flambeau kindles in Sol's vivid rays;
Then sets the waving foliage all ablaze;
While dryads, frightened at his reckless whim,
Let fall their garments gay from every limb—
As to and fro his ruddy torch he sways—
Jolly October!

THE NORTH WOODS IN OCTOBER.

V.—NEW VALUES.

In a week or two you are amused to consider your changed standards of value. The things which go without consideration in ordinary life—we assume you do not have the care of a furnace—become paramount. In your other existence you work for the equivalent; not for the thing directly. It is the most obvious matter in the world, of course; so obvious that you never gave it a thought and when you realize it you seem to have discovered something.

When a chill north wind swoops down on you at night the most important article in life is a well filled wood box. The spices of the Celebes, the jewels of the Great Khan, the fabrics of Persia and the Ottoman tribes, the silks of Cathay, and the gold of El Dorado are as nothing to you. What you prize is wood—beech and pine cut in stove lengths, and pine knots, pine logs, and stumps veined with resin for the fireplace.

You realize that if you want to be warm and fed you must work for wood—not for its equivalent—and if a woodsman could see you at it he probably would be compelled by his conscience to pay you a half dollar and charge it to amusement.

At first your logs look as if a cow careless of what she ate had been chewing down trees. The stumps remain to shame you. The logs are not lasting evidence. The fireplace takes them. Gradually you learn the swing of the ax and presently you are hitting twice in the same place. Then with two blows you carve out a fine fat chip. It flies into the brush, but you hunt it out for a memento, considering the possibility of having it polished, and, if you can get some more like it by the same method, of having a humidor made of them. You could meet T. R. now and shake hands with him on terms of perfect equality. T. R. has nothing on you.

One fine day you are a laggard on the job, the promise being "continued fair." The next morning you are awakened by a fierce pelter of rain carried by a thirty mile wind whistling through the pine tops outside. Then you realize that although there may be other important things in life, the most important is wood. You learn to be thankful that pine knots burn nearly as well when wet as when dry, but the joys of sawing, chopping, and splitting logs in a downpour you do not find yourself capable of grasping.

Likewise you find that you have been surprisingly dependent on the meat man. You never gave much thought to the meat man except when his bills came in and you considered the increased cost of steaks, chops, and roasts, and wondered what the cheaper cuts were that the packers advised you to get, chiding you for your extravagance. Don't the packers want to sell their sirloin steaks? Suppose we all took to chuck, chopped beef, 10 cent soup bones, and pot roast. But the meat man is a surprisingly important personality in organized society. We have been neglecting to appraise him properly.

Now you have a ham hung up in netting and a side and a half of bacon left. If you want variety you may drive all day getting to and from the nearest butcher or you may hustle for your own food on the lakes or in the woods. A half dozen fat pike or bass in the fish box and three or four partridge hanging outside the house promote peace of mind. The appetite is a taskmaster.

It is at night when the chill has hold of all outdoors and when you are smoking by the open fire and toasting your shins, with your "chores" all done, enough wood against a rainy day, food for another twenty-four hours, and plenty of drinking water in the house, that you appreciate and enjoy the simple beauties of your new standard of values.

MEETINGS OF VARIOUS BODIES.

Behind him skeptic scorn and churchly hate,
And with him still a mutinous unfaith—
And on before what else but wind and wave,
Terror and storm, a heartless sky, and death.
Alone with fate, he faced the vast unknown,
Straining his vision through the thickening night—
When lo! from out the west a dim light flashed
And vanished—to rise once more upon his faith
And shine a star forever.

And here, where once the lookout kept aloft,
Here in this airy "nest" beside the lake,
I westward look—and lo! a flashing light
Upon the sunset windows, shining where
A myriad homes arise—undreamed by him
That pierced the night and saw the sudden star
Of a new world athwart the chartless gloom.

IN THE RELIGIOUS WORLD.

Episcopalians Reject Prayer Healing.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 11.—A resolution giving the sanction of the church to the healing of the sick by prayer was adopted in one section of the house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopal convention in session here today, but was defeated in another section of the house by the narrow margin of five votes, the voting being by dioceses.

That a majority of the house of deputies was in favor of the report was shown clearly when the clerical branch adopted it by a vote of forty-one yeas to seventeen nays, with nine dioceses not voting or divided. The laymen of the house, however, killed the report by a vote of twenty-seven yeas and thirty-two nays, four dioceses not voting.

It required a majority in both orders of the house to carry the report, and while the matter will come up before the house of bishops at some future date, it is regarded as improbable that the upper house of the convention will take any action on it.

The Rev. Lucius Waterman, D. D., rector of St. Thomas church, Hanover, N. H., presented the report, and in doing so said he had no fear of the word "supernatural." He continued:

"If Jesus did heal the sick in the first century in a supernatural manner he can do so today, and to recognize that fact is not to put the church in the position of not recognizing modern science. When the limits of modern science have been reached we have not reached the limits of the power of God."

The Rev. H. M. S. Taylor of Atlanta, Ga., who indorsed Dr. Waterman's resolution, said the Episcopal church had been kept in the dark in the matter of divine healing.

"It is our own fault," he declared. "This magnificent gift was given to us by our blessed Lord in the beginning. This power of restoring the sick by prayer was thrown away by our church, and a woman picked up that jewel. Now, I say, let us take back our own and use this magnificent gift in the name of the church."

The laity of the house of deputies, as a rule, opposed the report.

Dr. Karl Eppert Grammer of Philadelphia was the leader of the opposition. Dr. Grammer told of his personal experience in his church where persons came to him at a certain hour daily to seek help in spiritual troubles and nervous afflictions. He was opposed to adopting the report, objecting to any one mode of healing by suggestion. The Rev. George Craig Stewart of Chicago defended the report.

While the large vote polled for the resolution came as a surprise, the belief prevails tonight that the subject is dead so far as this convention is concerned.

At the opening of the session of the house of deputies today prayer was offered for the fire sufferers of the northwest. Delegates from the two new dioceses, Sacramento, Cal., and Olympia, Ore., were seated.

Several new bishops will be appointed in the missionary division of the convention within the next few days.

The first work of the house of bishops was to name the Rev. Frederick Foote Johnson bishop of South Dakota, to fill the place made vacant by the recent death of Bishop Hare. The missionary diocese of Oklahoma was split up and an additional diocese to be known as eastern Oklahoma was created. The diocese of Hankow and Wuhu, China, was divided, giving Wuhu a separate diocese. Bishops will be appointed to these new dioceses before the adjournment of the convention.

Bishop Kendrick of the diocese of New Mexico and Arizona was relieved of the state of Arizona and a new diocese of Arizona was created. The house took final action in dividing the dioceses of Pittsburg and California and new bishops will be appointed to serve in the new dioceses created in these two states. The diocese of Dallas, Tex., was divided into missionary districts that will include part of western Texas.

Bishop A. K. Graves of Kearney, Wyo., resigned on account of his advanced age.

Both the house of bishops and house of deputies today decided upon New York as the next convention city.

Large Gifts for Missions.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Gifts during the last year to the amount of more than $1,100,000 were announced today at the meetings held in connection with the centennial celebration of the founding of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions. Among other things it was said that Daniel K. Pearsons of Hinsdale, Ill., had promised $100,000 to the board. Treasurer Wiggins said that during 100 years of missionary activity the board has received a total of $43,500,000.

Tonight simultaneous meetings were held at Tremont temple and Park Street church, where plans for future missionary activity were set forth. In addition to President Henry Churchill King of Oberlin college and the Rev. Dr. Robert E. Speer, who discussed the broader questions of missions from the standpoint of the observer at home, three missionaries from the foreign fields of Japan, China, and India gave the views of the active laborers.

They were Dr. Tasuka Harada of Kyoto, Japan; Dr. J. H. Jones of India; and Dr. Arthur H. Smith of China.

The national council of Congregational churches met this forenoon in the first business meeting of its triennial convention. The Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Boynton of Brooklyn, N. Y., was chosen moderator, and the Rev. Dr. Arthur H. Smith, for forty years a missionary in north China, was selected as assistant moderator. Several reports were presented to the council by officers and committees, and then an adjournment was taken until Friday afternoon in order that the work of the council might not conflict with the centennial of the American board.

Problem Confronts Christian Church.

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Before the national mass convention of Christian churches adjourns in Topeka it must solve the problem of church unity which involves the forming of an administrative body.

The committee of seven appointed at the convention in Pittsburg last year will report on Thursday. The Rev. Allen B. Philputt of Indianapolis heads the committee.

Factions have formed in the convention. While it will not be brought directly into the controversy, the disagreement was precipitated by the gift of the $36,000 publishing plant of the Christian Evangelist to the Christian churches.

As there is no administrative body, there is no "Christian church" to receive the gift donated by R. A. Long, a Kansas City lumberman. To remedy this defect, certain leaders have advocated a delegate convention.

Apparently simple in itself, this recommendation is regarded by the more conservative element as revolutionary.

TRACTION REPAIR WILL BE RUSHED

Passage of Consolidated Ordinance Is Signal for Rehabilitation Work.

ROACH GIVES OUTLINE.

Chicago Railways Head Says Many Lines Will Be Improved Before Winter.

Until frost stops all outdoor construction work the rehabilitation of the Consolidated Traction lines will be rushed, and it is believed between twenty and thirty miles of track can be laid before winter sets in.

Even before that time the large cars of the Chicago Railways company, which absorbs the lesser corporation under the ordinance passed by the city council Monday evening, will replace the worn out "rattlers" on the old Yerkes lines. After the track construction is stopped the stringing of new trolley wires where they are needed and the refitting of power stations will continue.

John M. Roach, president and federal receiver for the Railways company, gave these assurances yesterday, and he expressed a hope that an early spring will permit the resumption of track work so that it all can be completed before next fall.

Motive for Rush Work.

It is to the interest of the company to do as much of this rehabilitation as possible before next February—when the rehabilitation period of the Railways company expires—as all of it completed before that time can be included in the increase of capital account with the addition of 5 per cent for brokerage and 5 per cent for legal expenses and carrying charges and 10 per cent for contractor's profit. Still, President Roach indicated that the speed with which the contruction will be prosecuted will not be lessened by the expiration of the rehabilitation period.

The section of the ordinance covering this work provides that it shall be done "with all due diligence as required by the board of supervising engineers" and that the company "shall at all times maintain and operate" the lines at "the highest practical efficiency in full accordance with the provisions of the ordinance of 1907."

Material Is on Hand.

"It will be the aim of the company to live up to the ordinance in every way," said President Roach. "We now have enough ties on hand to lay three miles of track and we have been ordering rails in 20,000 ton lots, the delivery of which will be continued as fast as we can use them. Those are the first essentials to construction work and frequently the causes of delay. We believe we are in a position to feel safe from any delays on that score.

"We won't stop outdoor work until frost stops us. It is impossible to lay concrete such as is required for the standard foundation required by the supervising board while there is frost in the ground, but we hope to be able to continue laying rails until Nov. 20, although the usual fall period closes about Nov. 1. This we recognize as an emergency case and if the fair weather runs into the late fall we may work much longer and accomplish more than we now contemplate.

"The big trunk line streets will have our first attention, as they are of importance to more people than the small lines and the extensions which will be taken up in the spring. If an early spring permits it we may be able to have the whole system in fine shape before fall.

"The supervising board and our engineers now are planning to begin real work within a few days and we hope to employ about 3,000 men within that time.

"As for cars, we now are receiving deliveries on an order for 350 new ones of the big semi-steel type used on the Railways lines."

Way Paved for Work.

Chief Engineer Bion J. Arnold, at the offices of the supervising board, said that he and his assistants have the way paved for the actual beginning of work as soon as the construction forces of the railways company are organized for their new activities. He expressed a belief that the company's labor organization is efficient enough to reach this point within a few days.

"The reconstruction need not be delayed because of the supervising board," he explained, "as we have done all the preliminary surveying and planning, and are ready to see the shovels start flying."

The streets to which attention will be given at once are Madison street from Fortieth avenue to the city limits, Milwaukee avenue from Logan square to the city limits at Norwood park, and Belmont avenue from Sheffield avenue to the north branch of the river. These are important route lines, and, in addition are among the streets badly in need of repaving, which has been blocked by the delay in rehabilitating the tracks. It also is hoped to improve the tracks in Elston avenue, which is an important trunk line.

CITY HALL GRAFT CLAIMS FAIL

Charges of Man Said to Have Been Discharged Fall Flat.

DIG; DO DAMAGE OF $1,000.

But Investigators Find Good Material in the New Structure.

About $1,000 damage was done to the new city hall yesterday as the result of charges of fraudulent construction made against the contractors by a former employé.

An investigation begun by John M. Ewen, supervising engineer for the city, Holabird & Roche, the architects, and the bureau of public efficiency practically was closed in the afternoon, and statements were made that the only net result of the inquiry was the destruction caused by digging holes in the walls, pillars, and floors.

A formal report will be issued by the efficiency bureau later, but Engineer Ewen and two representatives of Holabird & Roche—F. J. Thielbar, general superintendent for the firm, and H. L. Marsh, superintendent of construction on the municipal building—made reports to Commissioner of Public Works Mullaney that led him to dismiss the graft charges from further consideration.

Former Employe Makes Charges.

They were made by Thomas Coulson, 443 West Division street, formerly steward for the Noel Construction company of Baltimore, contractors for the building, who was said to have been discharged as an unsatisfactory employé. He carried his charges to a reporter for an afternoon newspaper, who led him to the Masonic temple offices of the bureau of public efficiency.

Herbert R. Sands, director of the bureau, consented to investigate the charges, and with A. J. Hammond, an engineer on his staff, visited the building. They were joined there by representatives of the contractors and the architects and by Mr. Ewen and his inspectors.

The first inspection was of the foundation for the concrete floors of the ninth, tenth, and eleventh floors of the structure. This rough concrete had been torn up partly and Supt. Marsh explained that it all had been condemned, as it was frozen early in the spring before it became set. In another instance the opening of a wall around the light court showed it constructed according to specifications except that about four feet of an iron pillar had not been covered with concrete as required.

Old Material Not Utilized.

Charges that rubbish, old bricks, and similar material had been used in place of concrete were found unsupported when several holes had been made in different parts of the building, and Robert F. Peterson, representative of the Noel Construction company, then declared that no further openings would be made at the cost of the company.

Mr. Ewen, Mr. Thielbar, and Mr. Marsh went to Commissioner Mullaney's office and he invited in the city hall reporters to hear their statements.

"I have been a builder in Chicago for twenty-six years," said Mr. Ewen, "and I am willing to stake my reputation that the new city hall is the best constructed building with which I have had anything to do. We received these charges when they were made, and I would welcome with open arms anybody who could show me the city is not getting all that it is paying for, whether he comes during the day or the night."

"All of the facts brought out failed to show anything to the discredit of the contractor," said Mr. Thielbar, after a long statement of the investigation.

Mayor Busse said he was convinced the city's interests were well protected and that the building will comply with all requirements when it is completed and accepted.

MRS. MADGE H. BLISS DIES.

Appendicitis Operation Ends Fatally for Wife of Chicago Attorney—Funeral This Afternoon.

Mrs. Madge H. Bliss, 5001 Madison avenue, wife of Attorney E. R. Bliss, died at 1:20 yesterday morning after a short illness at the Michael Reese hospital. Mrs. Bliss was operated on last Sunday for appendicitis and failed to rally. At her bedside when the end came were her husband and an only child, E. R. Bliss Jr. Mrs. Bliss had been a resident of Chicago since the early '60s. The funeral will be held this afternoon at the family residence. Interment will be at Oakwoods.

OBITUARY.

MRS. SARAH SALTANSTALL, a resident of Chicago for sixty years, died Monday at the residence of her son at Sheboygan, Wis. Mrs. Saltanstall was 87 years old. In 1835 with her parents, Samuel and Sarah Aiken, she rode in a wagon to Chicago from Oswego county, New York. She became identified with the First Congregational church and until her death was its oldest member. The funeral will be held this afternoon.

MISS ELEANOR HURFORD, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel R. Hurford of Glencoe, died yesterday after a lingering illness at her parents' residence. Miss Hurford, a graduate of Northwestern university class of 1908, was an active member of the "Diligent Dozen," a subsidiary organizations of the Evanston Industrial. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at the residence. Interment will be at Rosehill.

TREE FUNERAL TOMORROW.

Services at Residence, but Burial Will Await a Son's Arrival from England.

Funeral services for Lambert Tree will be held at the family residence tomorrow afternoon. Only relatives and intimate friends will be present.

Burial will not take place until the arrival in Chicago of Arthur M. Tree of Warwickshire, England, a son, who will sail for this country next Saturday.

Mrs. J. D. Rives, a sister, arrived in Chicago yesterday with the body. Mrs. E. R. Waters, daughter of Mrs. Rives, will arrive today. Joseph B. Tree, a brother, who lives in Richmond, Va., probably will reach here today or tomorrow.

PATTEN ESTATE GOES TO FAMILY

Brothers of Deceased Grain Man Will Receive Property Worth $2,700,000.

ENTAILS HIS WEALTH.

Apparently Satisfied with Lifetime Benefactions, No New Ones Are Made.

James A. Patten and Henry J. Patten will receive the entire estate left by George W. Patten, who died a week ago. The will was filed yesterday, and shortly afterward James A. Patten appeared before Ninian Welch, assistant probate judge, and proved heirship. The estate, valued at $2,400,000 personal property and $3,000 real estate, will be divided equally between the two brothers, and at their deaths provision is made to keep the property in the family.

Apparently satisfied with what he had done for charity and for Sandwich, Ill., the place of his birth, Mr. Patten did nothing for either in his will. Sandwich was benefited when he gave $10,000 to Oakmound cemetery last spring, and later when he made another gift of $40,000 to provide an endowment fund for the upkeep of the cemetery. Citizens of the place expected more, and there has been much discussion as to the way his expected gift should be used.

Property Stays in Family.

The will, which was dated Sept. 10, 1910, was filed by Mayor Joseph E. Paden of Evanston. All property is bequeathed to James A. Patten, Henry J. Patten, and Frank P. Frazier as trustees, and directs that the net income of the property be divided between James A. and Henry J. Patten, and at their deaths the principal shall be divided equally between four nephews and nieces, Rhoda Violet Patten, Agnes Patten, Thomas Beveridge Patten, and John Lowrie Patten, provided they all shall have reached the age of 25 years. In the event of the death of any legatee, the share is to be divided among the surviving members of the family.

The trustees are instructed that under all circumstances the property, money, stocks, bonds, and other securities shall be kept separate and distinct from all other property, and in no case shall the trustees allow any borrowing of money on collateral by any trustee individually.

W. E. Hudson Replaces Frazier.

Because he is a nonresident of the state of Illinois Mr. Frazier could not serve as one of the trustees, and, as was provided in the will, should any of the three refuse the position William E. Hudson was named in his stead.

SAW PLOT TO KIDNAP CHILD.

Chicago Woman Gets Warrant Against Brother-in-Law She Suspected with Her Sisters.

Charging that her two sisters, Mrs. Corrinne Keene, Bakersfield, Cal., and Miss Margaret Adams, Chicago, were in a conspiracy with her sister's husband, Arthur Keene, to kidnap her 12 year old daughter, Dorothy, Mrs. Esther L. Lutz, 2057 West Chicago avenue, asked warrants against them yesterday.

Mrs. Lutz was divorced from her husband, George M., in 1906 and given the custody of Dorothy, the only child. Since then he has been living at Bakersfield, Keene's home.

After a conference Judge Cottrell issued a warrant for Keene. It is alleged he took the girl away from the Ellen Mitchell school on Monday, saying, according to her teacher, Miss Eva Young, that he was the child's uncle.

JUDGES WILL SET OWN CASES.

State's Attorney and Criminal Court Heads Agree on New System Effective on Monday.

The new system of setting cases in the Criminal court, by which all but one of the judges—Judge Kersten—sets his own cases, will go into effect on Monday. A calendar has been prepared for Judges Kavanagh, Scanlan, and Smith, which will be drawn on the first of the week. Judge Kersten has been reserved to try emergency cases. This system was ratified at a meeting of the judges and of State's Attorney Wayman, who used to set the cases.

COLUMBUS WILL LAND TODAY

Brilliant Historical Pageant Begins at 1 O'Clock.

JACKSON PARK THE STAGE.

Discoverer and Son Will Set Sail in Caravels and Land on America.

Chicago will witness today the most extensive celebration of the discovery of America since the world's fair.

Features will be:

A brilliant historical pageant portraying the departure of Columbus from Cadiz and his landing in America.

Parade of Italian-Americans with floats and bands.

Celebration of pontifical high mass by Archbishop Quigley in the Cathedral of the Holy Name.

Gathering of 5,000 school children at Russell square, South Chicago.

Reception and banquet under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus at the Congress hotel in the evening. Talks by Archbishop Quigley, Vice President Sherman, Senor Naburo, ambassador from Brazil; Charles Murphy, secretary of state for Canada; the Very Rev. W. J. Bergin of Bourbonnais, Ill., and Anthony Czarnecki.

Declared Legal Holiday.

All public and many business establishments will be closed for the day, which was made a legal holiday by the last legislature.

Interest centers in the pageant in Jackson park. One hundred and sixty men and women, boys and girls will enact, in the costumes of the Columbian period, the reception of Columbus at the court of Queen Isabella, his embarcation and his landing.

The royal court will assemble at the recently restored replica of the convent of La Rabida on the lake shore in Jackson park early in the morning.

Will Appeal to Queen.

At about 1 o'clock Columbus and his son, in costume, bearing his maps and charts, will appear at the opposite entrance of the park and will make their way on foot to the convent to appeal to the queen.

At about 2 o'clock the brilliant gathering will move to the shore of the lagoon for the embarkation. The Nona, Pinta, and Santa Maria will proceed under full sail across the lagoon to an imaginary San Salvador.

More than twenty automobiles will maintain a free transportation service from the end of Sixty-third street to the scene of the pageant.

SAVE BABIES, FIRE PRISONERS.

Waukegan Men Find Tots, Locked in Room of Burning Hotel, Overcome.

Two children, Tony and Bessie Slodick, the first 4 years, and the latter 18 months old, who had been left locked in a third story room by their mother, were rescued from death in a fire which threatened the Hotel Friderich, Waukegan, yesterday, by R. D. Shaw, and W. A. Haas. The children were overcome by smoke when the men found them. The boy had given the alarm. The mother is employed in the hotel.

CHINESE MINISTER DROPS IN.

Washington Representative of Celestial Empire Spends Hour and Half in Chicago.

Chang Yin Tang, Chinese minister at Washington, accompanied by one of his secretaries, W. P. Chung, spent an hour and a half in Chicago yesterday. The minister had just returned from San Francisco, where he accompanied Prince Hsün, brother of the present regent in China.

O'LAUGHLIN TO GIVE LECTURE.

Will Discuss "National Corruption in Politics" Before Men's League of Sunday Evening Club.

John Callan O'Laughlin will address the Men's league of the Sunday Evening club at its clubrooms, 1008 Fine Arts building, 203 Michigan avenue, Wednesday evening, Oct. 12. Mr. O'Laughlin's subject will be "National Corruption in Politics."

Chicagoan, Hurt in East, Returning.

Garabed T. Pushman, Chicago, who was hurt in a trolley accident in Hartford, Conn., will be brought back to Chicago soon.

"We're Hungry

for adventure. We're only boys and girls, a little bit grown up, but still stirred by martial music, thrilled by fire horses, lured by tales of subtle intrigue and splendid daring. We're tired of reading reams of stuff we care little about to get a little we care a lot about. Give us some stories that grip. Give us a magazine of Adventure." And that's what we've done. Look at this.

LAMBASA, Oct. 4th.—This kingdom is in a ferment over the mystery surrounding the burial of King Maldio. In the middle of the impressive ceremony an unknown man, apparently an Englishman, broke through the guard and smashed the glass of the royal coffin, shouting—"The King is Alive." The man was seized and thrown into a dungeon, the ceremony abruptly stopped, and the company dismissed. Former Queen Horatia announced to-night that the king had been privately buried.

There is a story being whispered about that the dead king was later seen struggling to escape from the Queen's Guard in the court-yard of the prison where the mysterious foreigner is incarcerated. There are rumors that the king and the foreigner have both escaped and there are hints at poison plots, in which a certain royal lady is said to be not above suspicion.

SOUNDS like an adventure story doesn't it? It is. It's the beginning of "Can a Man be True?"—an adventure story that is the real, real thing. You'll read it, and keep reading it. In fact if you really want to get away from the hard grind of the daily mill, if you want to get 192 pages of stories that have "something doing all the time" you'll get a copy of The Ridgway Company's brand-new magazine

Brilliancy in Diamonds

A perfect brilliant Diamond is cut with 58 facets. The table or top is the large flat surface. There are 32 facets above the girdle, and 25 on the under side including the apex. The proportion and relative angles of these facets are figured to perfection.

¶ The exactness employed in the cutting of all our Diamonds gives them the maximum light refraction and brilliancy that class them as perfect gems. Stones of any desired karat-weight may be chosen from the comprehensive variety.

¶ Solitaires are shown in many beautiful gold and platinum mountings. Charming designs in individual pieces are also to be seen in great number. Many of these have been designed and executed in our own workshop.

YOZONDE of the Wilderness

By a Chicago Writer — By a Chicago Writer

by Harry Irving Greene, will make a very strong appeal to those who like stories of the open.

One naturally expects the characters in such stories to be possessed of manly and womanly qualities not always met with in residents of cities, and in "YOZONDE" the author has admirably supplied that essential.

At the same time there is presented in most dramatic fashion the powerful influence of the soundless call of his own blood on the nameless white man who is the hero of this tale of a generation or two ago.

LAKE TRADE HURT BY A CONSPIRACY

Chicago Board of Trade Charges Against Roads Filed with Commission.

CASE INVOLVES 77 LINES.

Freight Traffic on Water Alleged to Have Been Killed by Trickery.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—The Chicago board of trade's charges that the eastern railroads have conspired to deprive the western grain merchants of the cheap water transportation hitherto enjoyed on the great lakes were filed today with the interstate commerce commission. The board asks that the rates be adjusted so as to restore the water competition to the grain carrying trade and that the alleged conspirators be punished for violation of the railroad regulation laws.

The complaint is against the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central, and seventy-four other eastern roads which are alleged to be parties to the conspiracy.

Rail Rates Also Raised.

The board complains that since 1906 the rate from Buffalo to New York on grain transferred from lake boats has been increased to such an extent that it is now cheaper to ship grain from Chicago to New York by all rail instead of by water and rail. At the same time, the all rail rate has become extortionately high, according to the allegations.

"Your petitioner further represents," reads the complaint, "that, by reason of a conspiracy on the part of said defendant carriers, substantially all means of all rail transportation from Chicago to New York and other Atlantic seaboard points, and also all parallel and competing through lines of transportation via the great lakes from Chicago and other lake points to Buffalo and from Buffalo to New York and other Atlantic seaboard points, are owned and controlled by the said defendant common carriers."

Figures Support the Charge.

The defendant carriers by reason of their ownership or control of all means of through transportation, both by rail and lake and rail from Chicago, are alleged to have established by their conspiracy the following rates known as "ex-lake rates," applicable to grain coming off the lake at Buffalo:

To—	Wheat.	Corn.	Rye.	Oats.
	Bushel rates—
New York City, domestic	6.5	5.25	6.0	3.7
Boston, domestic	7.7	7.2	7.2	4.8
Baltimore, domestic	6.2	5.25	5.8	3.5
New York, export	4.0	3.75	3.75	3.0
Boston, export	5.5	4.75	5.25	3.7
Philadelphia, export	3.7	3.45	3.45	2.8
Baltimore, export	5.2	4.45	4.95	3.5

The board declares these rates are "unjust and unreasonable and discriminatory in comparison with the parts or portions applicable from Buffalo to New York and other Atlantic seaboard points on through all rail shipments from Chicago to New York." It also says the lake grain dealers are deprived of the advantages of the cheap water transportation to which they are entitled by reason of geographical location.

SAY MOST AMERICAN FARMERS LACK SEED DISCRIMINATION.

Grain Experts, Millers, and Others Represented at Chicago Conferences Devise Plans to Boost Yield of Soil.

The American farmer as a whole is not particular enough about the kind of seed he uses, and those who have good seed either do not realize its importance or are neglectful about passing it along.

Such is a composite version of the opinions expressed yesterday at a conference called for the purpose of devising plans for improving the seed used on North American farms and distributing it with a view to increasing the yield of grain in both the United States and Canada.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the committee on seed improvement named recently by the council of North American grain exchanges. Grain experts, millers, agents, railroad men, and others interested in the success of grain growing were represented.

M. A. Carleton, cerealist of the United States department of agriculture, was the principal authority present. Mr. Carleton indorsed the movement for improving the seed and adding to the country's grain production. He said that so far the most systematic results in that respect had been gained by the states of Kansas and Wisconsin.

LATE WALL STREET NEWS AND GOSSIP.

New York, Oct. 11.—[Special.]—The annual meeting of the Mergenthaler Linotype company will be held on Oct. 19. No changes in the board of directors are expected. While final figures for the year ended Sept. 30 have not yet been compiled it is certain the earnings will equal those of the successful year 1909. The amount available for dividends last year was $2,642,468, equivalent to about 20 per cent on $12,763,700 of stock. Dividends of 15 per cent per annum were paid. Current business is satisfactory and collections good. As a result of the explosion which destroyed the plant of the Los Angeles Times the Mergenthaler company is furnishing thirty-two new linotypes to that newspaper.

The continued shrinkage in the unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel corporation is due almost entirely to the falling off in orders for heavy steel, particularly plates, steel rails, and structural material. Should the railroads enter the market for normal requirements there would be an immediate change for the better so far as the tonnage statements is concerned. Since Oct. 1 the steel corporation has been showing a shrinkage of at least 13,000 tons a day in unfilled tonnage, a total of about 130,000 tons. Deducting this from the unfilled tonnage on Sept. 30 last would bring the figure down to 3,028,000 tons, or practically the same as it was on Sept. 30, 1904.

A summons and complaint were filed in the Supreme court today in the suit brought by John O. Tomlinson, the lawyer, for receiver of the Michigan United Railways company on the ground the company is trying to avoid paying its obligations to the Knickerbocker Trust company on loans obtained in its behalf by Mr. Tomlinson. The defendant named is George G. Moore, a lawyer of Port Huron, Mich.

Mr. Tomlinson says that in 1904 Mr. Moore, who had little or no financial means, induced him to become interested with others in the Lansing and Suburban Traction company, an electric line, and that he got a loan of $450,000 from the Knickerbocker Trust, which was to be secured by $750,000 first mortgage bonds. In 1905, Tomlinson says, he got another loan of $100,000, and all of the second loan and $50,000 of the first was to be used for improvements. Moore failed to see that this was done.

Later a syndicate was formed to take over this road and others, which finally became the Michigan United Railways company. Mr. Tomlinson got a loan of $1,200,000 from the Knickerbocker Trust for this syndicate, he says, but the syndicate is disavowing its obligations to the trust company.

Local sales agencies report practically no change in the pig iron situation. During the last week business showed some improvement over the previous week, but there were few transactions involving as much as 500 tons, the average being between 150 and 200 tons. No inquiries of any importance for a specified tonnage are in the market at present and there is nothing in the situation on which to base any hope of improvement in the near future.

Contrary to expectations, the full returns for September showed practically no improvement in the bookings of the Allis-Chalmers company over August, the record being approximately 50 per cent less than for the same month last year. The latter half of the calendar year 1909 was an exceptionally prosperous period for the company, however. The operations of the company continue on a normal basis.

At the annual meeting of stockholders of the Erie railroad today all the retiring directors were reëlected. Proxies for nearly 1,000,000 shares of stock were voted, the largest number since the dissolution of the voting trust.

Mortimer L. Schiff was elected a director of the Union Pacific at the annual meeting to succeed P. A. Valentine, who has for some time been an inactive member of the board. The other directors were reëlected.

C. H. & D. WIPES OUT FIASCO

Road Charges to Profit and Loss $12,000,000 Debt.

PLAN OF REORGANIZATION.

Annual Report Shows Increase of 19 Per Cent in Revenues.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad was held today at the office of President Cotter. The report of the company's operations for the fiscal year ending June 30 shows the "wiping out" of $12,372,463 indebtedness occasioned by the "Great Central" fiasco.

This debt was incurred by the road being a party to the organization of the "Great Central" railway system several years ago, and which included the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, Père Marquette, the old Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville, now the Chesapeake and Ohio of Indiana, and the Toledo Terminal railway. This debt was wiped out by charging the items to "profit and loss."

Readjustment Plan in Detail.

The whole plan of readjustment is exhaustively detailed in the report for the first time. Of the $75,000,000 bonds authorized there have been issued for the payment of floating debts $7,500,000, of which $5,500,000 was guaranteed by the Baltimore and Ohio.

There have also been issued for other purposes $20,000,000, leaving $23,720,000 to be issued for future betterments, etc., and $23,779,000 to be issued for exchange for or in cancellation of an equal amount at par of underlying bonds.

The operating revenues of the company for the fiscal year were $9,446,624, an increase of 19.62 per cent, or $1,549,476. There was an increase from freight traffic of $1,266,928. More than half of the increased tonnage came from bituminous coal.

The report shows a gain in passenger revenues of nearly $160,000. The deficit for the year, $720,263, was several hundred thousand dollars less than for the preceding year.

Erect 32 Miles of Block Signal.

Among the items included in the report is that during the year thirty-two miles of automatic block signals have been erected. Appropriations were: $1,075,000 for the erection of new ore docks at Toledo; $164,000 for the new freight houses at Dayton; $105,000 for land at North Dayton upon which to locate the new freight yard, and $350,000 for new gravity yards at Rossford, O. The elimination of curves in the vicinity of Sidney will cost the company more than $500,000.

All of the old members of the board of directors were reëlected. The following members of the board will serve for another year: Edward R. Bacon, New York; George F. Baker, New York; Henry Brenner, New York; William Cotter, Cincinnati; L. F. Loree, New York; Oscar G. Murray, New York; George W. Perkins, New York; Joseph Wood, Pittsburg, Pa.; Daniel Willard, Baltimore; F. D. Underwood, New York; F. W. Stevens, New York; Charles Steele, New York; H. D. Shoemaker, New York; Norman R. Ream, New York, and George F. Randolph, Baltimore.

UNION PACIFIC CHIEFS MEET.

L. L. Schiff Elected Director to Fill Vacancy Caused by P. A. Valentine's Resignation.

Salt Lake, Utah, Oct. 11.—Lorimer L. Schiff of New York was elected a director of the Union Pacific railroad company today when stockholders of that road met to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of P. A. Valentine of Chicago. All the other members of the board were reëlected.

William H. Bancroft, vice president and general manager of the Oregon Short Line; General Counsel P. L. Williams, Secretary Alexander Millar, and Fred H. Knickerbocker were in attendance and presented proxies for stockholders unable to be present.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Union Pacific Equipment association preceded the railroad meeting.

The Union Pacific Land company, another subsidiary of the Union Pacific railroad, also held its annual meeting today.

Tomorrow the annual meeting of the directors of the Oregon Short Line will be held here. It is proposed to submit for their approval a plan calling for an increase in the company's capital from $24,460,100 to $100,000,000. The object of the increased capitalization is to complete improvements and replacements and to extend the branch lines.

TO VACATE "TAP LINES" ORDER.

Interstate Commerce Commission Preparing Edict Suspending Certain Railway Rates.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—An order is in course of preparation by the interstate commerce commission vacating the order recently issued suspending the tariffs filed by many interstate carriers canceling through routes and joint rates with so-called "tap lines."

It is the purpose of the commission in vacating the original order merely to permit rates other than those applying to "tap lines" to go into effect. Many of them are reductions, but in suspending the tap line rates the entire tariff had to be suspended also. With a view to permitting the general rates to become effective the commission will vacate its order. The common carriers then will file supplemental tariffs canceling the tap line rates, which in turn will be suspended by the commission.

This action will put all of the tap line cases before the commission in the same attitude. At the same time it will do no [illegible]

SAYS MERGER STOPS TRADE

Pacific Lines Accused of Having Throttled Oregon.

NATION'S CASE IS ENDED.

Argument of Severance Seeks to Force Big Dissolution.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—The government today ended its case in the suit to dissolve the merger of the Union and Southern Pacific and their allied lines. The closing argument by C. A. Severance in the federal Circuit court was directed to proving by the evidence that competition existed between the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific prior to the consolidation and that since the merger of the interests of the two roads rates had gone up while the service had deteriorated.

Mr. Severance pointed to Oregon as one state controlled by a single system.

"Look at Oregon," he said, "one of the richest states of the west, with 50,000 square miles of rich, productive soil, without a single railroad traversing its interior. Look at it again—bounded on the north by the Oregon Railway and Navigation company, on the west and south by the Southern Pacific.

Shut Out All Competitors.

"The combined interests have surrounded this state and fought every independent endeavor to enter the interior. It was only recently that a road was projected and partially built into central Oregon, and the so-called Hill interests have since begun an invasion of the state but not with the consent of these noncompeting roads that surround the state like a fence.

"Why, does any sane man believe that this great state would remain undeveloped as it is, with thousands of American farmers going annually to Canada for land, if there were not a vital reason. The reason is that the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific, working together, have ordained that Oregon shall not be developed until they are ready. There is only one place within this vast united Pacific system that is being developed as it should—in Colorado, where there is genuine competition.

Fights for Nation's Growth.

"The government of the United States is striking a blow for industrial growth of our nation by insisting that this wrongful consolidation of interests should be dissolved. If competition can be restored no one can tell what the result will be in the growth of and development of our monopolized sections of the great west."

Mr. Severance then took up in detail the policies of Mr. Harriman and his associates to buy up the smaller competing lines.

When Mr. Severance concluded, P. F. Dunne, general counsel for the Southern Pacific, began to argue the road side of the case.

Mr. Dunne's argument was directed principally to prove that the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific were connecting lines prior to the merger and were not in any direct or substantial sense competitive. He based this contention upon the original act of congress passed in 1862, authorizing the construction of the Union Pacific, and upon subsequent acts amendatory thereto.

It is agreed by the parties to the action that unless an actual and constant competition exists at the time the merger of the interest was effected the illegality of the combination as a violation of the Sherman act probably cannot be sustained.

HAS REWARD PLAN FOR MOVING CARS

General Agent of American Railway Association Makes Chicago Address.

WOULD ENLIST SHIPPERS.

Believes Pay for Prompt Unloading Might Be a Boon to General Traffic.

A plan for compensating shippers who load and unload freight cars promptly in order to get them into service within the forty-eight hours' free time now allowed was advocated as a means of preventing car shortages. The proposition was advanced by Arthur Hale, general agent of the American Railway association and chairman of that organization's committee on relations between railways, at the monthly luncheon of the Traffic club at the La Salle hotel.

Mr. Hale, who in virtue of his official position is regarded as the best authority in the United States on car supply and movement, expressed the opinion that there was little likelihood of a serious shortage this fall, but said that such a condition would surely occur some time unless the railroads and shippers both took steps to increase the daily movement.

"The average shipper regards the freight car supply something like the water in the well that is not missed until it runs dry," declared the speaker, "and is inclined to be irritated at the railroads when he puts in his order for a car at night and doesn't get it in the morning.

More Improvement Is Needed.

Mr. Hale said the railroads are increasing the daily average movement of a car from two to five miles a day and that the shippers are helping by seeking to release cars quickly, but that still greater improvement is necessary. The addition of a mile a day to the average car movement, he said, was equal to the purchase of millions of dollars' worth of equipment.

The increase in the per diem rate charged by the railroads for the use of each other's cars and the adoption of uniform demurrage have improved the movement, in his opinion, but greater inducements in the way of rewards to shippers for releasing cars promptly would greatly increase the efficiency.

Many car owners, the speaker said, are anxious to retain their cars on their own lines, but if this theory were successfully applied many more cars would be required. He described an attempt made by the roads several years ago to apply a $5 penalty for diversion of cars away from the home road. He said it had proved impractical in a short time and that the only $5 ever collected was paid by a shipper who wanted to load an eastern car westward in a hurry and that it went into the pocket of the station agent.

Join Forces on Grain Rates.

Chicago and New York grain interests are planning to join forces in the campaign to secure a reduction in the grain rates east of Buffalo, applied to westward grain shipped by water from Chicago.

W. M. Hopkins, manager of the transportation department of the Chicago board of trade, went to Washington yesterday to confer with the interstate commerce commission regarding the complaint filed a few days ago charging that the railroads are discriminating against this city by making the rates on "ex-lake" grain so high as to force the movement all rail.

It is charged that it costs 5 cents per 100 pounds more for transportation from Buffalo to Boston if the grain reaches Buffalo by boat than if it arrives by freight car. The New York produce exchange has had a complaint involving similar points before the commission for several months and the date for a hearing has been set for Oct. 18.

Mr. Hopkins will make an effort to have this hearing postponed for a month in order to allow the cases to be combined and in order to enlist the coöperation of other grain exchanges.

Leaves After Taking Testimony.

Special Examiner Allan P. Matthew of the interstate commerce commission left the city during the day after having taken testimony during the last two days in twenty-four cases involving claims by shippers for reparation for overcharges by the railroads.

At Milwaukee he will take testimony in a dozen or more additional cases, which will be submitted to the commission for a decision.

WABASH DIRECTORS RENAMED.

Entire Staff of Officers Will Be Reëlected—Southern Railway Men Hold Places.

Toledo, O., Oct. 11.—George J. Gould, Edward T. Jeffery, Jay Gould, Edgar T. Welles, Wells H. Blodgett, Sheldon C. Reynolds, Robert C. Clowery, Thomas H. Hubbard, John T. Terry, J. J. Slocum, Winslow S. Pierce, Robert H. Gallaway, and Frederick A. Delano were reëlected directors of the Wabash railroad company at the annual meeting of stockholders.

President F. A. Delano and the entire present staff of officers will be reëlected when the board reorganizes, it is expected.

Southern Men Re-elected.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 11.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Southern railway today George F. Baker Jr., Adrian Pelin Jr., Charles Lanier, and Edmund D. Randolph were elected directors of the third class for a term of three years.

NEWS NOTES OF FINANCIAL WORLD.

The issuance of something less than $25,000,000 in new stock by the American Telephone and Telegraph company is prophesied for the first half of next year, based on information said to be authoritative. The company's last stock issue was for $21,000,000 in May, 1907. At that time the company's bonded debt was $188,000,000 and the capital stock $131,551,000. Today there is $257,000,000 stock outstanding, and but one issue of $53,000,000 collateral trust bonds.

The Beaumont Cotton Oil company is erecting one of the largest cottonseed oil mills in Texas at Beaumont. The mill will cost $125,000 and will start with equipment having a daily capacity of 120 tons of seed.

The Union Pacific railroad has taken out permits for additions to the Omaha shops to cost $225,000. Since Jan. 1 the road has taken out permits for $1,400,000 improvements at the shops.

An official of the Chicago and Northwestern system says: "Business continues in satisfactory volume and on most commodities is running ahead of last year."

The Chesapeake has purchased for January delivery twenty-four 92,000 pound Mallet engines from the American Locomotive company. Deliveries are now being made to the Chesapeake and Ohio of 3,000 all steel hopper and 500 steel frame underframe box cars, all of 100,000 capacity, contracts for which were placed with the American Car and Foundry, Pressed Steel Car, and Standard Steel Car companies.

The annual meeting of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad stockholders will be held in St. Louis on Nov. 14. Books close on Oct. 14 and reopen on Nov. 15.

Since the opening of 1909 there have been twenty consolidations in industrial corporations of Canada, authorized capitalization aggregating $199,600,000.

The Butte and Superior Copper company has filed a mortgage for $1,000,000 on its property in favor of the Northwestern Trust company.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Baltimore and Ohio will be held on Nov. 21. Books close Oct. 29 and reopen Nov. 1.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Southern railway company yesterday the retiring directors were reëlected.

Since last Friday the New York subtreasury has gained $3,181,000 from the banks.

GOV. STUBBS ANSWERS RIPLEY

Kansas Executive Replies to the Head of Santa Fe Railway.

'LET GOVERNMENT BE JUDGE'

Says Questions of Valuation Thus Decided Would Protect Public.

That the public is entitled to have questions of railroad capitalization and valuation decided on the authority of the government rather than on the evidence of the railroads themselves is argued by Gov. Stubbs of Kansas in a letter to President E. P. Ripley of the Santa Fé railway which was made public yesterday.

Gov. Stubbs' letter is in reply to one written by the railroad executive on Oct. 1 regarding freight rates apropos of the recent shippers' convention at Topeka called by the governor.

President Ripley said in his letter that while he is not averse to a physical valuation of railroads it would be a needless extravagance on the part of the government and of no value for ratemaking purposes.

"It is as much my duty to protect the interests of the public against unnecessary advances in freight rates as it is your duty to demand reasonable pay for the services rendered by the railroad company," replies the governor.

Raise Would Affect Living Costs.

"The living expenses of every man, woman, and child in Kansas will be affected if your proposed advances in rates are permitted by the interstate commerce commission.

"Now, Mr. Ripley, if the physical value of the property and the capitalization of a railroad have nothing to do with fixing rates will you kindly state for publication upon what basis your Santa Fé rates are fixed?

"Will you also be kind enough to explain why the railroad companies invariably demand protection from the federal court upon the charge that their property is being confiscated by a certain proposed rate which the railroad claims will not pay a fair return?

"If it is necessary for the court in determining whether rates are too high or too low to take into consideration the value of the property, if you represented the public would you prefer to know yourself the value of the railroad property or would you leave it to your opponent, a deeply interested party, to furnish this vital information to the court?

"Let Railroads Be Bystanders."

"Why do not the railroads permit the public to furnish information concerning valuation, capitalization, and earnings of railroads to the courts and the railroad company do what the public now does—remain an innocent bystander?"

Gov. Stubbs also challenges President Ripley's statement that the Santa Fé has never issued a dollar except for cash which was invested honestly in the property, and asserts that Santa Fé securities have increased in value $150,000,000 in fifteen years, while the road has accumulated $20,000,000 surplus and set aside over $30,000,000 in other assets. From this he declares the road ought to increase the wages of its employés instead of raising freight rates.

THREE NEW ILLINOIS BANKS.

State Auditor McCullough Issues Permits for Organization of Institutions.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—State Auditor McCullough today issued permits for the organization of three banks in Illinois as follows:

To Arthur L. French, D. Rees Browning, and Frank J. Heinl for the organization of the Farmers' State Bank and Trust company at Jacksonville, Morgan county; capital, $100,000.

To Thomas F. McFarland, Mark P. Bransfield, and Edward J. Flaherty for the organization of the Morgan Park Trust and Savings bank at Morgan Park, Cook county; capital, $25,000.

To Elias H. Wilson, Solomon Kabaker, Anton Zepolis, C. E. Parkin, Otis P. Graves, John Edward Maloy, Edward Barrett, and George E. Farrell for the organization of the Summit State bank at Summit, Cook county; capital, $25,000.

RECEIVERS ARE APPOINTED FOR TRACTION COMPANY.

Application Filed by Bank and Bondholders States That Chicago and Southern Road Is Insolvent.

Judge Charles M. Walker in the Circuit court yesterday appointed Joseph E. Otis, president of the Western Trust and Savings bank, and Matthew Slush, Detroit, receivers of the Chicago and Southern Traction company, on the application of the bank and a majority of the bondholders. Bonds were fixed at $25,00 each.

Last January a bill was filed charging that the officers of the road had looted its treasury. This bill was dismissed. The new application states that the road is insolvent. It is also set forth that it has defaulted for two years on the interest of a $2,500,000 bond issue authorized in January, 1907.

Attorney Isaac Mayer apeared for the majority bondholders, Attorney Ralph M. Shaw for the savings bank, and Attorney Jacob Newman for the minority bondholders.

ON TRAIL OF CORPORATIONS.

Capital Stock Committee of Board of Equalization Will Assess Delinquent Concerns.

Sprdingfield, Ill., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Capital stock committee of the state board of equalization today announced that in the absence of schedules, it would make capital stock assessments on such information as it was able to obtain independently of delinquent companies. It is preparing to collect this information through agencies of its own.

For some unexplained reason, many corporations have been slow about turning in schedules this year, and the list is short several hundred names. This does not include railroads, which have been unusually prompt in making returns. The railroad committee spent several hours listening to explanations of the schedules by attorneys representing various lines.

Owing to want of material on which to work, the capital stock committee took an early adjournment and the members returned home. They have set down several cases for hearing, but these will not be taken up until next Wednesday.

Evaporated Fruits.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Evaporated apples are steady with prices unchanged and a quiet trade on the spot. Fancy is quoted at 10c; choice, 8¾@9½c; prime, 8@8¾c; common to fair, 6¼@7½c; prunes firm owing to light offerings from the coast, quotations range from 3@10c for Californias up to 30-40s, and 7½@9½c for Oregons for 60@20s. Apricots, quiet and steady. Choice, 11¾@12c; extra choice, 12½@13c; fancy, 13½@14c. Peaches are steady, but inactive. Choice, 7@7½c; extra choice, 8@8½c; fancy, 8½@9c. Raisins are inactive, but there is little pressure to sell and prices are steady. Loose muscatels are quoted at 5¼@6c for 2 and 3 crown; choice to fancy seeded, 6¼@8c; seedless, 5@6c; London layers, $1.20@1.35.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—COFFEE—The market opened steady at a decline of 8@11 points under some scattering liquidation or local selling inspired by lower European cables. Offerings were not aggressive, however, owing to reports of sustained primary and spot markets, and during the afternoon a more active demand from leading trade interests caused an advance which closed the market firm at a net gain of 5@10 points. One of the big Brazilian interests was believed to be a buyer here during the afternoon, and part of the demand in the late trading was attributed to covering by European shorts. Sales were reported of 38,250 bags for the day. Closing bids follow: October, 8.80c; November, December and January, 8.85c; February, 8.86c; March, 8.87c; April, 8.88c; May, June, and July, 8.90c; August, 8.92c; and September, 8.94c. Havre was 1¼@1¾f lower at the hour of the local opening, but recovered ¼f of the loss. Hamburg closed ¼@1 pfg. lower. Rio, 75 reis lower, at 5$7.75; Santos weak, 4's 50 reis lower, at 5$6.50; 7s unchanged to 5$2.50. Receipts at the two Brazilian ports, 81,000 bags, against 149,000 last year and 95,000 two years ago. Jundiahy receipts, 54,500, against 88,000 last year. New York warehouse deliveries Monday, 19,418 bags, against 23,183 last year. Spot coffee steady; Rio No. 7, 10⅝@11c; Santos No. 4, 11⅝c. Mild coffee quiet; Cordova, 11¼@13¾c.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—RAW SUGAR—Barely steady; Muscovado, 89 test, 3.40c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3.90c. Molasses sugar, 89 test, 3.15c. Refined sugar quiet; crushed, 5.65c; granulated, 4.95c; powdered, 5.05c.

Montreal Broker Is Involved.

MONTREAL, Quebec, Oct. 11.—There was a run on the office of Charles D. Sheldon, an investment broker today, and all payments of outstanding accounts were refused. He operated a "blind pool" and said he had 3,000 customers and investments aggregating $3,000,000. He cannot be found.

CONFER ON COTTON BILLS.

Managing Director of London Bank and New York Financiers Discuss Problem.

New York, Oct. 11.—A conference relative to cotton bills of lading was held this afternoon between Sir Edward H. Holden, managing director of the London City and Midland bank, and a number of New York bankers who are interested in settling the dispute with foreign financial interests over guaranteeing such securities. No definite action was taken, but further conferences are to be held.

That is a very old story about the man who remonstrated with Nat Goodwin for taking his company to Australia.

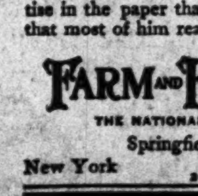

"There's nothing there but kangaroos," he said.

Nat's reply is historic.

"Isn't a kangaroo's money as good as anybody's?"

That should be your spirit if you manufacture goods for human beings—the farmer's money is just as good as anybody's—and you should add to this spirit the knowledge that the farmer will buy your goods if he knows about them. He won't know about them unless you advertise in the paper that he reads most and that most of him read—

BUSINESS, COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL SECTION

SUPREME COURT POSTPONES SUITS

Big Proceedings Deferred Till January Because of Lack of Full Bench.

LABOR CASES INCLUDED.

Oil, Tobacco, and Corporation Tax Actions Among Others Affected.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—Because of the failure to have a full bench in the Supreme court of the United States a general readjustment of important cases, set last spring for consideration this autumn, was made today by the court. It was the first business day of the eight months' term.

The Standard Oil and the tobacco corporation suits under the Sherman anti-trust law were postponed for rehearing to Jan. 3. The corporation tax cases, involving the constitutionality of the corporation tax provisions of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, which had been restored to the docket for rehearing before a full bench at an indefinite date, also was assigned for argument on Jan. 3. So were the cases involving the question of the correct penalty to be imposed on violators of the twenty-eight hour law, regulating the shipment of live stock, and the interpretation of the national pure food and drug act.

Expect Full Bench Then.

Although Presiding Justice Harlan did not say so, it is expected President Taft will have filled the two vacancies on the bench by that time and that the new members, the successors to Chief Justice Fuller and Justice Moody, will have assumed their places on the bench.

The importance of the questions involved also led the court to postpone until January a number of cases set for argument today. The boycott and contempt appeals, arising out of the injunction proceedings in the District of Columbia, brought against the American Federation of Labor by the Buck's Stove and Range company of St. Louis, Mo., were reassigned for Jan. 16. Samuel Gompers, president of the federation; Frank Morrison and John Mitchell, also officials of the organization, and all under sentences to jail for contempt, were in court.

The hearing in the suit between Virginia and West Virginia over the amount of the $33,000,000 state debt of Virginia, which the latter contends West Virginia should assume by reason of the latter being admitted into the union as a separate state, was reassigned for Jan. 16.

Sugar Case Up Nov. 10.

The Kissel case, involving the question as to whether or not the American Sugar Refining company and others conspired to prevent the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company from doing business, was postponed until Nov. 10 on account of illness of counsel.

The cases involving the constitutionality of the employers' liability law were reassigned for argument on Nov. 28.

Attempts to postpone consideration of the cases involving the peonage prosecutions from Florida and the Missouri 2 cent fare law were unsuccessful. Argument of the former was begun today. The latter will be heard probably this week.

Motions to advance a large number of cases were submitted to the court. Among these were cases involving the constitutionality of the Carmack amendment to the Hepburn rate law, making the initial carriers responsible for goods throughout the route, and the cases involving the constitutionality of the bank depositors guarantee laws of Oklahoma, Nebraska, and Kansas.

For various reasons nineteen cases were dismissed by the court. Among these were six cases involving the constitutionality of the drainage laws of Florida as amended in 1907.

Smiles from the Justices.

Justice Hughes had not been on the bench ten minutes today before he had to lay aside for a second the dignity of his office. He laughed. But so did the other justices.

Lawyers from nearly half the states were presented to take the oath as counselors of the court. Instead of moving the "admission" of a lawyer, one member of the bar, who evidently had come from a political convention in New York, said: "I move the nomination of Mr. ——." The same mistake was made by the next attorney.

The smiles from the bench brought the next attorney to his wits and henceforth only "admissions" were suggested.

BEARS IN GRAIN HAVE FIELD DAY

Future Prices Are Hammered Down to Lowest Level in Many Months.

ALL CEREALS ARE WEAK.

Abundance of Supplies and Limited Consumptive Demand Main Factors.

Bears had a field day on the board of trade yesterday and prices for wheat, corn, and oats were forced to the lowest levels yet reached in the present bear campaign. The start was weak, further declines were scored during midsession, and closing quotations were at about the lowest level of the day. In wheat declines of 1¼@1⅜c were scored; corn finished ⅞@1c lower, and oats were ⅝@⅞c down. The buying power was limited in all the pits, while liquidation was a feature.

The bearish government report of the previous day started renewed selling both of long stuff and also by the bears. The weakness of the market was shown by the freedom with which shorts were enabled to cover without lifting prices materially. Rallies were limited to small fractions in all pits, and there was a steady outpouring of long stuff.

News Is All Bearish.

In wheat the news was extremely bearish. Bradstreet's showed an increase of over 13,000,000 bu in world's stocks, which, coming after stocks had already increased to the highest point at this time in the history of the trade, was a bearish trump.

Last year the increase for the same week was only about half as much. In Europe stocks are piling up at a rapid rate, and supplies are burdensome in most quarters. At that the foreign markets were comparatively steady. Liverpool finished ⅝@⅞d lower, but Antwerp and Budapest were unchanged and Paris was steady to ¼c off. Berlin was 1⅛c off.

Russia continues to offer wheat in large quantities and there is no indications of any improvement in the situation in that direction. Other countries are also offering freely, and the European requirements are being more than filled outside of this country.

Stocks Are Increasing.

The steadily increasing stocks abroad, with the consequently remote chances of any export business with this country, caused several holders to dump their lines, which naturally increased the weakness. Shorts who have covered recently were again on the selling side and pressed the market when it was weak. Bartlett-Frazier, Logan-Bryan, Shearson-Hammill, and Lindman were free sellers. Armour bought a little on the break. There was a little buying by Chapin, Fitch, Nye-Jenks, and shorts on the break.

Argentine news was favorable. Rains have fallen in practically the entire country and prospects are now excellent. The better prospects in the South American country, however, did not have much effect abroad. In this country reports from the northwest indicated a fair movement of wheat, with an indifferent flour demand.

Cash wheat was in slow demand generally and sales here were 80,000 bu, mostly spring wheat. Premiums were steady. Primary arrivals were 980,000 bu. Local receipts were 43 cars, with 92 cars the estimate for today. Minneapolis and Duluth had 595 cars, against 817 cars a year ago, and Winnipeg had 682 cars, against 626 cars a year ago.

Corn Price Trend Downward.

While corn traders were not surprised particularly at the government figures indicating a crop of close to 3,000,000,000 bu, the effect of it on the market was depressing. Buyers were discouraged and tired holders unloaded, making a weak market. A continuation of ideal weather conditions for corn was also a factor against prices. Moreover, local bears were aggressive and helped along every decline. Stop loss selling on the break was a factor. Indications were for liberal selling by farmers and increased receipts.

Arrivals here were 345 cars, with 176 cars the estimated receipts for today. Primary points had 411,000 bu. Cash trade was moderate and sales aggregated only 105,000 bu. Sample prices were about ¾c lower. Liverpool was ⅝@¾d lower at the close.

Oats Under Heavy Pressure.

Oats values were forced to the lowest closing price on the crop. Offerings were free, shorts sellers again being aggressive. Recently there has been heavy covering of short oats. As the market did not respond to this buying and no new investment buying was apparent, the bears again took a whirl at the market.

Weakness in other grains helped the decline, while prospects for an abundance of oats throughout the year was a big factor. Receipts at primary centers were 652,000 bu. Local receipts were 256 cars, with 201 cars the estimate for today. Prices for sample oats were ½@1c lower, with very little demand. Shipping sales were 140,000 bu. Howe, Barrell, and Updike were free sellers. Buying was scattered, and principally by shorts. There was some selling of oats against purchases of corn.

Heavy Tone in Product.

Provisions were strong early, but closed heavy, the lower values for corn being a factor. Logan-Bryan bought about 4,000 lbs January lard early, which helped to firm the whole list, and there also was buying by Roberts and Hately. Later selling pressure became a little heavier, and values receded sharply.

Receipts here were 13,500, against 13,000 expected, and the expectation for today is 16,000. The cash trade is moderate. Packers were credited with buying product on the soft spots. Higher prices ruled for hogs, and the light receipts here and in the west was a bull help.

Flaxseed Is Unchanged.

Flaxseed was unchanged. No. 1 northwester closed at $2.65½; No. 1 from the northwest, $2.62½; No. 1 southwestern, $2.52½ and rejected, $2.42½@2.52½. Receipts were 2 cars. Duluth was ½@2½c lower. October and November closed at $2.65 and December, $2.59. Receipts were 67 cars. Minneapolis was ½c lower with cash on track, $2.66. Receipts were 22 cars.

Timothyseed was unchanged. March closed at $8.75 bid and $9.15 asked. Country lots, $7.25@8.50. October cloverseed closed, $15.50 nominal; country lots, $12.00@15.00.

Rye was easy. No. 2 was offered at 77c; No. 3 70@75c, and No. 4, 60@70c. Receipts estimated at 1 car.

Barley was firm. Malting was quoted, 72@77c; feed, 60@67c, and screenings, 35@50c. Receipts estimated at 70 cars.

N. Y. INSURANCE DEPARTMENT CRITICISES PROMOTION PLAN.

Protective Holding Company, Organized to Combine Various Concerns, Receives Attention of State Officials.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—The Protective Holding company, which was organized last year with ambition to dominate several large fire insurance companies, combine them and write "everything in insurance" has been receiving attention from the state insurance department lately.

In an official statement issued by the department today some methods of the concern are criticised and the public is warned against relying too implicity on statements contained in one of the company's prospectuses. The promotion methods of the Protective Holding company have been frowned upon by the insurance department, and because of criticism by examiners the method of selling stock by personal interviews has been abandoned and the company is at present doing a mail order business through the firm of Wightman & Dudley of 439 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Although no reference is made to the fact in the department's statement, Norman E. Mack, chairman of the national Democratic committee, is a director of the Protective Holding company.

COURTESY ON CARS IS URGED.

Countrywide Campaign in Interest of Passengers Presaged by Stand of Officitls.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 11.—A country wide crusade for courteous treatment of passengers on electric lines is presaged through the stand taken by R. I. Todd of Indianapolis, head of the transportation and traffic branch of the American Street and Interurban railway association, here in annual convention today.

Declaring that much of the present opposition to railway corporations is due to neglect or discourteous treatment by employés, Mr. Todd came out in favor of the expert training of the car crews to be kind and considerate toward passengers.

M. G. Brush of Boston counseled against the attempts on the part of trolley lines to compete with steam roads on excursion rates on long hauls, saying that necessity of separate crews for each electric car eats up profits. He said short hauls are more profitable.

DENIES RECEIVER FOR STORE.

Judge Landis Holds Chicago Establishment of Michael C. Simon Is Profit Producing Enterprise.

Judge Landis in the United States District court yesterday denied a motion for the appointment of an ancillary receiver for the Chicago store of Michael C. Simons, surviving member of the firm of Ely Meyer and Michael C. Simon, clothing manufacturers of Rochester, N. Y. Judge Landis was informed that the Chicago store is producing a profit and is competently managed and for that reason he denied the petition.

Seeks to Regain Life Co. Security.

Proceedings to obtain possession of a certificate of five shares of the capital stock of the Northern Life Insurance Company of Illinois were begun in the Circuit court yesterday by John Sherlaw. He alleges the certificate was obtained from him by [illegible] by "false and fraudulent [illegible]."

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

With prices for wheat, corn, and oats at the lowest figure on the crop and for corn and oats the lowest values in three years, the one big factor in the trade is the enormous quantity of grain available and the apparently limited demand.

In this country for the first time in several years there has been a bumper crop of everything for two years in succession, so that not only have reserve stocks been pretty well filled up but there will be a big amount of old corn carried over, while the carry over of wheat and oats was of liberal proportions.

Prices for several years have ruled high as the result of a comparative shortage of supplies at times in all the leading cereals. Now for two years have come big crops. In 1909 and 1910 there has been raised 1,428,000,000 bu wheat, 5,749,000,000 bu corn, and 2,103,000,000 bu oats, a grand total of 9,480,000,000 bu of the three leading cereals in two years.

As feeding requirements of the coarse grains have not averaged as large as a few years ago and as there is no export demand for our surplus wheat, there does not appear to be any occasion to look further for the cause of declining prices. The country simply appears to have a surfeit of wheat, corn, and oats.

John Inglis, the crop expert, has the following in regard to the government report: "In analyzing the government report on spring wheat it is a difficult matter to definitely approximate the different varieties. Neither state nor government makes any attempt at separating the acreage of durum from the regular or good milling wheat. About one-fifth of the acreage in the three northwestern states is of durum and velvet chaff. Thrashers' returns make no distinction. A serious error can be made in the yields if, for instance, too few or too many yields of durum, or vice versa, of the softer class are included in the returns."

The export demand for corn has been conspicuous by its absence on the break. The lower down prices have gone the poorer has been the demand, and Monday there were no bids here at all. The domestic cash demand was also quiet, while farmers are ready to sell their old corn before the new corn needs to be taken care of.

One of the chief sources of demand will be eliminated this year, as the south has raised a bumper crop of corn. This will make a big difference in the supply and demand conditions. Prospects, moreover, are for a carry-over of corn about double that of a year ago.

World's stocks of wheat on Oct. 1 were 205,000,000 bu, against 139,000,000 bu a year ago. The last week world's stocks increased, according to Bradstreet, another 13,000,000 bu, so that the difference now is much greater than on Oct. 1 compared to a year ago.

With this condition existing it was significant that Russia continues to offer wheat at the decline freely. The general impression in foreign markets is that Russia has practically an unlimited supply of wheat for sale this year and will continue to meet the sharpest kind of competition for some time to come.

The country is offering oats freely, but the steadily declining markets has reduced values every time a little below the country offers, so that actual purchases have been light. The country holders have generally offered the oats at a little above the market. All indications point to a freer movement, as large sales would probably result if the market for futures became steadier.

Kansas City, St. Louis, Toledo, and New York, as well as the Chicago board of trade, will be closed today. Minneapolis and Duluth have decided to remain open. The heavy receipts of grain in the northwest is the main reason for those markets keeping open.

Bradstreet's report of the available supply last week shows the following increases:

	1910.	1909.
Wheat, east of Rockies	*844,000	3,188,000
Canada	4,017,000	1,935,000
U. S. and Canada	3,173,000	5,123,000
Europe and afloat	10,000,000	1,700,000
Total world's stock	13,173,000	6,823,000
Corn	*404,000	155,000
Oats	*312,000	667,000

*Decrease.

President Ellis of the New Orleans board of trade addressed the members of the board of trade from the visitors' gallery right after the close of change. His speech was for the purpose of enlisting the support of the board of trade members on behalf of New Orleans as the most desirable place for the Panama exposition.

"I think corn is a purchase on dips from this level," said S. P. Arnot. "Corn is now several cents a bushel below the cent a pound basis, while oats are several cents higher. As a result purchases of corn against sales of oats are being made. The corn is meeting with a fair demand on the break."

Wool.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 11.—Odd lot transactions with unchanged values continue to dominate the local wool market. Some territory staple is being bought by manufacturers and a slight demand has arisen for Ohio fleeces, but the market is dull. Still the local trade is in a hopeful mood and there is no disposition to mark down prices to instigate buying, the general belief being that the manufacturers will be seeking wool within a short time. To support this view it is pointed out that there is a steady increase in sampling, especially in California and eight months Texas, and much interest shown in all lines of territory stock. The leading domestic quotations range as follows: Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces: Delaine washed, 34c; XX, 30c; fine unmerchantable, 24@25c; half blood combing, 28@29c; three-eighth blood combing, 28@29c; quarter blood combing, 26½@27½c; delaine unwashed, 26@27½c; fine unwashed, 21@23c. Michigan, Wisconsin, New York fleeces: Fine unwashed, 19@21c; delaine unwashed, 26@27c; half blood unwashed, 27@28c; three-eighth blood unwashed, 27@28c. Kentucky, Indiana, and Missouri: Three-eighth blood, 28@29c; quarter blood, 27@28c. Scoured basis: Texas, fine 12 months, 57@60c; fine, 6 to 8 months, 55@58c; fine fall, 50c. California northern, 55@58c; middle country, 50@51c; southern, 46@48c; Fall, free, 45@48c.

GOOD UNDERTONE OF MARKET BRINGS 1-2 CENT RISE IN EGGS.

Local Retailers and Consumers Active Buyers—Most Potatoes on Track Common, but Fine Offerings in Demand.

Egg prices at Chicago continued their upward climb yesterday, a further gain of ½c bringing all graded arrivals to 1c higher than at the close last week. Local retailers and consumers were active buyers at the upturn and the market had a buoyant undertone. Butter and cheese trade continued slow and weak, with buyers curtailing operations in the hope of forcing dealers to announce reduced prices.

NATION TO FIGHT LUMBER COMBINE

Sherman Law Will Be Invoked Against Members of the Alleged Trust.

SEE FIXING OF PRICES.

Handicap Found in Fact Most of Evils Are Committed in Single States.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—The next prosecution to be undertaken by the Taft administration under the Sherman law may be directed at the so-called lumber trust. Attorney General Wickersham, it became known today, is studying the reports now being made to him by investigators of the lumber trade.

The attorney general is trying to discover whether the operations of the lumber magnates like the Weyerhaeusers and Edward Hines of Chicago are in violation of the anti-trust act. Several months ago Mr. Wickersham sent investigators into the field to conduct an inquiry independent of the comprehensive examination of the lumber trade being made by Commissioner of Corporations Herbert Knox Smith. The report of the latter is to be issued within a few weeks.

Most Combines Are Intrastate.

The reports from the department of justice investigators have been coming in for the last fortnight. It is said that they show the existence of a number of lumber combinations in restraint of trade, but that these are confined within the boundaries of a single state. So long as the combination does not operate in interstate commerce it is up to the state and not the federal government to deal with its acts.

The investigators have reported on conditions discovered in Chicago, Kansas City, Minneapolis, St. Paul, and St. Louis. Each of these cities, it is understood, has been found to be the headquarters of lumber combines of various kinds. Prices are controlled in territory contiguous to these cities.

Find "Black List" Is Used.

Lumber territory is divided between dealers and the blacklist is used by the combine to prevent dealers from cutting prices. The dealer who sells below the agreed price cannot, if discovered, obtain a continued supply of lumber from the combine. This is said to be the case in Illinois, which has an anti-trust law, but so far as is known no attempt has been made to proceed against the lumber combine under it.

One report is said to have contained evidence upon which the attorney general may find it possible to proceed against the dealers under the federal statute. There is, it is alleged, complete control of the price of a certain variety of pine lumber, which control is exercised beyond the confines of individual states. It is this particular point which the attorney general is investigating.

MAKE APPEAL TO CHICAGOANS TO HELP WIN BIG EXPOSITION.

Gov. Sanders of Louisiana and Mayor Behrman of New Orleans Want Panama Celebration Held in Crescent City.

At the regular Tuesday luncheon of the Cook county real estate board at Vogelsang's restaurant yesterday, Gov. J. Y. Sanders of Louisiana and Mayor Martin Behrman of New Orleans appealed to the business men of Chicago to help them in their efforts to land the Panama exposition in the great city of the south in 1915.

"Chicago is the typical American city," said Gov. Sanders. "Some people say that it is crude. So is America crude. Some people say that it is always in a hurry. This is a hurrying age.

"Today the entire south is thrilled with a new life and new ambition. It is what the south is going to do that will surprise the world."

Albert H. Tyrrell presided at the luncheon and introduced the speakers. The speakers' table contained Congressmen M. B. Madden and George R. Foss, Gov. Sanders, Mayor Behrman, J. L. Wright of New Orleans, M. B. Trezevant of New Orleans, John P. Foster, Henry T. Carr, and Albert H. Tyrrell.

HEINZE PARTNER IS BANKRUPT.

Member of Brokerage Company Has Unknown Liabilities and No Assets, Petition Says.

New York, Oct. 11.—Max H. Schultze of Locust Valley, Long Island, a member of the brokerage firm of Otto Heinze & Co., in a voluntary petition in bankruptcy today states that he has unknown liabilities and no assets. He names thirty-five secured creditors. F. Augustus Heinze being one of them. Schultze explains that he is unable to give the amounts of the claims of the various creditors because the books of Otto Heinze & Co. are not in his possession.

ORDINANCE AIDS LOCAL RAILWAYS

Chicago Co. Securities Have a Brisk Upturn; End of Tangle Is Seen.

"L" SHARES ALSO FIRMER.

Expected with Consolidated Traction Out of Way Merger May Be Pushed.

Chicago Railways securities had a brisk upturn yesterday because of the passage of the Consolidated Traction ordinance, which it was taken to mean would be the beginning of the end of the tangles of the Chicago Railways company. It was thought in the market that the receivership might soon be discontinued and the company be enabled to assume its proper position in the matter of credit and earning power.

Nearly every security associated with either the company or Henry A. Blair's plans improved. It is expected that with the Consolidated Traction out of the way the elevated railroad merger will be proceeded with. In consequence there was a much firmer feeling in elevated securities. South Side Elevated advanced one point.

The feature of the trading was a pronounced activity in series 2 and series 1 of the Chicago Railways company. Series 2 was the most active and advanced from 16½ to 18. The close was at 17½. The principal buying was by room traders, who were alert in catching what they thought would be the drift of sentiment toward the certificates. Series 1 was less active but made a larger advance. It moved from 67 to 71 and closed at 70. The first mortgage 5 per cent bonds jumped from 96⅝ to 98¾.

The general list of other stocks, with the exception of Brick, was firm. Swift's shares were up ¼. McCrum-Howell common advanced from 59¼ to 59⅝. Match advanced from 88½ to 91. Illinois Brick opened at 59 and closed at 58½.

New York Has Turned Corner.

Joseph E. Otis, president of the Western Trust and Savings bank, returned from New York during the day. Speaking of the money situation there, he said:

"New York sentiment is much improved. This is due first of all to the fact that the banks now feel they can take care of all demands to be made upon them this fall. They have arranged to finance their needs and no longer worry over the money outlook. Then there has been decided improvement in the bond market, and this is encouraging, for it suggests opportunity to market bonds.

"The stock market is gradually broadening out. The bankers observed that when bad news comes out the market is only temporarily affected. It is thought the cotton bills of lading matter will be adjusted."

September Clearings.

While September showed as did August another decrease in local bank clearings, Chicago figures compared more favorably with 1909 than did figures of either New York or Boston. This is true also of the report for the first three quarters of the current year as compared with the corresponding period of 1909, and this condition is reflected in the divisions represented by the three cities.

The middle, New England, and middle western divisions all showed decreases in exchanges during September, while the Pacific, other west, and southern divisions showed gains. The whole country showed a loss of 16.1 per cent, although the cities outside of New York reported 1.3 per cent gains. Figures for nine months show a gain of 2.6 per cent.

Figures for ten cities clearing over $100,000,000 during August compare as follows:

*Decrease.

The company's balance sheet as of June 30, 1910:

Proceeds of "Soo" Bonds.

Proceeds from the sale of the $3,600,000 bonds recently authorized by the stockholders of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie and approved by the Michigan railway commission will go toward the outlay on 180 miles of Minnesota tracks laid during the last year and a half, the longest section lying between Bemidji and Plummer. This connection gives a new line between all eastern and southern points and the wheat fields of the continent.

The Soo line is reported to have finished arrangements for the acquisition of the property of the Superior Shipbuilding company at Superior, Wis., a subsidiary of the American Shipbuilding company. The property is valued at around $1,000,000. The Soo already owns through subsidiaries large dock frontage at Superior. The new purchase has added strength to the rumor that the Soo line will establish a water freight line, enabling closer operation with the Canadian Pacific.

Appreciation in Coppers.

Quotations from the Boston copper share market show that the recent high quotations reveal a total appreciation of something over $94,000,000 in market values of thirty-five representative issues as compared with the low records of July. Of this appreciation Amalgamated, with 1,532,879 shares outstanding, has contributed $17,628,108 in the rise from 55¼ to 66⅝. Utah Copper, with 1,560,717 shares outstanding, has risen in market value from 39⅝ to 50, a total appreciation of $15,997,349. A 5 point rise in Superior and Pittsburg gives $7,476,870, and North Butte's rise from 18 to 31⅝ gives $5,686,250 more.

The average of twenty issues reached low on July 12, when 40.86 was recorded. August's low was 43.45 and high 49.18. The present average is less than 49.

Earnings of Anaconda.

Anaconda's present production is showing a slight falling off, despite denials of curtailment. It averages between 23,000,000 and 25,000,000 pounds a month, this a yearly rate of around 275,000,000 pounds. The cost of production a year ago at the Butte mines was 10¼ cents. This has been cut 2 cents a pound, and the year's average should be little above 9 cents a pound.

With copper at 12¼ cents, this would give net earnings for the year of about $10,000,000, or well over $1,500,000 above dividend requirements. Production could be increased to 30,000,000 pounds a month on short notice, and a 33 1-3 per cent increase to plant capacity is considered.

Sears-Roebuck Common.

The following was wired from New York:

"It may be definitely stated that no other announcement of importance will be made after the meeting of Sears-Roebuck & Co. directors in Chicago on Saturday, than that of the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the common stock.

"The directors will, however, meet late in November or early in December, when a substantial distribution to stockholders, representing the profits of the company, will, it is understood, be made. It will, in all probability, take the form of a large stock dividend.

"It has been intimated that this amount will be 66 2-3 per cent on the common stock, increasing that issue to $50,000,000, and that at the same time the preferred stock will be retired. The company could still easily pay 7 per cent dividends on a capitalization of $50,000,000.

"It may be stated, however, that the exact amount of the stock distribution has not been definitely determined other than it will be a large one."

Currency Association.

Directors of the Monroe National bank met during the day and authorized the bank's membership in the local currency association. President Edwin F. Brown was named as the representative, with Vice President T. C. Neal as alternate. The directors also declared the regular quarterly dividend.

Dividends Declared.

The Kerr Lake Mining company declared regular quarterly dividend of 25c a share and the usual extra dividend of 25c a share, both payable Dec. 15 to stock of record Dec. 1.

The United States Realty and Improvement company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent, payable Nov. 1 to holders of record Oct. 20.

The Monroe National bank of Chicago has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1 per cent, payable Nov. 1 to stock of record Oct. 22. Books will close Oct. 23; reopen Nov. 3.

Money and Exchange.

New State Banks.

The state auditor has granted authority for the organization of two state banks in the vicinity of Chicago, each with $25,000 capital. The petitioners for the Morgan Park Trust and Savings bank of Morgan Park were T. F. MacFarland, Mark P. Bransfield, and E. J. Flaherty. Permit for organizing the Summit State bank at Summit was issued to Elias H. Wilson, Solomon Karaker, Anton Zopelic, C. E. Parlin, Otis P. Groves, J. E. Maloy, Edward Barnett, and George E. Farrell. A permit to organize the State Bank and Trust company of Jacksonville, capital $100,000, was issued to Arthur L. French, D. Rees Browning, and Frank J. Heinl.

IN THE BOSTON STOCK MARKET

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Today's copper share market was irregular, with Hancock the strong feature, up to 2⅛c. Elsewhere in the list gains were about offset by losses. In the general list gains of a full point in Fruit, Swift and Shoe Machinery were features. Telephone gained fractionally. Call money, 3@3½ per cent; time loans, short dates, 5 per cent; time loans, six months, 5@5½ per cent; time loans, year, 5@5½ per cent.

Petitions in Bankruptcy.

18170—Petition of the Kingly Shirt Co. to have an ancillary receiver appointed for Michael C. Simon, surviving member of the firm of Ely Meyer and Michael C. Simon; liabilities, $750,000; assets, $500,000. Lipson & Lacy, attorneys.

STOCKS ADVANCE; TRADING ACTIVE

Rise in Prices Followed by a Large Volume of Business in New York Market.

POOLS RESUME WORK.

Industrial Issues Form Chief Attraction for Operations of Speculators.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

New York, Oct. 11.—[Special.]—The rise in prices which followed the publication of the excellent government crop report Monday afternoon was resumed at the opening of business on the stock exchange today and in the forenoon session a point or so was added to the average price of active railroad and industrial shares.

Trading during this period was extremely active, running to more than 100,000 shares an hour, but by noon the movement seemed to have spent its force for the time being and on diminished transactions prices were shaded by fractions. In the last hour another spurt of activity brought with it such crosscurrents of buying and selling, save in the case of specialties, that the final result for the day was above the previous night's levels.

Pool Operations Significant.

Aside from the evidence of underlying strength supplied by the course of prices the most interesting feature of the day's business was plain proof of the resumption of operations in a number of departments by small and large pools. Their handiwork was evident in International Harvester, Virginia Carolina Chemical, American Cotton Oil, Car and Foundry shares, Central Leather, and, in the railroad list, in Colorado Southern. Apparently the pessimism which so long ruled the stock exchange is giving way to a temper of optimism.

By far the most interesting piece of news of the day was the suggestion in private cables from London that the cotton bills of lading controversy was there looked upon as practically settled.

Foreign Exchange Weak.

Foreign exchange was exceptionally weak, demand sterling dropping thirty points in the course of the day, and the movement probably was not unconnected with the outlook for the breaking of the deadlock. Call money ran up to 3½ per cent, suggesting what the rate might be were excited speculation to break out on the stock exchange, and the bank reported another loss to the subtreasury, bringing the total to above $3,000,000 since Friday last, as against a loss of less than $1,000,000 in all last week.

Routine matters included the submission of a number of annual railroad reports, including the excellent documents of the Erie and Southern railway, the bureau of statistics' statement of domestic exports for September, which ran to a record volume for the month well above the corresponding period of 1909, and the marking down of wheat and corn prices on produce exchanges in response to the government's crop showing. Cotton speculation again was active, with sharp price advances in all options.

Money on call steady, 2¾@3½ per cent; ruling rate, 2¾; closing bid, 3; offered at 3. Time loans dull and steady; sixty days, 4¼ per cent; ninety days, 4½@4¾; six months, 4½@4¾. Close: Prime mercantile paper, 5½@6 per cent. Sterling exchange weak, with actual business in bankers' bills at 482.70@482.80 for sixty day bills, and at 485.80 for demand. Commercial bills, 482¼@482½. Bar silver, 54⅝. Mexican dollars, 45. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds firm.

IN THE FOREIGN STOCK MARKET.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Money was quiet and discount rates were steady today. The commencement of the settlement and easy continental advices caused irregularity on the stock exchange. Rubber shares weakened on liquidation and the decline in raw rubber, and home rails were easy, while kaffirs, foreign rails, and copper shares were steady. American securities opened steady, but fair buying during the first hour advanced the active issues. Later Wall street bought lightly, and the market closed steady.

Bar silver, steady, 22 3-16d per ounce. Money, 1¾@2 per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 3⅜ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for three months' bills is 3⅜ per cent.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—The railroad strike caused a weak opening on the bourse today. French rentes and railroad stocks declined and the whole market was affected. Prices improved near the close, except for French and Portuguese rentes. Closing: Three per cent rentes, 96 francs 75 centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 23 centimes for checks.

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—Prices were weaker on the boerse today. Exchange on London, 20 marks 45½ pfennigs for checks. Money, 3½ per cent. Private discount rate, 4 per cent.

COTTON MARKET CLOSES FIRM; NET GAIN OF 6 TO 13 POINTS.

Early Decline in Prices Followed by Sharp Advance, with October Contracts Making New High Record.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—An early decline in the cotton market was followed by a sharp advance, with October contracts making a new high record for the season and the close firm at a net gain of 6@13 points for the day.

The opening was steady at an advance of 5 points on October, but generally to 7 points higher. During the early trading the market sold off to a net loss of 12@15 points under heavy realizing and local bear pressure inspired by indifferent cables, continued good weather in the south aside from some further precipitation in Texas, and predictions of a falling off in spot demand following the completion of October engagements. Big blocks changed hands on the decline, and while prices worked lower, there was aggressive selling for a reaction. Trade interests were large buyers on a scale down, and as soon as offerings for long account became smaller many of the early sellers turned for cover, with the result that prices soon firmed up from the lowest.

BOLL WEEVIL AID TO STATE, HE SAYS

Gov. Sanders of Louisiana Tells Grain Men of Planters' "Awakening."

COTTON BAD; RAISE CORN.

And Now, Asserts Speaker at Chicago Convention, Residents Are Prosperous.

Gov. Jared Y. Sanders of Louisiana took his hat off to the boll weevil yesterday and credited the Mexican cotton pest with being responsible for "making" the state of which he is the executive.

The governor of the southern state paid eloquent tribute to the insect immigrant from our sister country in an address before the Grain Dealers' National association in convention at the Hotel La Salle.

"Before the advent of the boll weevil in Louisiana, about four years ago," said Gov. Sanders, "we raised cotton so cheaply that while we clothed the naked we ourselves were hungry. This condition maintained until the boll weevil taught the people of our state more than any agricultural college.

Lesson the Weevil Taught.

"It taught us the lesson that we had an agricultural country; that we could raise grain every month of the year. As a result of this lesson on Jan. 1, 1910, we awoke to the fact that we had more money on deposit in our banks than ever before in the history of the state.

"Last year Louisiana for the first time shipped millions of bushels of corn that graded No. 1. We have become a great corn producing state; we have become a great truck producing state. Louisiana has a conjunction of climate and soil that enables us to harvest a crop every month of the year.

"Cotton is a thing of the past. We used to raise from a million to a million and a half bales of cotton. Now we raise between 200,000 and 250,000 bales, and we just raise that to let the rest of the country know that there isn't anything that we can't raise in Louisiana.

Gov. Sanders also spoke in behalf of New Orleans as the logical place for holding an international exposition to commemorate the opening of the Panama canal.

Statistics Chief Sends Letter.

An invitation had been extended by Fred Mayer of Toledo, O., chairman of the committee on crop reports, to Victor H. Olmsted, chief of the bureau of statistics of the United States department of agriculture, to be present.

The request that he explain the system of gathering crop statistics against which criticism has been made from time to time by the grain men of the country, brought forth a letter which was read by Mr. Mayer.

Mr. Olmsted's letter described in detail the method of collecting, tabulating, and disseminating each month the report showing crop conditions.

"Unbiased crop reports," wrote Mr. Olmsted, "are especially of value to the farmers of the country. By this means they are enabled to keep in touch with conditions governing the value of their products and are not at the mercy of some speculator."

130,000 Correspondents Paid Nothing.

The information contained in the government's reports, Mr. Olmsted explained, is gathered by a corps of 130,000 voluntary correspondents, none of whom receive compensation for their services.

Then there is a corps of special field agents, each of whom has one or two states under his jurisdiction. It is the duty of the agent to visit the different sections in his field from time to time, interview farmers, and make personal investigation of fields.

In addition information is received regularly from mills, elevators, and others interested in the trade.

DRY GOODS PRICES FIRMER IN THE NEW YORK MARKET.

Selling Agents and Manufacturers Still Discussing Question of Quotations—Prints Show More Strength

New York, Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Selling agents and manufacturers of cotton goods are still discussing the question of prices on goods for future delivery. Since the week opened there has been a gradual hardening of prices in several quarters, especially bleached goods. Print cloths and gray goods are on a firmer basis, with some buyers inclined to cover further ahead. Mills are not anxious to accept orders beyond the turn of the year at current prices, especially in view of firmer conditions in the cotton yarn market.

Manufacturers have been complaining for some time that there is no profit in the prices they have been accepting and they will not take on contracts for forward delivery at these figures. Staple lines of 4-4 bleached goods have been placed at value, and in other cases prices have been advanced with statements to the effect that still further advances are pending in the immediate future.

A heavy decline in the exports of cotton goods for the first eight months of the year is causing considerable worry in several quarters and the question is being asked as to whether prices are too high for the foreign buyers. That there has been a heavy decline in the business so far this year is shown by the official figures. Spring lines are moving slowly, although showing some improvement in one or two quarters.

Print cloths are moving more freely in some quarters, but orders are not large. Offers for some fair sized lots are being made and sales likely will be put through shortly. Mills are holding 38½ inch 64 squares at 5⅜c, and 39 inch 68x72s at 5⅝c. Narrow goods firmly held, with 28 inch standards at 3⅝c.

OLD SOUTH SIDE RESIDENCE SOLD

L. D. Condee Disposes of His Kenwood Residential Landmark for $25,000.

BIG LOANS ARE FEATURES

Bedford Building Is Security for One; Ald. Powers Buys Apartments.

Another Kenwood residential landmark, the home of L. D. Condee, the attorney, is to give way to an apartment building. The property, which is at the northwest corner of Woodlawn avenue and Forty-sixth street, has been sold by Mr. Condee and wife to Edward I. Bloom, the builder, for $25,000. The dwelling is a large old two story frame and the lot is of unusual size, having a frontage on Woodlawn avenue of 110 feet and a depth of 194 feet. Mr. Bloom plans to improve the property with an ultra large high grade building of fifteen apartments which are expected to rent at $150 to $200 a month.

Mr. Condee purchased the house and grounds from Charles H. Dupee in 1882 and has made his home there since. The house, which contains about twenty rooms, was built by Mr. Dupee just after the big fire of '71.

Two large loans which were made matters of record constituted an interesting feature in yesterday's real estate market developments. In one of these the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company extended a loan of $250,000 to Cyrus H. McCormick, five years, at 4¾ per cent, secured by the thirteen and a half story Bedford building at the southeast corner of Dearborn and Adams streets. The original loan was made in August, 1894, with 5 per cent interest.

Road Secures Bond Issue.

In the other the Chicago River and Indiana railroad company, a belt line, has executed a trust deed to the Merchants Loan and Trust company, trustee, to secure a $500,000 refunding first mortgage 5 per cent twenty years gold bond issue. The issue is stated to be for the purpose of refunding, redeeming, purchasing, and paying for at maturity the underlying bonds now outstanding, amounting to $250,000, and for future enlargement, extension, and equipment of the properties of the company, or for the acquisition of railways and other properties. The bonds are redeemable on any semi-annual interest date with premium of 5 per cent and accrued interest.

Bunte Bros., confectioners, paid Robert W. Gordon $10,000 for five feet of ground on West Monroe street, thirty feet west of Desplaines street, which is at the rate of $2,000 a front foot, a record price for property in that vicinity. The explanation for the high price, as well as for the small amount of frontage, which is 189 feet deep, is thought to be found in this statement in the deed: "This conveyance is given in full satisfaction for damage by reason of any encroachment of buildings or foundations owned by the grantee upon the property of the grantor."

Ald. John Powers appears as purchasing from William J. Turner the nine apartment building, with 36x130 feet of ground, at the northeast corner of Drexel avenue and Fifty-seventh street. The consideration is nominal, subject to an incumbrance of $20,000, but it is understood the price was around $35,000. Ald. Powers gave in part payment west side and Oak Park vacant.

Sells Apartment Building.

William E. Hall has sold to William R. Beisel the six apartment building in Crescent place, 228 feet east of Evanston avenue, with 60x161 feet of ground, south front, for $30,000, subject to an incumbrance of $15,750. Mr. Hall took in part payment 235x123 feet vacant in Ashland avenue, 124 feet north of Roscoe street, valued at $15,000.

David A. Levy has purchased from Samuel Brown Jr. the property at the southwest corner of Belmont avenue and West Ravenswood park, 50x125 feet, with six flat building, for $22,000, subject to an incumbrance of $12,500.

Extend Lease to City.

Montgomery Ward & Co. have extended for a term of ten years to the city, a lease of the property at the southwest corner of Michigan avenue and Washington, for use as a fire engine house. The rent is $3,600 a year, $300 a month in advance.

The Hibernian Banking association has sold to Luette S. Goodbody, 29x149 feet in North Clark street, 125 feet south of Burton place, west front, for $11,000.

The National Life Insurance company has conveyed to Edward A. Shedd the property in Thirty-first street, 175 feet west of South Park avenue, 63¼x120 feet, for a stated consideration of $28,000.

Leander D. Boyd has sold to Timothy Dwight, lot 18, block 11 in White's addition to Evanston, with improvements for $17,000, subject to an incumbrance of $12,000, assumed.

The recorder's office will be closed today as well as all other offices in the county building because of Columbus day.

Employment Agencies.

"THINK," HIGH GRADE WOMEN.
Of the thousands of others we have placed in better positions with Chicago's most exclusive firms, and you staying away, possibly because of some prejudice or lack of knowledge of OUR PROPOSITION.
We are under direction of Business Men's Clearing House [high grade men exclusively], who have stood the test for 6 long years. We are the department for handling high grade women. As we stand in a distinct class by ourselves, there is no comparison. Don't confuse us with the ordinary employment agencies. They are all right, but "we're different." It costs nothing to drop in and look over the many excellent positions now open for Private Secretaries, Department Heads, Correspondents, Bookkeepers and Assistants, Stenographers and Beginners, and all kinds of girls for general office work, the principal requirement being good penman and fair at figures; 4 Demonstrators, $12-$15, permanent, high grade goods; 12 Typists, $8-$12, various firms. Besides the many high grade openings we are extremely shy on beginner general office girls who are willing to start in for $5-$8 per week, principal requirement being good penman. These positions are in the loop, with the medium sized firms. We are also very short on beginner stenographers and bookkeepers, as well as the higher grade combination bookkeepers and stenographers up to $18 per week.
Hurry over today. All interviews strictly confidential, in private offices.

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands or incomes from other sources] who want large or small sums confidentially, with or without security. My location [30 minutes from loop district], and my being the president of a large wholesale vehicle establishment [Bradstreet's and other agencies show its standing] and not a professional money lender, assures a privacy not possible to those who deal with brokers in downtown office buildings where money lenders congregate. My customer's name and address are known only to me; my employes know accounts only by serial number. Professional lenders demand high rates, usually asking so much that the average straightforward citizen realizes that exorbitant charges for any time are burdensome. My average price, all charges positively included, is never more than 1, 2, or 3 per cent monthly, often less, depending on risk and amount loaned. Individual waiting rooms. Ask for WILLCOXE, care the Englewood Co., 1101-1105 E. 63d-st., corner Greenwood-av. Telephone Hyde Park 4533.

BANKRUPT PIANO STOCK
of the Thompson Piano Mfg. Co.
We bought the entire stock for 25 cents on the dollar on order of the United States District Court from the American Trust and Savings Bank.
This will enable you to get just the piano or player-piano you want at a reduction in price from 1-3 to ½.
Make no mistake. Do not be misled.
Visit every piano store in town and you will come back and purchase from us, because the saving is from $100 to $250 on pianos of the highest standard during this Bankrupt Piano Sale.
Shrewd purchasers are taking advantage of it. To be sure, you may have to wait a few minutes when you call. Most of our salesmen are busy, but it will pay you to wait, because every minute you wait you earn dollars.
Every one of these pianos and player-pianos should be sold for cash, on account of the enormous price reduction.
The entire Bankrupt stock must be disposed of. None will be reserved. For this reason we will make the terms to those who have not all the cash from $4 to $10 per month.
Included in this stock are new and used Steger, Chickerings, Steinways, Shoningers, Knabe, Hardmans, Sohmers, Mason & Hamlin, Emersons—in fact, nearly every standard make represented.
Every instrument is marked in plain figures, showing former price and Receiver's sale price.
Our own guarantee goes with every piano we sell.

UNION OPENS WAR ON OPERA

Aroused by Lack of Chicagoans in Orchestra.

SAYS PATRONS ARE FOOLED.

Issues Denial That Company Is Local Enterprise.

In retaliation for alleged breach of good faith in the matter of employing members of the orchestra, the Chicago Federation of Musicians yesterday decided to use all possible influence in an effort to cause music lovers to withhold patronage from the Chicago Grand Opera company.

With only one dissenting vote the musicians at a meeting of the union adopted resolutions protesting against the action of Manager Andreas Dippel in hiring a majority of the orchestra members outside of Chicago. Nearly 300 musicians attended the meeting and the discussion on the subject continued more than two hours.

Denies It Is Chicago Enterprise.

Speakers denounced the management for failing to carry out a promise made by Manager Dippel last spring, when he appeared before the executive board of the union and said that at least forty Chicago musicians would be employed in the orchestra. The resolutions, which were presented by President Joseph W. Winkler, declare that support for the opera company has been obtained by "gross misrepresentation" and that in view of the changed character of the opera company music lovers and prospective patrons should know that the opera is no longer a Chicago enterprise.

"Instead of forty Chicago musicians in the orchestra, I find now that only two men were employed," said President Winkler.

General Musical Conductor Cleofonte Campanini, who reached Chicago during the day, said the best musicians in the orchestra were Chicagoans and that Chicago should be satisfied with this.

Bookbinders Go on Strike.

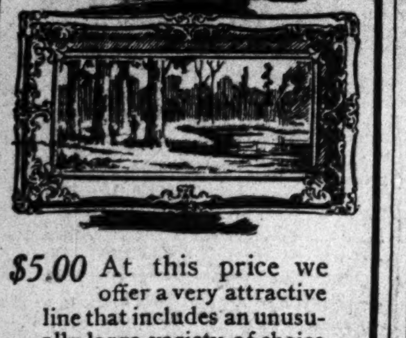

A force of forty bookbinders went on strike at the plant of the Chicago Shipping Receipt and Book company, 3021 Carroll avenue, during the day. Officials of the concern announced following the walkout that henceforth the plant will be operated as an "open shop."

Imported

Oil Paintings

We have just received another large and varied assortment of oil paintings selected by our representative in the art centers of Europe—Venetian scenes, sheep and cattle pictures, figure subjects and landscapes. Many are specially priced—and notable values afforded in every instance.

$5.00 At this price we offer a very attractive line that includes an unusually large variety of choice landscapes. These are shown in rich gilt and burnished frames; 12x18 canvas measurement. Excellent selection, at a popular price—$5.00.

$7.00 These paintings are similar to those at $5.00, excepting that they are larger in size, measuring 12x24 and 16x20—very desirable shapes for use over the piano or over the mantel. The variety is quite extensive.

$9.00 to $12.00 Venetian scenes, cattle and sheep subjects and landscapes constitute this assortment, which offers the best values we have presented so far this season. The unusual diversity of this collection affords opportunity to select paintings suitable for use in various parts of the home at a nominal cost.

$25.00 to $150 A large variety of all kinds of subjects—the production of prominent artists of Paris, Venice and London come within this extensive price range. To customers who have purchased paintings from us within the last year we need only mention the names of Wissner, Fisher, Alsina and Rose, to call to their mind the very attractive canvases offered in this grouping.

Women's Ready-to-Wear Apparel

We emphasize the value of our ready-to-wear garments. Every demand of style, choice of materials or color can be filled from our diversified stocks. Reasonableness in prices prevails.

WOMEN'S TAILORED SUITS—AT $40, as illustrated, this, one of many smart styles at $40.00, is a copy of an imported model. The coat has a slight cutaway effect with sailor collar inlaid with black satin and touches of oriental hand embroidery. The back is novel in design with simulated empire effect, finished with small bone buttons. The skirt has a panel front and back, with cut folds, and is also trimmed with buttons.

AND AT $25, suit, as illustrated, is representative of our complete line of suits at $25. The coat is 28 inches long, strictly plain tailored, lined with peau de cygne. The skirt is a conservative style with plait in front and back, and gored sides. Comes in novelty mixtures, suitable for most practical service.

The Matthews success has been attained by a strict adherence to our fixed determination to give value in our apparel.

Value today means vastly more than just "how fine the material is." There are two other words that with us are indissolubly linked with it—namely, style-value and foundation-value.

The former is fully taken care of in the lines of a Matthews garment, and the inward goodness or foundation of a Matthews model is known wherever our raiment goes.

THE NAME WITH A MEANING:

Athena UNDERWEAR

Athena was a Greek divinity idolized by Homer as the most beautiful woman that ever lived. One of her attributes was Patroness of Spinning and Weaving.

¶ So Athena Knit Underwear comes rightly by this name. It is beautiful. It has . . . style . . . fit . . . comfort . . . warmth without bulk . . . and above all else . . . quality.

¶ Until Athena Underwear was perfected, ill-fitting garments hanging loosely upon the figure and in wrinkles, were every woman's distraction and a serious handicap to the modiste.

¶ Athena Underwear has made women appreciate this one fact—comfort, in underwear is no less essential than style correctness in outer attire.

¶ Athena Underwear, true to its name, shows successful effort towards something more than mere warmth. It is scaled on a system of actual measurements . . . clothes the body perfectly . . . fits with the smoothness of a stocking.

¶ There are too many of these points of merit to be told in this limited space. We want women to see these garments . . . it will be well worth a few moments spent in our Underwear Section.

¶ We welcome the opportunity the new clinging, close-fitting gowns give us to show how essential is the smooth, perfect fitting Athena Underwear to the woman desirous of style as well as comfort Games Today.

St. Louis at Chicago. Boston at Brooklyn.

BY R. W. LARDNER.

Mr. Reulbach had his tryout yesterday. He showed speed at different points around the course, but his performance on the whole failed to shorten the odds on the Cubs for the big derby.

Chicago won the game in ten innings, 4 to 3. Mr. Zimmerman, who had been meat for the tall, golden haired Golden previously, produced a single just when it was beginning to look like a tie and no vacation Friday. Heine was forgiven his three strikeouts when he cut loose in the tenth with a clean drive to right and scored Schulte with the winning run.

If Golden had possessed a fragment of real control the Cubs wouldn't have had a chance to cop in nine, ten, or any other number of rounds. He gave nine bases on balls and every one of them played a prominent part in a Cub tally. He was fairly effective when he got them across the plate, but he had Jack Bliss dodging hither and thither after all manner of crazy pitches.

Chance for Mr. Golden.

Mr. Golden became famous in Dayton, O. A few years ago Ownie Bush of the Tigers was playing down in that town. Ownie was so good that Dayton released him outright and didn't get a penny for his carcass. Golden was thrown away by the Central leaguers. As soon as the major magnates heard of it they made a rush for him, suspecting that he would be as valuable as Bush. He may be yet. Anyhow, he's a bit too good for the company which wouldn't keep him.

While Golden's wildness was all that allowed the Cubs to score, they could have tied it up in seven rounds and won it in nine if Reulbach hadn't used his head. Big Ed stuck his bean in the path of a thrown ball in No. 7. Cy Rigler said the head was far out of its normal position and called Edward out for running out of line and interfering with a play at first base. This decision created more excitement than all other things in the game combined. The Cubs hollered, as was natural.

Cubs Join in "Chewing" Melee.

The bugs followed suit, although few of them knew the wherefore of the decision or of the holler. Rigler was getting along peacefully enough until he called Huggins out on strikes in the first half of this round, with Cardinals waiting around for Miller to hit one. Huggins said the ball was low. He tore his abundant hair in futile rage. For a brief instant it looked as if he woul take a fall out of the umpire. He probably would have if he could have reached higher than the middle of Cy's shin. His wrath aroused that of Manager Bresnahan. The Cubs didn't care to have one side monopolize the kicking, so they took their cue as soon as it was given to them and easily tied St. Louis in noise and other methods of expressing disgust.

But that's forgetting the real point of the story, which is that the Cubs came to bat in the ninth one run to the bad, got that run, and then added another in the tenth that spilled the beans. But for a brilliant play by Konetchy we wouldn't have stopped short of enough to win in the ninth.

Cubs Tie Score in Ninth.

Zimmerman, who had three whiffs charged against him, approached the plate first and got one of Golden's numerous passes. Steinfeldt sent him to second with a clean single to center. Tinker came up to bunt. Koney took this for granted and "snuck" toward the plate until he could have shaken hands with the actor. Joe bunted right at him and his quick throw to third forced Zimmie. At this point J. Kane was sent out to second to run for Steiny. Golden had some more tickets with him and he handed one to Kling. The bases were full, one was out, and one run was needed to tie. Up came Ginger Beaumont to hit for Reulbach. Beaumont accumulated two strikes and sent a hot shot at Konetchy. If Edward could have handled it cleanly the game might have been over, but he had trouble picking it up and was forced to toss to Huggins and retire Beau at first, while Kane crossed the plate. Sheckard fanned and the performers set themselves for the tenth scene.

One of the nation's best finishers, Lou Richie, took up Reulbach's task. He fanned Golden for a starter. Huggins aimed a base hit over third. James Sheckard made one of his justly famous lawn mower catches and Huggins was almost as mad as when Rigler called him out on strikes. The ball was just going to strike bottom when Sheck started his dive. His nose ruined several inches of sod and he managed to get his whole body in contact with the grass before he finally rolled over and came up with the ball. Rube Ellis beat out a bunt, but was caught stealing.

Victory in the Tenth.

Then the Cubs came in and won it. Schulte walked, and rode to third on Hofman's neat single to right. Chance grounded to Huggins, Art going to second and Frank sticking at third. It was here that Zimmie regained his reputation by slipping a warm one between Huggins and Koney and giving Schulte an easy journey home.

The start of the game was similar to that of the others in this post-mortem series. Huggins singled, and Ellis scored him with a triple to right center. Rube floated in on Mowrey's clean rap to left. Koney sacrificed, but the next two were harmless. Back came the Cubs with just as many. Sheckard walked, and Schulte's long double to left tallied him. Schulte moved to third on the out of Hofman and waltzed in when Chance shot a single between Koney's ample limbs. Reulbach wasn't entirely to blame for the third Cardinal run, which came in the fifth. Schulte, Hofman, and Zimmerman allowed Betcher's fly to fall in their midst. Golden hit a terrific double over Sheck's head and the shortstopper had no trouble scoring.

Seventh Is a Thriller.

Abbott beat a bunt in the Card seventh. He hurt his ankle running and retired in favor of Rebel Oakes. Betcher Texas leagued to left. Golden sacrificed. Then Huggins fanned and Ellis flied to Hofman.

The Cubs' part of that round was the thriller. Steinfeldt struck out. Tinker walked and chased Steinfeldt... to third on Kling's single to center. Reulbach tried the squeeze play. His bunt was all right and the play was made for Tinker at the plate, but Ed was out of the path, according to Umps Cy, and interfered by allowing Golden's throw to strike his bean. Tinker was sent back to third, Kling to first, and Reulbach to the bench. Joe and John tried a double steal and the former was nailed at the plate. Score:

THE ROIL OF THE RED BLOOD.

BEING A QUASI-ANARCHISTIC TRIBUTE TO THE GOOD GAME GUY WHOM THEY HAD TO GO AND GET—BY DR. NORMAL BEAN. HAVE AT YOU:

The poor old guy he must be wrong
To go and play the game so strong.
He should have let them take his land,
And cow and horse and baby grand,
And pass the glad hand to the pack
That shot his daughter in the back.
I cannot see what he expects
When he so stubbornly objects
To every gent who owns a gun
A-shooting at his wife and son.
Perhaps he's making all this fuss
Because he's more or less like us
And hates to see the ones that filled
His life with love shot down and killed.
The right of it's not here nor there,
Nor causes me one whoop of care;
But something funny fills my throat
When thinking of this poor old goat
Who's putting up his hopeless fight
Because, forsooth, he thinks he's right.
Alone and wounded, stalked in stealth,
He still defied a commonwealth,
And by his presence filled with awe
The cowardly minions of the law.
[Believe me, Jane, that last's some verse,
And ought to open up the purse.]
The things they've done to this poor slob
Have almost turned my shiny knob,
And made a harmless optimist
A raving, wild-eyed anarchist
Who'd like to pack his little lunch
And go help pot the whole d——d bunch.

TICKET DOPE AT A SLANT.

Do not send your letter by messenger or take it to the club's office. The only way to get action on it is by mail.—Instructions of the National commission in re world's series tickets.

You can kill two birds with one stone today by seeing the Cubs and Cardinals play and putting in your request for the world's series seats at the special box office for that purpose.—Cub adv.

Notwithstanding the lucidity of these instructions, the petrified lizard at this end of the telephone was bombarded yesterday with the following questions, which he answered to the best of his knowledge [which wasn't much], and belief [which was not unshakable]:

"Where shall I send my check?"

"Must the checks be certified?"

"Supposing I send an order for four seats for each game with a check covering the same, and they can supply me only with, say, two tickets for each game—well, how about it?"

"My plans for the series are in such shape that I cannot well make my reservations without seeing somebody in authority personally. Whom shall I see, and where?"

"Isn't there some place downtown where a fellow can go and get his two tickets for each game and have it over with?"

"What does that mean— four tickets for each game or one ticket for four games?"

Besides those, and many others, the usual grist of ingenious queries from persons who don't know the first thing about it and want to take the entire course in one telephonic lesson. Heigho! It's a gay life.

C. Dryden left yesterday for his winter home at Ocean Springs, far from the madding post-season's ignoble strife, to commune with the G. T.—code for green trout. He invites us to expect a few pinch hits from him when he gets settled.

ODE TO BILL.

There was a Little Bill I owed.
'Twas owed by me to Little Bill.
He lent me seeds to pay for oats
I sowed one night with tailor's skill.

An artist I who drew on he.*
[Rotten, eh? Well, 'taint my breath.]
An alienist Old Bill must be.
He's Dunning me almost to death.

W. M. H.

*Poetic licentiousness.

Even if the Browns were disposed to slough a few ten spots to Lajoie to make him stronger for the game point, what are we going to do about it? The best way to avoid scandals of that kind is to avoid the occasion of them. With all the protests of cleanliness that come from the magnates the national pastime is "only human."

THE PASSING SHOCK.

When Larry faced the St. Louis' fire
He'd 8 to go to be secure,
And what they thought he might require
They slipped it to him, that's pretty sure.
And now we're hearing talk of jobs,
Collusion and skulduggery,
From whisp'ring gossips, hooting mobs—
But soon forgotten it will be.
A little lapse is never let Disturb the game's tranquillity.
They'll spread the whitewash, that's a bet.
That plan is best—
But, hully gee!
What must a meek outsider think
When tricks like that they put across?
When at one frameup they will wink
How do we know what games they toss?

Glad to learn what Rube Goldberg is getting for that. Were afraid he wasn't being treated right.

D. Onn—Tried to make the preamble to your acrostic read, "Cubs Verses Athletics," but fat chance! Too subtle. The lynx eyed P. R. can shoot the eye out of a thing like that at one hundred yards.

I. J. G.—Sweet of you, but modesty forbids.

The Automobile association fain would put poison on Jack Johnson's ambition to become a registered juggernautist. What's the matter with him? To a bounder on the side lines Johnson looks as good as the game.

Not rubbing it in, but what lovely weather for the world's series!

LAJOIE SCANDAL ON THE FIRE

President Johnson Starts Task of Investigating Incident.

BILL LANGE IS BACK IN CITY.

Former Baseball Star Warmly Received After 11 Years' Absence.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

R. L. Hedges, president of the St. Louis Browns, was in Chicago yesterday in conference with President Johnson of the American league. Although both of them said the eight base hits credited to Lajoie in the double header of last Sunday were barely touched upon, it is natural to believe they were the occasion of the conference. It was interrupted by the arrival of William (Bill) Lange, former idol of the west side fans, now Pacific Coast representative of the national commission, and it was all off with the scandal business.

Regarding the doubt that has been cast upon the hits credited to Lajoie on the final day of the season President Hedges would only say that the official scorer gave the Clevelander eight base hits in the two games and that his visit to Chicago had no significance in connection with that affair.

Lajoie Matter Touched Lightly.

"I left St. Louis early that evening," said Mr. Hedges, "to attend to some business matters. Yesterday I was in Culver, Ind., and merely came into Chicago before returning. I am leaving tonight for home. Mr. Johnson and I hardly touched upon the Lajoie matter. It is not the province of a club owner to discuss the work of an official scorer, and I would not do so even if I doubted its correctness, which is not saying that I do in this case. It is an unfortunate affair, of course, and I am glad it is to be investigated thoroughly."

President Johnson said the matter would be probed to the bottom. He wired the official scorer at St. Louis to ascertain why the official scores of those games had not been received here and for a full statement of the conditions under which the hits were made. Through other sources he is seeking to ascertain if there was any possibility of collusion among the players. He announced that if he found evidence of it his action would be drastic, but he still inclined to the belief the reports were not altogether correct. As soon as he is in possession of the facts he promises a statement covering the matter and the investigation in detail.

Bill Lange Comes Back.

Bill Lange came back, looking like the same Bill Lange who robbed star batsmen of base hits and was the terror of every catcher in the league when he got on bases. It was eleven years ago that Lange quit baseball, although still in his prime as a player, and he was one of the first players to do so. If appearances mean anything he could come back to the game as easily, if not as quickly, as he came back to Chicago. He has added few pounds to his weight, and few inches to his girth in eleven years, and still looks the athlete from scalp to sole.

When his train pulled in an hour or so late yesterday afternoon, Lange had his first view of Chicago since he left it eleven years ago. His first remark on the way through the loop was, "Several people have moved in while I have been away. There are one or two big buildings I do not remember the names of, and some of the streets look different. So do a lot of the faces, but not those of my old friends. They haven't changed a bit."

Lange came back to see the world's series and as many of his friends as he can. He was met by a bunch of them at the station, and it included two of his former teammates and pals, Jimmy Callahan and Jimmy Ryan, both baseball magnates now.

Meets President Johnson.

After the first greetings had been exchanged and friendships properly pledged anew, the Californian sought out President Johnson at American league headquarters. The coast ambassador's official call on the national commission was extremely brief and was followed by an informal meeting of the committee of the whole, which kept growing larger, not to say fuller, every other minute.

Lange will remain in town until Sunday and will go to the world's series games in Philadelphia as the guest of President Johnson. On Saturday night a banquet is to be given in his honor by a coterie of his warmer friends. Among the hosts and invited guests are James J. Callahan, Tom Hanton, Smiley Corbett, Charles Herman, Fire Chief Horan, B. B. Johnson, C. A. Comiskey, John Corbett, John Comery, Drury Underwood, Sam Rucker, Joe Deery, John Vogelsang, Frank McNichols, and Frank Houseman.

Ball Player Knocks Out "Cop."

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—In a street battle with fists, "Big Ed" Hurlburt, former backstop on the Detroit team and well known minor leaguer, landed a knockout on Police Sergt. Britt today, necessitating restoratives. When revived Britt refused to prosecute. Hurlburt took exception to the treatment Britt administered a youthful prisoner he had under arrest.

'Doc' White Starts Work for 'The Tribune.'

'Comiskey's Great Southpaw, Who Has Pitched Against Both Cubs and Athletics and Knows Their Strength and Weaknesses, Will Describe Slab Battles of the World's Series for the Chicago Fans.

DR. G. HARRIS WHITE, known everywhere as one of the brainiest and best ers in the game, has consented to "cover" for "The Chicago Tribune" the work of the pitchers in the world's series between Cubs and Athletics. To get his pencil going readily for the big show Doc began work yesterday on stories of the Athletics-All Star series at Philadelphia, his first story appearing in another column.

Nearly every one admits the result of the world's series will depend upon the pitchers. Nearly all previous world's contests have been won and lost on the slab. The White Sox star has pitched against nearly every man who will bat in the games of next week. He knows how they should be pitched to and how not to pitch to them. Better than any one else he can tell whether the slabmen whom Managers Chance and Mack send into each game do their work wisely or blindly. In being able to add him to its already great staff of baseball writers "The Tribune" considers itself fortunate and congratulates its readers.

John Evers, himself a marvel of brains and skill, recently said of "Doc" White: "Invariably when the statement that the Cubs are weak against left handers is made the argument is used that 'Doc' White has always held us safe. Right here I want to say that when this Sox left hander is right he is one of the greatest pitchers in the game. I do not believe that because he has been effective against us it proves we are weak against southpaws. And for the simple reason that when White is at his best all teams are weak against that southpaw."

FIELDER A. JONES, who will write for "The Tribune" of the "inside" baseball displayed in the world's series, traveling perhaps 10,000 miles to do it, left Portland, Ore., yesterday to be on hand for the great games. His high personal regard for Manager Chance and the warm friendship that has existed between these two great leaders since their battle of 1906, combined with his loyalty to the American league while he was in its ranks, will make his opinions unbiased and assure to "The Tribune's" army of readers not only the most expert but the most fair and nonpartisan reports of the series.

Official Scorer on Lajoie's Hits.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—To the Editor!—Lajoie's first hit was a triple to left center. Northen made a good try for the ball, but missed out. It was a clean hit. His second hit was a grounder to Wallace, who went to deep short for the ball and picked it up cleanly. He made a hurryup throw to first, which was wide. Lajoie would have beaten a perfect throw. The other six hits were bunts down the third base line. Corriden played back and the hits had to be scored as clean base hits. The bunt in the third inning of the second game to Corriden was fumbled. While he was recovering the ball a runner scored from second base. Perfect handling of the ball would have resulted in a putout at first.

COBB REFUSES TO PICK "FUSS" OVER LAJOIE'S BATTING FEAT.

Star Says if Baseball Authorities Wait for Him to Make Charges There Will Be No Investigation.

Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Tyrus Cobb today showed he is a thorough sport, when asked to comment upon the fact that numerous sporting writers throughout the country had openly charged that the St. Louis American league team deliberately allowed Larry Lajoie to make eight hits in two games, thereby permitting the Frenchman to wrest the premier batting honors from Cobb.

"I have absolutely nothing to say detrimental to Lajoie," said Cobb. "The official scorers gave Lajoie eight hits. They should know what they are doing. If the records show Lajoie got eight hits and through them jumped ahead of me in the batting percentage, that's the record and there is no going around it.

"I do not purpose to get mixed up in any controversy. If there was a crooked deal pulled off in St. Louis sooner or later the persons implicated will suffer. That is a question for baseball authorities to take up, but I hardly think there will be an investigation if the commission waits for me to demand one."

Cobb's auto broke down here while on his way from Buffalo to join the all star team at Philadelphia. He proceeded by train tonight and will play tomorrow.

TICKETS NOT TO BE MAILED!

Lucky Holders of Seats Will Get Identification Cards.

DEMAND FIVE TIMES SUPPLY

Local Fans Will Be Given Preference for World's Series.

If any considerable number of the applicants for reserved seats at the world's series games to be played in Chicago sent the proper quantity of coin along with the stream of applications which flowed into local National league headquarters all day, anything mailed after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon will be postage and worry wasted. Applications mailed today will be worse than that, according to Robert McRoy, the national commission's representative, who is superintending the distribution of tickets here.

Mr. McRoy said late last night that the indications were only one-fifth of the applications already received could be filled. As fast as they came the letters were placed in mail sacks, which, when filled, were closed, sealed, and locked in safety deposit vaults at the Corn Exchange bank. Every preparation for allotting the reservations was completed yesterday, he said, and this morning the big task of opening the mail will be tackled.

Will Favor Chicagoans.

No preference will be given except to bona fide Chicagoans in the matter of allotting seats, according to Mr. McRoy, and out of town fans stand small show of receiving anything except their money back. As far as the reserved seats will go allotments will be made and the lucky applicants receive notice of that fact as quickly as possible. When the supply is exhausted the remaining applications will be returned as fast as the big force at Mr. McRoy's disposal can remail them.

No tickets will be sent to successful applicants. Only identification slips and instructions how and where to obtain the seats on the days of the games will be mailed. Although this may cause inconvenience, it is explained that the lowest possible number of seats will fall into the hands of scalpers under the system adopted, and that has been the end sought.

Room for Disappointed.

The disappointed will have to comfort themselves with the knowledge that the seating capacity of the Cub park will be increased by the erection of banks of temporary seats around the playing field. Only about one-fifth of the total capacity of the Cub park can be reserved and there will be room for quite a few who are unable to get reserved seats.

Holders of reservations are requested to observe that seats cannot be sold for any specific date, because of the chance that the weather may cause postponements. In that case the games following a postponement will be pushed forward.

FANS WILL BE DISAPPOINTED.

National Commission to Return Thousands of Dollars Sent for World's Series Seats.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—"Many thousands of dollars sent to the National Baseball commission for reserved seats for the world's championship series will be returned to the senders" said Chairman Herrmann today. The story of last year is going to be repeated. The demand, especially for the early days of the series is simply so great that it cannot be supplied. Last year more than $40,000 was returned to people who wanted to see the games in Pittsburg. I look to see that much or nearly that sum, returned to those who want to see the games in Philadelphia, and I guess it will be the same story in Chicago."

RUCKER TRAINS TO RACE COBB.

Brooklyn Pitcher Will Drive Automobile with Detroit Slugger as His Opponent at Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 11.—Napoleon Rucker, Brooklyn's famous left handed pitcher, has begun training on the Atlanta speedway for a match automobile race with Ty Cobb of the Detroit team. It was learned today that Rucker unobtrusively started training yesterday in a bright red sixty horsepower car. The race is scheduled as an event of the automobile races here the first week in November. Both Cobb and Rucker are Georgians.

Former Sox Manager Leaves for Chicago to Cover World's Series for "The Tribune."

Portland, Ore., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Fielder A. Jones, former manager of the Chicago White Sox, accompanied by Mrs. Jones, left tonight for Chicago to cover the world's series between the Cubs and the Athletics for "The Chicago Tribune."

DOC WHITE MAKES BOW AS REPORTER

Sox Pitcher Tells "Tribune" Readers Story of All-Stars' Victory Over Athletics.

SAYS MACKS LACK "SNAP."

Adds That They Must Show More Fighting Spirit if They Expect to Beat Cubs.

BY "DOC" WHITE.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—The first game of the series between Manager McAleer's All-Star team and the Athletics was played here today, resulting in an easy victory for the former, 8 to 3. Ty Cobb was unable to get here in time for the opening contest. He is touring in an automobile from Buffalo and encountered tire trouble between Albany and New York City, but wired McAleer he would reach the Quaker city some time this evening or early tomorrow morning ready to play.

The Athletics seemed to lack the snap and ginger of a team on the eve of such a great battle, and if they expect to win the world's series they will have to show more fighting spirit and aggressiveness.

The All-Star team was selected by Manager McAleer and is supposed to be the best, with a few exceptions, that could be chosen from the American league. From its exhibition today it will give the Athletics plenty of hard work and practice, without a doubt.

Washington to See One Game.

There has been a change in the schedule for Friday's game. Instead of playing in Philadelphia they have transferred it to Washington, which, we are led to believe, is a good move. The attendance today was 3,200. The proceeds go to the players of the two clubs, to be divided fifty and fifty.

The All-Star team played wonderfully good inside ball today, and it was all the more wonderful because the men, with few exceptions, were not accustomed to the fellows alongside of them. Their hitting and running never failed them once, and had it not been for the difference in uniforms one would not have known but that they had been together all year.

It is the common cry that a team composed of all-star ball players will not get the results that are obtained by a team composed of ball players such as Connie Mack has. To my mind it depends largely on the class of players you might term stars. This team of all-stars does not seem to need the necessary years of practice together to make it a strong combination, and to my mind where you have the brains on a ball club and one that thinks as this team did today, the argument about not being used to each other goes for nothing.

Schaefer Amuses the Fans.

In the absence of Cobb, Schaefer played right field and, as usual, amused the crowd with his comedy. All three of Mack's pitchers were hit freely, while Johnson seemed to be working under a pull and without any exertion whatever. Bender seemed to give the All Stars more trouble than did Plank or Coombs, and I rather think he'll be the one to start the series against the Cubs.

Speaker, McBride, and Elberfeld were the stars with the bat today, especially Speaker, who had a triple and two singles out of four trips to the plate.

The game was void of any spectacular plays, aside from a double play by Stahl unassisted, Jake catching a high line drive from Davis' bat with a man on first and second, thereby getting Johnson out of the only trouble he was in all day.

If the Stars play the caliber of ball all this week they played today, the Athletics will have their troubles bagging a single game.

The weather was ideal today and we look for a much larger crowd during the remaining games. Walsh is selected to pitch tomorrow and the big fellow looks to be in fine shape for the game. Score:

McLean Is Hero with Three Singles and a Double—Hoblitzel Cleans Bases with a Triple.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 11.—In a game featured by hard hitting, loose pitching, and poor fielding Cincinnati won the first of the postseason games for the championship of Ohio with the Cleveland team here today, 14 to 7.

Cleveland used three pitchers in an effort to turn the tide of battle, but all fared about equally. Hoblitzel's triple with the bases full in the third and Paskert's home run, which was the result of Jackson's losing the ball in the sun, featured.

McLean carried off the batting honors by making three singles and a double out of five times at bat. For Cleveland Turner and Jackson starred in hitting. Score:

ELY QUITS FLIGHT TO NEW YORK CITY

Leaves Curtiss Aeroplane Wrecked in Sand Dunes Along Lake Shore.

POST CALLS IT "BUNGLE."

Condones Failure Its Leniency Over Contract Was Unable to Avert.

The Chicago-New York aeroplane race for a prize of $30,000 was abandoned yesterday.

Eugene Ely, the young aviator, who started from the aviation grounds at the Hawthorne racetrack Sunday afternoon and landed after a short flight on the sand dunes north of East Chicago, turned his wrecked biplane over to the mechanicians, and with his wife boarded a train for Cleveland.

The air car, already partly dismantled, will be taken apart and packed and shipped to the Curtiss factory at Hammondsport, N. Y., today.

Ely, who said he would return after the international meet in New York this month to compete for the prize again, felt bitter over his failure. He said he had been obstructed both by his supposed comrades, Willard and McCurdy, who shipped their machines to New York when he asked that they be left here to give him emergency parts, and by the promoters of the enterprise, who he said had tried to force on him half of the expense of the special train to New York, and, failing in that, to compel him to pay high fares for his wife and mechanics.

Curtiss, Ely, and F. A. Wildman, the expert builder, worked all day in an attempt again to get the machine in shape to fly. The task was not abandoned until late in the afternoon. While they were at work on the car, 20,000 people gathered about the place where the airship ran its nose into the sand. It was necessary to summon police details from East Chicago and Indiana Harbor to preserve order.

Schools Dismissed to See Flight.

Schools were dismissed in both these towns to give the children an opportunity to see the flight of the aircraft, should the race to New York be continued.

During the afternoon Curtiss made a trip to Chicago to try to replace portions of the machine which had been broken. Failure in this brought an end to the race and Ely and his wife got into an automobile and were taken to Indiana Harbor.

The assembled crowd was greatly disappointed. Police were left in charge of the wrecked aircraft through the night.

Ely was the only one of the three aviators to start for New York after a week of exhibition flying at the Hawthorne track. Promoters of the cross-country race demanded that three cars start, but Curtiss, who owned all the aeroplanes here, said only one was equipped to make the trip, so the clauses of the $30,000 prize offer were changed so payment would be made for a successful endurance flight in place of a three plane race.

Post Says "Aviators" Bungled.

A representative of the Chicago Post, which with the New York Times planned the race from Chicago to New York, said in the evening:

"Our part in the affair ended when the aviators started on the race for New York. Throughout the negotiations we have acted in perfectly good faith and have spent many thousand dollars. Now these fellows have bungled. We are sorry, but we could not help that."

In an editorial the Post says that Charles F. Willard, J. A. D. McCurdy, and Eugene Ely drew cuts as to which should make the trip to New York, and that this was a violation of the agreement under which they entered the contest and that "It was a violation of their moral obligations to the public and two newspapers concerned. It was represented to the aviators that three machines stood a better chance to get through to New York than one, but they refused to budge from their position, claiming that preparations along the route was only sufficient to handle one machine."

AVIATOR WELCH IN THE AIR 3 HOURS AND 11 MINUTES.

New Endurance Record for America Is Made in a Biplane at the St. Louis Meet.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 11.—A. L. Welch in a Wright biplane today made a new endurance record for America of three hours, eleven minutes and fifty-five seconds. The previous record was made by Ralph Johnstone at Asbury Park, N. J., in three hours, five minutes and forty seconds.

Welch ascended at the aviation field at 1:48 p. m. Most of the time he flew at high altitudes, and apparently without effort.

Alfred Le Blanc, French aviator, drove his Bleriot monoplane for the first time in America today. He was greeted with enthusiasm, and made two flights, one of which was spectacular.

German Aeronauts Arrive.

New York, Oct. 11.—Four German balloonists who will take part in the aviation meet at St. Louis arrived today on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie. They brought three balloons with them.

Capt. Hugo von Abercon, a German army officer, is one of the quartet. He is accompanied by August Blanckertz, an expert aeronautist, who will be his companion in the flight from St. Louis. His balloon is the Germania.

Engineer Hans Gericke of the German army brings his balloon Dusseldorf 24. Lieut. Vogt brings his balloon Hamburg. He won the first prize in the Essen tournament. The German aeronauts shipped their balloons as freight, and the customs officials will have to hurry if they release them in time for them to be in St. Louis on Monday. Had the balloons been brought in as personal baggage they could have been declared at the pier and released at once.

Balloon Winners Announced.

The three winners of the American balloon championship contest recently held at Indianapolis were announced officially today by the Aero Club of America. The winners, who are entitled to participate in the international race at St. Louis, are: A. R. Hawley of New York, who covered 453 miles in the balloon America II.; H. E. Honeywell of St. Louis, who covered 379 miles in the balloon St. Louis, and J. S. Wade of Cleveland, who made 371 miles in the Buckeye.

Airship Flies at Funeral.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 11.—The body of Capt. Macievich, Russian military aviator, killed by a fall on Oct. 7, was buried today with the honors accorded an admiral. Emperor Nicholas has granted the aviator's widow an admiral's pension. The funeral was the most impressive witnessed in this city in recent years. The three mile route of the procession was lined by 200,000 spectators. At the moment of interment the dirigible balloon Krechet circled above the grave.

SKY VESSEL MOVEMENTS.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—While 500 feet in the air the motor of the Wright aeroplane used by Aviator Parmelee at the state fair exploded today. He succeeded in bringing the machine safely to the ground, although he was burned severely.

BOHLANNISTRAAL, GERMANY.—In the aeroplane contest for height, Wienziers reached an altitude of 2,040 feet. In the duration competition Lieut. Gerrissen made a flight of two hours and twenty-five minutes. Thelen, with a passenger, met with an accident. The aeroplane fell, but neither man was injured.

FIRST PRIZE TO VANDERBILT.

Drives Four Bays to Victory at Louisville Horse Show—Song Takes Second Award.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 11.—The victory of four bays from the Oakland Farms, driven by Alfred G. Vanderbilt, over four-in-hands owned by Paul Song of New York, and Lawrence Jones of Anchorage, Ky., was the feature of the second night of the Louisville horse show tonight. First prize in the four-in-hand class went to Mr. Vanderbilt and the second and third prizes went to Mr. Song and Mr. Jones respectively.

Whitney Wins Two Races.

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 11.—The Clearwell stakes of thirty sovereigns each with 500 sovereigns added, for 2 year olds, distance 5 furlongs and 134 yards, today was won by H. P. Whitney's Sorrow. The Allington Plate of 500 sovereigns for 2 year olds, distance 6 furlongs, was won by Mr. Whitney's Sallie of Navarre. Lady Mantle dropped dead at the finish of the race.

$100,000 TO BET ON MACKMEN

Philadelphia Sports Join Hands to Back Home Team.

EXPECT TO HAVE $150,000.

Leader of Move Is "Plunger"; Wins Fortune Picking "Good Things."

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Encouraged by early successes to gain backing for the Athletics in the world series against the Chicago Cubs, a coterie of Philadelphia sports today collected $100,000 to bet on the home team at even money or better.

The men promoting the scheme desire to send the Mackmen into the battle against the Chance bear cats next Monday confident that the Philadelphia fans are with them.

One of the men behind the deal is a former Swarthmore student and noted in the city as a plunger. In 1902 he made several thousand dollars on the Athletics, winning thirteen consecutive bets on the team. That was the year the Athletics won the pennant in the American league. And he also cleared several thousand dollars on this achievement of Connie Mack and his minions.

In the same year, he followed the prize fight game closely and made a fortune on Young Corbett. This same man is one of the leaders in the present betting and has a large sum to wager personally. The commissioners are still soliciting contributions and hope to increase the betting fund to $150,000 before the first game is called.

Corriden Gives Reason for Failure to Field Bunts, Declaring Larry Hit Ball Too Hard.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 11.—John L. Corriden, who played third base for the local American league club on Sunday, when Napoleon Lajoie of the Cleveland team made eight hits in two games, today said he played far back of third base because he was afraid of the speed in Lajoie's hits. "I want to remain in baseball for some years," said Corriden, "and I was not going to get killed playing in on Lajoie. I might have gotten some of the bunts and at the same time a broken nose or lost a couple of teeth. Lajoie is known as a hard hitter and I played far back."

BASEBALL WRITERS IN SESSION.

Pass Upon Applications for Press Tickets for World's Series in Meeting at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 11.—A meeting of officers of the Baseball Writers' Association of America was held here today when the applications for press tickets for the world's series was passed upon. President Jackson of Washington, appointed Joseph M. McCready to take charge of the local arrangements in Philadelphia. Mr McCready will be at the national commission's headquarters next Sunday night and Monday morning until 11 o'clock to deliver the tickets to the newspaper men. Mr. Jackson later will appoint the representative for Chicago.

New Book for Baseball Fans.

"The National Game" is the name of a new baseball book just published and it covers the pastime from its inception to the present day. No small or little happening in the game's history in all this time has been overlooked by Al. Spink, the veteran baseball writer of St. Louis, who is the author. The book contains sketches of all the players who have taken part in major league games since the organization of the old Professional association in the early '70s up to the present year.

Two Cut Out of Gotham Series.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 11.—The National commission today revised the list of players eligible for the baseball series between the New York American and National league teams by striking the names of Gowdy and Hendricks from the National league list. These names were included "by mistake," according to the commission.

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 11.—Pittsburg defeated Charleston today in an exhibition game, 5 to 0.

COACH HAMMETT ALL SMILES.

Purple Tutor Says Practice Is "Best Ever"—Johnson and Woodhead Assist the Squad.

"The best practice of the year," was the comment of Coach Hammett after the Purple squad had finished two hours of strenuous practice on Patten field last night. Coach Hammett changed his plans at the last minute, and, instead of giving the team light work, as he had intended, gave it hard scrimmage work.

For two hours the team indulged in a fierce scrimmage with the scrubs. Hammett was assisted by "Johnny" Johnson, the old Northwestern star and assistant coach last year, and Charles Woodhead, former coach at Harvard. Johnson took charge of the back field, and Woodhead assumed charge of the line. The work of the additional coaches soon made itself apparent by the dash and spirit which the men displayed in their work.

Coach Hammett was more than pleased with the work of his pupils. "If the men continue to play with the same dash and spirit that they displayed in their work this afternoon, we will have little to fear from the Maroons," said Hammett. "The boys have mastered the style of play required by the new rules, and from now on we will work hard every day in learning new plays and formations for the Chicago game." Last night Hammett illustrated new plays by a "chalk talk."

At the Billiard Halls.

John Matthews increased his lead over Al Massman in the second block of their 18-2 match at the Morrison rooms last night, winning 300 to 175 in twenty-one innings. Matthews' high run was 47. Massman's 46.

Tripp defeated Armstrong, 100 to 60, in their pool match at Hammer's. Tripp and Elmer Cox play tonight.

In the three cushion tournament at the Drexel J. Toohey [45] defeated Benedict [41], 45 to 40. Kahns plays Pacheco tonight.

Two games were played last night in the 18-2 tournament at Mussey's. Waller [180] defeating Shepard [240], 180 to 132, and Campbell [200] defeating Huntley [189], 200 to 175. Tonight Anderson [150] plays Kist [180], and Winders [189] meets Thompson [184].

NOTES OF THE CUBS.

The Cardinals still are hanging around.

Three more bouts are on the preliminary card.

We've been predicting Overall for a week. Perhaps he'll work today.

Jack Hendricks, who almost won the Western league pennant with the Denver club this season, came out to look them over.

Second insertion—The Evers-Williams shoe store will open next Saturday. Charley isn't satisfied yet.

There were enough double plays to supply a whole series. Two of them were most helpful to Golden.

The game was attended by a crowd of invalid children, who came as guests of President Murphy. They seemed to enjoy it hugely.

Roger Bresnahan will not attend the world's series. He says he has had more than a sufficiency of the pastime for one year.

Work was started on the special press box in front of the stand. There will be a screen in front of it, so if the athletes want any scribes killed they will have to find some other way.

Frank Schulte, baseball's only poet, besides George Moriarity, will write daily stories in verse of his own accomplishments in each and every game. He will write impartially, devoting just as much space to strikeouts, if any, as to home runs, if any.

DASH IN WOLVERINES' DRILL IS PLEASING TO COACH YOST.

Mentor Loath to Excuse Squad After Hour's Hard Practice—Borleske Is Back and May Replace Daniels.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Play that was characterized by more dash and snap than has been in evidence on Ferry field this season, enabled the varsity to romp over the Michigan freshmen at will this afternoon. Coaches Yost and Redden kept the two teams at it for more than an hour, and even then Yost was reluctant to call time when darkness made further play impossible.

For the first few minutes Coach Douglass' freshmen contested stubbornly the varsity attempts to gain consistently. However, as soon as the rejuvenated varsity began to cut loose a bewildering variety of forward passes and other tricks the freshmen were at sea, and the first team scored virtually at will.

Thomson was the originator of most of the forward passes that resulted in touchdowns, while Green, McMillan, and Edmunds were the stars at the receiving end. Daniels was again at left and in the scrimmage, while Picard replaced the ailing Pattengill at the other extremity of the line. Bogle went in at right guard in place of Lawton, and probably will continue to occupy the position until Conklin is able to take up the work.

Coach Yost's burden was lightened noticeably this afternoon when Borleske, who starred at end last season until he broke a shoulder in the Notre Dame game, arrived at Ann Arbor and reported for work. Borleske was at end in part of the signal drill today, and probably will replace Daniels at left end before the end of the week.

Carlisle, 29; Gettysburg, 6.

Carlisle, Pa., Oct. 11.—Carlisle Indians defeated Gettysburg college today at football by a score of 29 to 6.

BAR BADGERS FROM STUDENTS

First Secret Practice at Wisconsin in Five Years.

DRILL HARDEST OF SEASON.

Barry Also Adds Night Sessions to Prepare for Indiana Game.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—For the first time in five years the gates at Camp Randall were closed this afternoon and the varsity team was put through its paces with nobody in attendance but coaches.

While coaches would make no statement as to what had been taking place during the two hour grind, it was learned from talk dropped by the players as they emerged from the field with their garments soaked in perspiration that it had been the hardest practice of the year.

Coach Drivers' freshman team, equipped with formations used by Indiana against Chicago, opposed the varsity in scrimmage which lasted over an hour. The yearlings held the regulars scoreless throughout the fray, but were unable to score against the defense which Coach Barry has figured out to stop the Hoosier plays. From the stentorian tones of the coaches which wafted over the fence it was evident that the squad was being driven at top speed and there was a certain look of satisfaction on Coach Barry's face as he trotted into the gymnasium after the workout.

In the evening the squad again was assembled at the stock pavilion to listen to a discussion of the Indiana style of play. Barry kept the team in action for an hour on signals, telling the players at the close that the nocturnal sessions under arc lights would be in order until Indiana has been met.

CORNELL SQUAD BACK AT WORK.

Coaches Inaugurate Regular Practice —Nichols Shows Well at End and May Hold Position.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—The Cornell football squad inaugurated regular practice on alumni field this afternoon by a hard scrimmage, the second of the week, in the presence of 800 undergraduates. The team benefited by the longer practice hours and better air on the hill. The varsity scored thrice on the scrubs, O'Connor getting two touchdowns from forward passes, while Bates took over the other. Nichols was at right end and agreeably surprised the coaching by his defensive work. He has played so far at half back, but the coaches are considering making the change permanent. Blackwell and Zeller were tried at right tackle. Capt. Simson, Bates, and Butler were back in the line-up for a time.

OLDFIELD DRAWS A. A. A. SUSPENSION

Motorist Disqualified for Announced Intention of Racing Negro.

JOHNSON SENDS A REPLY.

Fighter Says He Will Regain Driver's License Even if He Must Go to Court.

New York, Oct. 11.—The contest board of the American Automobile association announced tonight the suspension and disqualification of Barney Oldfield for his announced intention of racing Jack Johnson, the heavyweight pugilist, in an unsanctioned contest at Sheepshead Bay on Oct. 20.

The contest board in its statement of suspension accuses W. H. Pickens, Oldfield's manager, of issuing statements "injurious to the welfare of the sport," and also disqualifies him as "manager, promoter, entrant, owner, or driver." Both Pickens and Oldfield are directed to show cause why the ruling should not be made permanent.

Deplores Johnson Incident.

When the black champion's license was revoked last night no explanation was forthcoming, but the board in its statements suspending Oldfield gives its reason in deploring "the entrance into an organized, well accredited sport of the leading exponent of an unorganized so-called sport which is under the ban in most of the states of the union and who is as we believe without requisite experience in automobile track racing and has as yet to demonstrate his competency as a racing driver."

Followers of automobile racing said tonight that it meant a fight to the death between Oldfield and the A. A. A., and that the former would endeavor to enlist the support of other drivers.

Johnson Threatens Suit.

Oldfield professes to be indifferent to the attitude of the board and says he will race regardless. Johnson, whose license was canceled last night, says he will go to the courts if necessary to regain it; both say the race will be held in any event. He sent this reply to the board today:

"I return herewith the $1 which you returned to me, the same being in payment of license fee. I conformed to all conditions named in application blank furnished me by your office, and will not accept cancellation of my license. You are in error when you state that I obtained the license by trickery or misrepresentation. You cannot blame me for your lack of office system. I will go to the courts if necessary to assure my rights and privileges."

OLD ELI COACHES RETURN HEAVY LINE TO YALE TEAM.

Mentors Go Back to Strong Forwards, Believing Light Elevens Have Little Chance Under Rules.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Radical measures were taken today to remedy the weakness of Yale's eleven. Foster Sanford and Dr. Fred Murphy have worked over the problem all week. Fuller was shifted from guard to center and Greenough and Young were placed at guard. Young and Greenough are the heaviest players on the squad. Yale seems to have slipped back to the policy of using the heaviest men on the squad, discarding the notion that the new rules have given light teams any chance in a game with better rivals.

Because of the extreme heat all the practice was in secret and only twenty minutes long. There was more scoring than any afternoon this season, the varsity and scrubs each crossing the goal line twice.

Yale and Princeton agreed to pick the officials for the annual game by conference with the central board officials. It is left for announcement by the central board. Yale and Harvard game officials may be picked the same way for the first time.

Nelson to Fight Hogan.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Jim Griffin, the local prize fight promoter, today signed Battling Nelson and "One Round" Hogan for a fifteen round fight on Oct. 28. The men are to weigh in at the ringside at 133 pounds. Nelson wired he was willing to fight if given a $5,000 guarantee. This was agreed to.

Backs White Against Attel.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—A local sportsman said tonight that he will back Jack White, the clever Chicago featherweight, against Abe Attel to the extent of $1,000. The conditions are that they fight at the featherweight limit, with small gloves and under straight rules. White put up a great fifteen rounds last night and wants another chance.

A. A. A. GOVERNORS BOARD O. K.'S SANCTION FOR GRAND PRIZE.

Savannah Now Sure of Big Race, and Purposes Holding Two Day Auto Meeting, Beginning on Nov. 11.

New York, Oct. 11.—Formal sanction for the running of the international grand prize automobile race at Savannah, Ga., on Nov. 12 was voted by the board of governors of the Automobile Club of America tonight. The board ratified the action of the contest committee of the club, which already had awarded the contest to the Automobile club of Savannah.

The race originally was scheduled to be run over the Vanderbilt cup course on Long Isl. nd Oct. 15, but was called off on account of public criticism and discontent of drivers because of the deaths and accidents that marred the Vanderbilt cup race.

Immediately the governors had given their sanction for holding the race at Savannah, Arthur W. Solomon secretary of the Automobile club of that city, announced here that a two day meet will be held. Two other races for lighter classes will be run on Nov. 11. One event will be cars of from 161 to 230 cubic inches piston displacement; the other for cars of from 230 to 300 cubic inches piston displacement.

The course over which the race—the second Grand Prize—will be run is 18.5 miles long and the cars will circle it twenty-two times, making the total distance about 407 miles.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 11.—The Savannah automobile race course will be patrolled by armed National guardsmen on Nov. 12 during the progress of the grand prize race. This statement was issued tonight by Gov. Joseph M. Brown.

ABE ATTEL LOOKS FOR MORE FIGHTS

Champion Directs His Campaign Against Aspirants from This City.

LITTLE FELLOWS SOUGHT.

Promoters Are After Coulon and Conley, but Former Insists on 115 Pounds.

Having conquered the White family of Chicago—Frankie, Charlie, and Jack—in the order named, World's Champion Abe Attel is expected to return to the city today, from which point he is directing a strenuous campaign against all aspirants for his title who are seeking the game.

It would be hard to find a busier young person than this same Attel just at the present time. The champion of all champions—for he surely has earned that title, since Joe Gans no longer plays a part—admitted a short time ago that he was starting a campaign of extermination of featherweight title seekers. First he bested Charlie White in Milwaukee, then last Friday night he gave the same dose to Frankie, who, by the way, isn't any relation to Charlie and Jack. Monday night at Winnipeg Abe tackled Jack and found the toughest member of the White combination. But Abey is credited by reports with having had the shade, although Jack put up a good game fight.

Attel to Fight Kilbane.

Attel now is matched to fight Tommy Kilbane of Cleveland at Kansas City on Oct. 24, and it is not likely Kilbane, although a tough boy, will cause the champion a great deal of trouble.

There is considerable talk of a match being made between Packey McFarland, the local lightweight, and Owen Moran, the clever little Englishman, but nothing is likely to come of it. Packey often has to make 135 pounds at 3 o'clock, but as Moran can scale pounds below this notch it is not likely Owen will concede the weight. Kansas City promoters also are after McFarland. They want him to mix with Charlie Griffin of Australia. But Broadway is a long ways from Kansas City and Packey probably will stay in the east for awhile.

New Orleans promoters seem determined to hook up Frankie Conley and Johnny Coulon, the two claimants of the bantamweight championship, in battle. That they won't succeed in the home town for Coulon insists on 115 pounds ringside and those who know the Kenosha Italian say he can't scale at this figure and be strong. There the matter stands and probably will stand indefinitely.

Ferguson on Way South.

Randy Ferguson, the Boston heavyweight, and his manager, George Little, finally have ended their hide and seek game with the Crescent City promoters and are reported on their way to New Orleans where Ferguson is billed to meet Jimmy Barry. If these two mill at their best a line may be secured on Sandy, who is being primed for a fight with Jack Johnson.

CROSS IN A FIERCE BATTLE.

Leach Has Advantage Over Jack Dorman in Fight Which Is Featured by Knockdowns.

New York, Oct. 11.—[Special.]—Knockdowns were frequent in a slashing ten round fight between Leach Cross and Jack Dorman at the Fairmont A. C. tonight. When the battle was over Cross had a pronounced advantage. He outpointed Dorman, but the latter, although groggy in several rounds, always was dangerous. In the third round Cross was floored for nine seconds, but he got up and sent Dorman down for five seconds. In the sixth round Dorman was on the verge of being put to sleep, but his gameness saved him.

WOMEN GOLFERS IN HOT FINISHES

Elimination of Mrs. Harris Is One Surprise of Play for National Title.

ONE EXTRA HOLE MATCH.

Miss Hyde of Pittsburg Defeats Mrs. Luther M. Kennett in Grueling Battle.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

The elimination of Mrs. Thurston Harris, the western champion, a nervy finish by Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow of Philadelphia, an extra hole contest between Miss Louise Elkins of Pittsburg and Mrs. Luther M. Kennett of Evanston, and a record win by Miss Lillian Hyde were the dominating features of the sixteen matches played yesterday in the first round of the women's national championship at the Homewood Country club.

Roll call at the end of the initial skirmish was answered by five Chicagoans, three Canadians, three Philadelphians, two Pittsburgers, the other survivors being from Minneapolis, New York, and Tavistock, England, in the proportion of one to each place.

Not one of the sixteen results can be rightly called an upset, and while there were one or two surprises the majority of the matches came out true to form. Miss Myra Helmer of Midlothian defeated Mrs. Harris, 3 and 2, and while four previous victories for the Westward Ho player naturally made her the favorite Miss Helmer's many record breaking performances and the fact that she twice won the individual record prize of the Women's Western Golf association are sufficient indications of her class, and "you can't keep a good man down."

Mrs. Barlow Shows Golf Nerve.

Mrs. Barlow, who won from Miss Grace Semple of St. Louis, 1 up, pulled through to the second round after being 3 down with 5 to play. If the Athletics show as much nerve in their coming series with the Cubs as the Quaker City representative did yesterday it will help them quite a lot.

Having burnt her bridges behind her by not having secured transportation back last night, Mrs. Barlow "gritted her teeth" in metaphorical fashion, won four holes right off the reel, and by halving the last hole defeated the Missouri player, who was runner up in 1908 to Mrs. W. France Anderson in the women's western championship at St. Louis.

Getting away to a poor start by taking 7 to the first hole, Mrs. Barlow followed with a 7 at the long second, and at the fourth hole she again reached this figure, with the result that Miss Semple, who was playing steadily, was 3 up. Mrs. Barlow won the short seventh, but lost the short ninth by poor work, 5—4, and turned for home 3 down.

Each took one of the next four holes and the twelfth was halved in 6, leaving Miss Semple 3 up and 5 to play. Mrs. Barlow went one under bogey on the next four holes and won them all, her best effort being a 4 on the sixteenth, 505 yards.

Miss Semple Loses Match.

Miss Semple was in trouble on this hole, taking eight, and at the next hole she picked up, leaving Mrs. Barlow dormie 1. A half on the home green gave Mrs. Barlow the match. The cards:

Mrs. Barlow, out	7	7	5	7	5	6	4	6	5—52
Miss Semple, out	5	6	5	6	4	6	5	6	5—48
Mrs. Barlow, in	4	5	5	6	4	4	4	6	[illegible]—42
Miss Semple, in	4	6	4	6	4	5	5	6	[illegible]

Miss Elkins defeated Mrs. Kennett at the extra hole, 4 to 5, the Chicago player having hard luck when her long and apparently straight drive kicked into the bunker guarding the green. She had to play out at an angle, not getting a good shot at the flag. Miss Elkins almost pulled her drive to the rough, but, after overrunning the green, she made a good approach, and, running down a fairly long putt, won the match.

Mrs. Kennett was 1 up at the turn, but, after the next two holes were halved, Miss Elkins squared at the tenth. Two halves followed, and then the Oakmont player took the lead, only to lose the next hole. The seventeenth and eighteenth holes were halved. Mrs. Kennett having to make a six foot putt on the home green to divide in four.

Miss Helmer Always Leads.

Miss Helmer took the lead from Miss Harris at the third hole and never was down. At the third hole Mrs. Harris dubbed her tee shot and also found a bunker, conceding the hole. A missed putt cost Miss Helmer the next hole, but at the sixth Mrs. Harris shot into the rough and could not find the ball.

A two on the short ninth gave Miss Helmer a lead of 3 up at the turn. Both landed in the bunker guarding the tenth green, Mrs. Harris winning, 5-6, but she played poorly at the two succeeding holes, which Miss Helmer won with bogey fives, putting her 4 up.

Two holes were halved and Mrs. Harris won the sixteenth with a fine four, after driving 230 yards. They halved the long sixteenth in seven, giving the Midlothian player the match, 3 and 2. The cards:

Miss Helmer—Out	4	8	5	6	5	6	4	7	2	—47
Mrs. Harris—Out	4	8	5	6	4	7	5	—
Miss Helmer—In	6	5	5	7	4	6	7
Mrs. Harris—In	5	6	7	7	4	4	7

Miss Lillian Hyde, the Metropolitan champion, overwhelmed Mrs. C. D. Barrows, winning ten straight holes and the match, 10 and 8. Mrs. Barrows was off her game entirely, while Miss Hyde gave a fine exhibition. She went out in 44 and, playing out the remaining holes turned in a card of 87, the best performance of the day. Her card was as follows:

Out	3	6	4	5	6	5	6	4	4	—44
In	4	5	5	7	3	4	5	6	4	—43—87

Miss Nesbitt Wins Easily.

Miss Nesbitt, the sturdy Canadian player defeated Mrs. Elmer Williams of Lake Geneva, 6 and 4. Miss Nesbitt went out in 47 and was three up at the turn. She won the eleventh, thirteenth, and fourteenth coming home, the other two being halved.

Miss Vida Llewellyn went out in 46, against Mrs. Percival Manchester of Skokie, who took 52, and was 3 down. Coming back, the first three holes were halved, but the Skokie player won the thirteenth and was only 1 down. Miss Llewellyn won the next three and the match, 4 and 2.

Miss Dorothy Campbell was not quite up to her form of the previous day, but she never was pressed by Mrs. Hedstrom of Buffalo, winning five of the first nine holes and halving the others. The champion won the eleventh and the fourteenth holes, the Buffalo player not being able to win any, and losing 6 and 5. The cards:

Miss Campbell—Out	4	6	5	6	6	3	6	3	—45
Mrs. Hedstrom—Out	6	6	5	6	6	4	6	5	—56
Miss Campbell—In	6	5	5	6	4	4	7	4	5—46—	91
Mrs. Hedstrom—In	6	7	5	7	6	6	7	7	5—55—	111

Mrs. G. H. Martin, the English player, who has shot around the 90 mark for three successive rounds, defeated Mrs. G. Carlyle of Exmoor, 4 and 3. She went out in 46, the Chicago player taking one stroke more and being 2 down at the turn. Mrs. Martin came home in 45, Mrs. Carlyle taking 50.

Miss Katherine Moulton of Minneapolis made a strong finish against Mrs. W. France Anderson, winning 2 up after being 2 down, with 4 to play. Miss Moulton finished with 4, 5, 3, 4 two under bogey.

Mrs. Caleb Fox went too fast for Mrs. Winkler of Beverly, winning 8 and 7. The Quaker City player needed 48 on the first nine, winning seven holes, losing one, and halving the other.

Summary of First Round.

Miss Dorothy Campbell, Hamilton, Canada, defeated Mrs. A. E. Hedstrom, Buffalo, 7 and 5.
Miss Mary Fownes, Oakmont, Pittsburg, defeated Miss Margaret Knapp, Skokie, Chicago, 6 and 5.
Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow, Merion, Philadelphia, defeated Miss Grace Semple, St. Louis, 1 up.
Miss Myra Helmer, Midlothian, defeated Mrs. Thurston Harris, Westward Ho, 3 and 2.
Mrs. L. N. Brochon, La Grange, defeated Mrs. W. Mellvaine, Onwentsia, 4 and 2.
Miss Ruth Layman, Hinsdale, defeated Miss Pauline Painter, Midlothian, 3 and 2.
Miss Florence Harvey of Hamilton, Canada, defeated Mrs. Robert Galt of Onwentsia, 2 and 2.
Miss Caleb Fox, Huntingdon Valley, Philadelphia, defeated Mrs. F. W. Winkler, Beverly, 8 and 7.
Miss Katherine Moulton, Minikahda, defeated Mrs. W. France Anderson, Hinsdale, 2 up.

Gardner, Midlothian, 122—17—112; Mrs. Geraghty, Minneapolis, 124—8—116.

NOTES OF THE TOURNAMENT.

Players defeated in the first round are eligible for the consolation flight today.

Balmy weather greeted the players, but a southwesterly breeze which blew across many of the holes was something of a handicap.

Miss Myra Helmer wore a white rabbit's foot on her belt and Mrs. Caleb Fox "toted" the toy possum. Some one will have to get a teddy bear.

The Robert Cox trophy, emblematic of the championship, which has been missing for several days, arrived in the city yesterday and will be at the club today.

Mrs. Luther Kennett will not compete in the minor events, as she will leave this week for California. Mrs. Barrows returned to Portland last night.

Vice President W. A. Alexander of the United States Golf association stated yesterday he would not be a candidate for the presidency of the national body under any conditions, as he will be away for an extended period next year.

Play in the second round will start at 10 o'clock this morning. With the exception of the Brochon-Layman match, all of the contests are of an intersectional character, and the majority of them should be close.

ILLINI FORESEE A MAROON BEATING

Coaches Work Men Hard, Realizing Best Chance in Years for Victory.

BUTZER IS BRIGHT STAR.

Captain Will Be Relied Upon to Haul Down Midway Colors, Writes Eckersall.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

Realizing they have the best chance in years of winning from Chicago, Coaches Hall and Lindgren of the Illinois football team will leave nothing undone this week in the development of the eleven to down the Maroons in Saturday's contest. The mentors already have been working their pupils overtime in the hope of having them developed highly by Saturday.

That Illinois has a strong eleven this season was shown by the manner in which the team won over Drake last week in a game which served as a good tryout struggle for the downstaters. Although there was little consistency of attack, the power and drive was there and the only thing to be accomplished this week in this respect is getting the men in the interference to run with enough drive to take off the defensive players. The offensive plays have not been mastered to the point which would warrant success against a first class aggregation, but the formations are deceptive enough to fool almost any eleven the majority of times.

Game Feature of Week.

At Urbana the students, townspeople, and players are set on beating Chicago, for everybody believes this is Illinois' year. As the game this year will be played on Illinois field, a victory for the downstaters would be more gratifying than ever, and as this is homecoming week at the state institution, the football contest will be the feature of the celebration.

The downstate eleven this season is captained by Right Guard Butzer, without a doubt one of the best linemen in these parts. Although he plays a line position, the coaches have not lost sight of his ability, and he is used to make forward passes and run with the ball by being called back at least five yards behind the line of scrimmage. Butzer is a natural leader, one who continually urges his team on to greater efforts, and it is this sort of spirit that is going to have its effects when stronger teams are met later in the season.

Butzer weighs about 190 pounds and possesses the speed of an average sprinter. On the defense he backs up the line and he seems to know intuitively just where every play is going to be sent. Being strong and powerful, he can do a lot with his own weight and strength in stopping plays, while he tackles with the deadly effect of a back or end.

Butzer Power on Offense.

He is a power on the offense, being used to make forward passes and runs off the tackles. He is an accurate passer, and in making his throws he uses a lot of deception. He does not advertise the fact that he is going to pass the ball, but instead he tucks it under his arm as soon as he receives it from the center and he takes two or three steps with the oval in this position. As a result this ruse generally leads the defensive team away from members of the offensive eleven and it is the easiest thing in the world to make a successful forward pass.

Butzer is just as much to the 1910 football team of Illinois as Jake Stahl, Van Hook, and Rothgeb were to their respective teams, while there are a number of Orange and Blue alumni who claim Butzer is the peer of all of them. This player is sure to be a big factor in the Maroon battle, and his playing will go a long way toward deciding the issue.

In Merriman Illinois has one of the best quarter backs in the west, and if his shoulder improves enough to allow him to throw the oval on Saturday his work will go a long way toward deciding the contest. With the possible exception of McGovern at Minnesota, there is no quarter in the west who has anything on Merriman.

He was sent into the game last Saturday for a short period in the last quarter, but he immediately made his presence felt sufficiently to wake up the Illinois players and make them show better football than they had at any other time during the contest. The players have confidence in Merriman, and the moment he got into the fray the aspect of the whole game was changed.

Merriman Strong on Punts.

Merriman is absolutely deadly in catching punts, and he possesses rare dodging ability in returning them. At the present time he is troubled with a bad shoulder which prevents him from making forward passes with the speed and accuracy that he otherwise would, but he is a player who should be respected by all of Illinois' future opponents.

Lyons and Oliver make a good pair of ends, and with a little more coaching on some of the finer points of the play in their positions they should develop to a point where they will be entitled to high rating among end rushes at the close of the season. With Jimmy Cook, doubtlessly one of the best ends who ever wore the Orange and Blue, to hand to coach the candidates for these positions, it can be assured that the downstaters' ends will be alert for everything and it will take a mightily complex play to deceive them.

Wham and Springs make an ideal pair of tackles, being hefty, strong, and active. As the tackles will undoubtedly have to stand the brunt of the attacks this season, it is imperative that two players be selected for these positions who possess the faculty to assimilate punishment and who understand perfectly all the duties of the positions. The Illinois tackles are ideal linemen and they are sure to cause much trouble.

Belting, who played at guard last Saturday, is a good player and with a year's experience, should make one of the best linemen in the west. Davis and Hardinger performed well at center, although the passing of the former on some plays could have been improved upon greatly. Generally speaking, the Illinois line, including the ends, is powerful, the players getting into every play with the dash and drive which are sure to bring success. All the forwards go down under kicks and some of them get down there as soon as the ends. They block and open up holes in almost perfect fashion and they get into every play no matter where it is sent.

Bernstein Slippery Man.

Bernstein, at left half back, is a good player, and Chicago is sure to have its troubles in stopping this slippery fellow. He runs low and hard, so that when he strikes some sort of opposition he has enough impetus to carry him along several yards. His handles the forward pass faultlessly, and he seems destined to be one of Illinois' best ground gaining backs this year.

Dillon, at right half back, also played well, but he had none of the dash and drive of his teammate, Bernstein. He was easily taken off his feet, while he displayed a number of other faults which should be rectified as soon as possible.

B. N. Anderson won the tournament of Local Insurance Agents' Golf association at the Ravisloe Country club with a total of 84. C. M. Rogers being second with 85. Other scores were: G. Guston, 97; F. F. Holmes, 99; W. W. Harless, 101; J. Witkowsky, 104; P. Cutler, 104; C. Chandler, 105; H. V. Burrows, 118; B. Auerbach, 121.

Results in the second round for the Harlem cup at the Harlem course were as follows: Thomas Meade defeated E. C. Steggall, 2 up; C. E. Cadle defeated J. D. Gibson, 1 up; C. H. Massey defeated Dr. R. Fyfe, 3 and 2; O. G. Parsley won from R. Salter, Jr., by default; E. A. Herrick defeated C. H. Beckett, 4 and 3; E. H. Clark defeated H. Spellman, 3 and 2; F. C. Edington defeated G. S. Eldred, 2 up; J. Bany defeated W. H. Gabriel, 8 and 7.

Western open champion Charles Evans Jr., yesterday set a new amateur record for the Evanston course of 72, clipping the mark held by J. G. Strickland by 2 strokes. Evans' card was as follows:

Out	3	4	5	5	4	4	4	4	3	—36
In	4	4	4	4	4	5	4	3	—36	—72

Strickland's record was made in a match with H. O. Wheller and G. M. McConnell.

MIDWAY ELEVEN IMPROVES WORK

Maroons Easily Solve Batch of Illinois Formations Tried by Stagg.

COACH USES GHOST BALL.

Squad Given One of Its Hardest Drills of Season in Preparation for Enemy.

BY FORWARD PASS.

Capt. Crawley's men took their first real brace of the season and won from the freshmen, 15 to 0, at Marshall field last night. Rademacher got two of the touchdowns on forward passes and Kasemker the other on a cross buck. None of the goals were kicked.

Coach Stagg brought out a new batch of Illinois formations for the freshmen, but they were unable to gain with them. The men showed improvement in solving the plays. After as severe a workout as any this season the coach lined up the men and gave them further instruction on how to stop the plays used by the downstate team. Then the ghost ball was brought out and the men worked at sprinting practice under the arc lamps for an hour.

Wilson Back at Quarter.

Wilson was back at quarter and Halstead Carpenter was tried out at center. Several of the freshmen distinguished themselves by fast work. Smith, a new man, who comes from Oskaloosa, Ia., and is known as a basketball player, made himself conspicuous at end. Kennedy at quarter, Noedgren at half, and Rehm at full back kept the varsity line busy stopping them.

It is expected Stagg will give the men new plays up to the last minute. The repertory that they now have better perfect is more than twice as long as that which they used in last Saturday's game.

Steffen worked out with the freshmen. Worthwine and Schommer did not take part in the scrimmage, but helped coach the line men. Tom Kelley, another graduate of Stagg's school, was on hand to give the men individual attention.

Men Work Well as Team.

As a result of the four hour workout Monday night the men worked together better than they have this season. Coach Stagg is still gloomy over the prospects for defeating Illinois on Saturday and seems to have determined on a "kill or cure" treatment. If the Maroons keep on improving at the rate of the last twenty-four hours and no one is injured badly enough to be out of the lineup it will be a different team from that which lost to Indiana when the whistle blows at Urbana.

The Maroon rooters are planning to go down in force. They have secured a rate of $2.80 for the round trip to Urbana. The mass meeting in preparation for the game will be held at 10:30 Friday morning. The team will leave Saturday morning.

ILLINI FEAR MAROON TRICKS.

Coaches Give Freshmen Ball and Varsity Breaks Up Stagg's Plays—Try for Goals Blocked.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 11.—[Special.]—"Prep" White's aggressive freshmen tested the varsity today when they made two scores and a place kick on the regulars. The youngsters were given the ball on the regulars' twenty yard line and had a big allowance. Holbrook executed the air goal. The varsity scored three touchdowns on the freshmen in the regular game that preceded.

Rooters held their breath while the scrimmage proceeded and sighed in relief when darkness cut it short. Capt. Butzer retired from an ugly kick and Dillon also limped out.

The coaches tried out some of the Maroon plays. Most of the practice was on defense, for the Illini attack is not to be hampered by new plays. It is believed the tactics which defeated Drake, if properly executed, will trim the Maroons.

Practice on breaking through to block goal tries was given, as the Illini expects Chicago to make many attempts to score from field. With Keller down and out, Illini has no one on whom to depend for a drop kick and it is improbable any attempts will be made.

EARL JR. IS FIRST IN FEATURE PACE

Cox Pilots Speeder to Front in Straight Heats at Lexington Course.

PLUNGER BRINGS $6,000.

Son of Bondsman Is Sold to Foreign Horseman After Winning 2:13 Event.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 11.—Earl Jr. won the 2:06 pace, the feature of the card offered by the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association here today, in the fast time of 2:06¼ in straight heats.

The 2:18 pace was won by Howley, which took the last three heats after losing the first to Athol R. The Plunger, son of the Bondsman, took the 2:18 trot, winning three heats after Major Wellington had taken the first. The winner was third choice in the pooling, with Major Wellington the favorite.

The Plunger was sold after his victory to Isadore Schlessinger of Vienna, Austria, for $6,000. He was owned by J. L. Brown of Winchester.

Betsy G., the strong favorite in the 2:20 trot, took the first two heats, but lost the third to Henry Winter, and the event was carried over to tomorrow.

Don Muscovite fell in the second heat of the 2:13 trot and was run into by Senator Hale, whose driver was thrown out and his sulky smashed. Neither driver was hurt, but Don Muscovite was declared distanced. Senator Hale and Crystallion, which also were in the wreck, were allowed to start in the next heat. Summaries:

DE PAUL TO PLAY "PREP" TEAM.

Collegians Will Tackle North Division on Thursday and the P. & S. Eleven on Saturday.

De Paul football team will meet North Division in a practice clash at De Paul on Thursday, while on Saturday the north side eleven will tackle the Physicians and Surgeons on the north side lot. The latter eleven is expected to give the De Paul warriors a hard battle, since it will present heavy team and also the best aggregation that has represented the school in years.

Brennan and Schafer reported to the squad last night and were given a workout with the players. Brennan appears to be in excellent condition, not appearing to have lost his old time form. He is a candidate for guard, and most likely will be sent there for the remainder of the season.

Schafer was worked out a half. He is fast and also a scholar of the new game. He most likely will fill in at the position that lately has been vacated by Galavan.

After a half an hour of hard scrimmaging with the scrubs, during which the varsity rolled up 25 points, Perry called the squad to the gymnasium, where he gave them a chart explanation of the plays.

DOUBLE HEADER FOR GRIDIRON.

High School Teams Will Play Two Games at Marshall Field Next Saturday.

One of the feature bills of the season in which Cook County High School Football league teams will take part will be played on Saturday, when a double header is scheduled for Marshall field. Crane and University High of the northern section of the major division will clash in the opening game to be called at 1:30 o'clock. In the other contest Hyde Park will meet Detroit Central.

University High plays its first game of the season, while both Hyde Park and Crane already have competed. The curtain raiser is expected to be a closely fought contest, owing to the equal strength of the teams. Nothing is known of the strength of the Detroit team this year, but last season the Wolverines trounced University High at Detroit by a large score.

Returns of the Chicago-Illinois game at Champaign will be flashed on a large boards, showing the positions of the teams after each play. Two bands will help to furnish the noise.

MEET IN C. A. A. TANK TONIGHT.

Over Fifty Swimmers Will Compete in the First Open Handicap Contest of Season.

Over fifty swimmers will compete in the first invitation open handicap meet of the season in the Chicago Athletic association tank tonight. Eight events are on the program, including a water polo game between two picked teams. Swimming Director Meffert will get a line on his men who will compose the team and water polo quintet in the A. A. U. championships which will be held during the winter.

L. F. ACADEMY IS AFTER GAMES.

"Prep" School Desires Contests for Nov. 5 and 19—Team Is in Good Condition.

Lake Forest academy would like to arrange games for Nov. 5 and Nov. 19. Both of these dates are open. Coach Hershberger is more than pleased with the progress of the eleven. Scrimmage with the college squad will be in order all week. The schedule for the rest of the season is as follows: Oct. 22, Lane high at Lake Forest; Oct. 29, Evanston academy at Lake Forest; Nov. 5, open; Nov. 12, Morgan Park at Lake Forest; Nov. 19, open.

TWELVE ALLEYS IN LEAGUE

Plans Are Completed for Greater Chicago Bowling Tourney.

FIRST GAME AT MOUNTAIN'S.

Local Pin Knights Record Four Scores of Over the Thousand Mark.

Twelve alleys will comprise the circuit of the Greater Chicago individual bowling tournament this year, according to plans laid at yesterday's meeting of the association at Frank Brill's alleys. The opening game will be played at Mountain's alleys a week from Sunday, Anton Stehno meeting Mountain in the first match. All series in the tournament will be the best six out of eleven games.

The competition will be for the possession of the Gus Lipman trophy, a big silver cup donated by the promoter of the team that won the national tournament two years ago at Pittsburg and that landed the state championship this year. The alleys accepted at yesterday's meeting in the order of their acceptance were as follows: Mountain's, Stehno's, Blouin's, Brill's, Zimmerman's, Camp Kiowa, Bruck's, Fienner's, Hlava's, Bensinger's, Wellstein's, and Jirucka's. Frank Brill was elected president and H. G. Fisher secretary and treasurer. At least two matches a week will be played until May 1.

A general attack on thep ins was made all over town last night, four games over the four figure mark being recorded. The Oaks of the Derby league led the high averages with a mark of 983 1-2, which won them three games from the Daniel Cooks. The Orientals of the North Chicago league shot two games over 1,000, the steadiest performance on the north side this year, and averaged 976 2-3 against the Websters, their high work netting them two victories.

Harry Onsteng led the individual work of the night with an average of 216 flat in the Monroe league. Matt Williams averaging 213, Rosendahl 213 1-3; Brockman, 211, and Classen, 210, in the other feature series of the night. Score:

NORTH DIVISION IS "DARK HORSE"

Football Eleven an Enigma in Race for High School Championship.

Coach Paupa Must Construct Team This Year Out of Rawest Kind of Material.

North Division enters the Cook County High school football race for the 1910 pennant as a "dark horse" of the most ebony hue. The uncertainty of North Division chances is so "dark" that the coaches, players, and students do not know just where the eleven will finish. The only statement given out throwing a calcimine light upon the prospects of the team is that issued by Head Coach Paupa, who says he looks for a strong team with many possibilities.

Nothing that happened last year will throw any light on the chances for a winner this year. North Division or Robert Waller, as that school is known in academic circles, was a member of the league last season, but played in only one game against Lake View. The contest was protested by the latter school, claiming that North Division entered the game with an ineligible team. The protest was allowed by the board of control and thereafter Waller quit the race. According to some of the students of the school the board made the request that the team disband and drop out of the league.

School Always Is Surprise.

North Division always had a reputation of springing something out of the ordinary in high school circles. The year that Walter Steffens, Lee De Trey, and Joe Paupa first played on the team, outside despaters had North Division listed as a fourth or fifth place team, but the showing that year caused the other schools to sit up and take notice. All teams who are scheduled to play North Division put in their best licks previous to the game, never taking chances on this noted "dark horse."

Of the last representative team, the one of 1908, only two players remain. They are Capt. Snyder and Manager Brown. The other members are untried and green at the game. All are eligible for play at the present date, but it is reported that several are expecting conditions within a week or two. But as a rule the greater part of the youngsters are students of the first water and some are even known as "grinds."

Joseph Paupa, a member of the 1901-'05 elevens, is coaching the team this year. Paupa holds a unique position of tutoring two "prep" elevens at the same time. North Division and Chicago Latin school, both of which are under his care, held their daily practice on the south end field of Lincoln park. Chicago Latin usually is the first to appear, as its hour of dismissal in the afternoon is earlier.

Puts Teams at Scrimmage.

After drilling the Latin youngsters in the fine points of the game Paupa takes charge of the North Division team, giving the high schoolers the same length of time. Both teams then are ready for scrimmage work and the benefits to both teams by this system is the best that possibly can be secured.

Paupa never loafs on the job and works like a Trojan instilling into the youngsters of both schools the rudimentary principles. At times he is severe, but his methods in most cases always have produced the best results. Some of the candidates never have played the game, and, of course, considerable coaching was required at the start. Now that the elementary principles has been absorbed Paupa has been working the team at top speed, never permitting a let-up of any kind. A team which cannot stand a hard, grueling contest, believes Paupa, should not be permitted to play the game.

Team Light in Weight.

The team is one of the lightest in the major division, but Paupa does not believe the heavy elevens will prove as fast and as tricky as the lighter ones under the new code. The coach has asked for speed for the last week and the results have been fair. In the practices with Chicago Latin the backs have executed the plays with accuracy. The line, which is a green one, has much to learn in the way of blocking opponents. It will take some time, but the youngsters are willing, hard workers and Paupa says that one real stiff game will bring about what he wants.

Walter Steffen started out to coach the team, but found that with his duties as assistant to Stagg at the University of Chicago he could not aid the youngsters, and turned over this work to Paupa and several alumni, who have shown a willingness to help their alma mater.

Contrary to most opinions expressed by other "prep" coaches, Paupa does not think that the four quarters rules will slow up or check the game. He believes that not as much time will be taken out as last year, for the dangers of injuries are minimized, and that the three minute periods between quarters is nothing more than a breathing spell.

One Rule Hard to Follow.

The rule prohibiting pushing and pulling will be a hard one for the youngsters to follow in the coach's opinion, as that feature of the game is instilled in a "prep" player even before he starts his gridiron career. Other features of the new code are satisfactory, but, of course, nothing definite can be said until the rules are given an actual trial.

Following are the players, weights, and positions:
